House Passes Foreign Aid Bill

Vote Is 329-74; Final Approval Due This Week

Attempts To Slash Program Defeated

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) — The House passed the $6,205,000,000 foreign aid bill tonight. The vote was 329 to 74.

Aimed in larger part at blocking Communist expansion, it calls for the largest overseas relief and rehabilitation program ever undertaken by any nation.

It includes $5,300,000,000 as the first-year cost of the "Marshall Plan" for European recovery.

And it includes $425,000,000 in outright military aid—$275,000,000 for Greece and Turkey and $150,000,000 for China. China gets another $420,000,000 in economic aid.

Besides the military and economic aid provisions, the House "package" bill includes $60,000,000 for the United Nations Children's Funds.

A proposal by Rep. Marcantonio (ALP-NY) that the entire relief program be handled through the United Nations was voted down by an overwhelming 270 to 6.

Invitation To Spain Reaffirmed

Today's vote came just two weeks after President Truman's appeal to a joint session of Congress for speedy adoption of the European recovery program (ERP) as one of three roadblocks to Communist expansion. The other steps he asked were universal military training and the draft.

Before voting on the measure as a whole, the House reaffirmed by a 188 to 104 standing vote its invitation for Spain to join the European recovery program along with 16 other non-Communist countries and Western Germany.

ERP—the European recovery program—is by far the largest part of the "omnibus" bill. It is based on the "Marshall Plan," Secretary of State Marshall's offer of American help to European countries banding together to help themselves back to economic health.

It calls for the largest foreign relief and rehabilitation program ever undertaken by any nation. And President Truman made it plain in his St. Patrick's Day address to Congress that he regards the program as an economic barrier to the spread of Communism.

Moves To Slash Program Lose

Before approving ERP as a whole, the House rejected by heavy majorities amendments which would have slashed the program by $1,300,000,000 and limited its life to one year. As it stands now, a four-year program is "contemplated" but not pledged.

The entire $6,205,000,000 bill is expected to go to President Truman for signature late this week after Senate and House agree on comparatively minor differences. The Senate has passed separate bills adding up to nearly that sum for the same foreign aid programs.

Mr. Truman's signature will start United States supplies rolling about two weeks before the April 18 elections which may decide whether

Truman Asks TVA To Plan Expansion

WASHINGTON, March 31—(AP)—President Truman ordered the Tennessee Valley Authority today to submit a program for expanding its electric power capacity in an emergency.

He asked TVA Chairman Gordon R. Clapp to report how much electricity the authority could turn out in case of necessity, and what it would take to do it.

The move was one more development in the President's broad survey of United States economic potential in the face of the world situation.

Emphasizing its importance in the general blueprint of American strength, two of the President's top economic advisers sat in on his conference with Clapp at the White House. They were Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers, and Arthur M. Hill, chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

Nourse described the President as "deeply concerned" that the nation have an adequate power supply for whatever comes up. Clapp said Mr. Truman was interested in the outlook for electric energy above normal needs, "for the emergency program."

The vast industrial complex of the mid-South requires tremendous amounts of electricity for its aluminum, chemical and other industrially vital plants, not to mention the demands of the atomic energy installations at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Clapp wouldn't discuss the needs of Oak Ridge, which TVA serves.

The TVA chairman disclosed, however, that the President instructed him to get in touch with defense officials and others and make a check-list of potential power needs for plants, chemicals and other defense requirements.

Papanek Refuses To Recognize New Czech Delegate

China Wants Benes To Tell About Coup

LAKE SUCCESS, March 31 (AP)—Credentials bearing the name of President Benes were submitted to the United Nations today by the new delegate of the Communist-dominated Prague regime.

Dr. Jan Papanek, the fired anti-Communist delegate who blasted the new Prague government in charges now before the Security Council, refused to recognize the letter.

These factors late in the day topped the Czechoslovak developments in the United Nations:

1. Vladimir Houdek handed the letter bearing his credentials to United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie. This letter said Papanek had been recalled. Houdek came here after Papanek broke with the new government when Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk died.

No Word From Benes

2. Papanek said he had received no word from Benes or any other source. He said he will not step down until he is recalled in a letter to him signed by Benes.

3. China's delegate, Dr. T. F. Tsiang, urged the Security Council to invite President Benes and others concerned to come here and tell about the Communist coup last month. He expressed hope Russia would support such a move but Russia had denounced the whole affair.

4. China, Canada, Chile and Syria demanded a full investigation of the Czechoslovak case.

5. The Soviet Ukraine attacked France, Britain and the United States for supporting the charges that Russia backed the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

General Strike Is Threatened By Italian Reds

ROME, March 31 (AP) — The Communists threatened to order a nationwide strike which would paralyze Italy for a 10-day period before the April 18 national elections.

Giuseppe Di Vittorio, Communist president of Italy's 6,000,000-member General Labor Confederation (CGIL), announced in Palermo, Sicily, the organization's executive committee would call the strike if police fail to find a missing Sicilian labor leader by April 8.

Anti-Soviet Stand Backed By Chile

Juvenal Hernandez, Chilean Foreign Minister, told the Inter-American Conference the world was divided into two fronts—one which seeks to impose a new political totalitarianism, and another which seeks to defend western culture by democratic means.

Hernandez said Chile has taken its position with the nations which defend democracy and liberty and added "that should be the attitude of all the nations of America."

Chile recently severed diplomatic relations with Russia, as did Brazil. Hernandez' speech drew a burst of applause from the delegates and the gallery.

"This is the time for decision," he said, "and there is no place for a third position."

His address was one of three formal addresses before the plenary session of the ninth Pan American conference meeting here to take up among other things a program of economic co-operation among the American nations.

Congress Is Told Negroes Will Refuse To Bear Arms

WASHINGTON, March 31 — (AP) —A negro union leader told Congress today that millions of negroes will refuse to be drafted into a "Jim Crow" army. He said he would advise them not to bear arms and drew a warning that treason charges might result if he does.

The witness, A. Philip Randolph, president of the AFL Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, declared that negroes "never will" win civil rights unless a drastic step is taken.

Appearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee, he and other negro leaders asked that amendments against racial discrimination and segregation be included in any temporary draft or universal military training legislation.

"I personally will advise negroes to refuse to fight as slaves for a democracy they cannot possess and cannot enjoy," Randolph asserted.

His proposal for a civil disobedience protest against the draft brought advice from Sen. Morse (R-Ore) and Baldwin (R-Conn) that he is making a mistake and harming the civil rights cause.

But Randolph, who recently told President Truman that negroes would hesitate to shoulder arms unless segregation were abolished, declared that "we've got to face this thing sooner or later and we might as well face it now."

"Negroes," he said, "are just sick and tired of being pushed around and we just don't propose to take it, and we do not care what happens." A sprinkling of applause came from the white spectators.

Reynolds, an army chaplain during the war, said the negroes could only fight with "the weapons of truth and non-cooperation in any form or variety of cumpulsory Jim Crow."

During the war, he asserted, negro soldiers were humiliated, beaten and otherwise mistreated.

Truman Delays Next Move In Coal Strike

FLATTOPS WILL DELIVER WARPLANES TO TURKEY

WASHINGTON, March 31. (INS) —The Navy announced today that three aircraft carriers loaded with Army warplanes destined for Turkey will leave United States ports during the next six weeks.

Carriers to be used in the emergency transport service are the escort class Rendova, Siboney and Palau. The warplanes will be delivered to Turkey under the Greek-Turkish aid program.

Navy dispatchers have not been advised of the number or types of planes they will transport.

President Receives Fact-Finders' Report

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) — President Truman received the report of his fact-finding board in the soft coal strike today but put off his next move "pending study."

Mr. Truman tucked the rather short report of his three-man panel in a brief case and prepared to read it on his trip to Williamsburg, Va., where he will receive an honorary degree Friday.

Charles Ross, press secretary, said the report would not be made public until after the President's return Saturday morning. He wouldn't say what the President would do about the 17-day-old coal strike in the meantime.

That seemed to delay, at least until Saturday, the chance of a court injunction to halt the strike over miners' pensions. But actually it gave Mr. Truman a chance to turn the war-of-nerves on John L. Lewis for a change. The United Mine Workers' president in the past has kept the White House guessing as to his plans.

The President may have decided to delay publication of the fact-finders' report for one or more of these reasons—on top of his desire to read the document carefully:

May Be Playing For Time

1. He may be giving Lewis an extra few days in which to call the miners back to work "in the public interest," making an injunction unnecessary. Many coal operators have clung to the opinion that Lewis would do just that before an injunction could be slapped on him and his United Mine Workers.

2. The President may be playing for time to permit behind-the-scenes conciliation by Cyrus S. Ching, head of the Federal Mediation Service, or by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman. Steelman is an old friend of Lewis' who has enjoyed the confidence of the UMW chief in the past.

Meantime the Justice Department has papers ready to seek a court injunction against Lewis if the directive comes from the White House.

However, some officials are not certain that even an injunction would send the miners back to work. They say it might be hard to enforce because Lewis denies he inspired the walkout. He says the miners simply resented the failure of the operators to set up a pension system under their contract.

The injunction procedure is authorized by the Taft-Hartley Act. It comes only after the presidential board of inquiry has made its report to the White House. The three

Sen. Lodge Would Allow Europeans To Join U. S. Army

Men Would Become American Citizens

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—A senator who fought overseas urged Congress today to let 50,000 young single European men join the United States Army and become citizens later.

Sen. Lodge (R-Mass), a tank corps officer in the last war, said this would cut down manpower needs in the proposed temporary draft, for one thing. He asked the Senate Armed Services Committee to back him up.

Lodge would sprinkle the carefully chosen foreigners among regular Army units. They would get all soldier benefits and qualify for citizenship after five years service. He would limit their number to 15 per cent of the Army's total. Young men all over the world want to join, he said.

Preparedness Talk Boils Up

Preparedness talk boiled up all around. There were these developments:

1. A negro leader, A. Philip Randolph, told Congress that many negroes, would disobey any draft law and refuse to bear arms if "segregation and discrimination" are not halted in the armed services. Senators warned they might run into treason charges.

2. President Truman told Tennessee Valley Authority officials to draft plans for greatly increased power output for defense plants. Mr. Truman was described as "deeply concerned" that there be an adequate power program.

3. Use of the atom bomb to shorten any future war and thus save lives was advocated by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), chairman of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee. He told a reporter we should have no qualms about using it strategically in this fashion, but that it should not be employed indiscriminately.

A-Bomb Supply "Adequate"

Members of the House Appropriations Committee reported privately that Chairman David E. Lilenthal, of the Atomic Energy Commission, had advised them that this country has an "adequate supply" of the atom bombs and is making more right along.

4. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, said in Albany that a state militia, along with "a total civilian effort" must be organized to be ready if the National Guard is called to federal duty.

5. Emergency planners here gave a hint that war might bring not only a draft of a few million fighting men but a complete resistration of adults, probably including women.

6. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said the economy could stand extra military costs up to $4,000,000,000—a figure under discussion — but beyond that point price controls and rationing might be necessary.

Britain Takes Ownership Of All Electric Utilities

LONDON, Thursday, April 1. (AP)—Britain took ownership last midnight of all the nation's electric utilities, sixth major enterprise to be nationalized under the labor government's socialist program.

One of the first developments under state control will be higher rates for a large proportion of domestic consumers in urban areas.

Chairmen of three of the 14 regional boards that will administer the industry said yesterday that domestic rates would have to be increased to meet rising costs, including higher prices for coal.

Dewey Wisconsin-Bound

ALBANY, N. Y., March 31 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey entrained tonight for Wisconsin, where he will wage an intensive two-day campaign for election of delegates pledged to his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

Wallace Is Booed By Demonstrators

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP) — Henry A. Wallace was booed tonight by an estimated 500 demonstrators who marched and shouted outside a Brooklyn school house where the third party presidential candidate spoke.

The demonstrators, carrying United States flags and insignia of several veterans organizations, marched in an endless chain around a block-square building in the Red Hook section.

Wallace entered and left the school house by a side door under heavy police guard and was escorted by officers through the column of marchers on his arrival and departure.

There was no disorder other than the noise of the marchers, whose shouts could be heard inside the school auditorium during Wallace's speech. The shouts did not interrupt his talk.

The demonstrators shouted "down with Russia! Down with Communism!"

Wallace, himself, took note of the demonstration at the outset of his speech, the first of two he made tonight in different sections of Brooklyn.

He told his audience "I don't think I've ever had a warmer reception than this one tonight."

At the second Brooklyn meeting addressed by Wallace there was no demonstration.

The third party candidate told the rallies that American officials were employing force and intimidation in telling the Italian people United States aid would be cut off if the communists win the April 18 elections.

Pennsylvanians' Claim To Moon Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP)—On the eve of April Fool's Day, the government today turned down two Pennsylvanians who laid claim to the moon.

Secretary of the Interior Krug, saying the moon belongs to everyone, denied their request that the government approve the claim.

PLANE CRASH IN CATSKILLS IS REPORTED

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 31 (AP) —A two-engine plane was reported to have exploded in the air and crashed and burned on a lonely wooded mountainside near here early tonight.

No other details were available immediately.

A party of officers and citizens set out immediately for the scene, believed about two miles from the nearest road, but one official said it might be several hours before any word was received from the group.

The crash was reported to have taken place on Moonhaw Mountain in the Catskills, about 75 miles northwest of New York City. The town nearest the mountain is West Shokan, with a population of less than 500. Many of West Shokan's residents headed for the mountain.

The area is heavily wooded and the Catskills in the area tower from 3,000 to 4,000 feet.

West Shokan's citizens heard the plane go over and the subsequent explosion and crash. One resident reported the craft burned after crashing.

In New York, airlines operating in the area said none of their craft was missing and official air agencies had no report of a mishap. Military fields also had no word.

West Shokan is on the shore of New York City's giant Ashokan Reservoir. It is a few miles northwest of Kingston, county seat of Ulster County.

Explosions Believed Jewish Retaliation

JERUSALEM, March 31 (AP)—An official announcement here today said 40 persons were killed and 60 injured by mine blasts which wrecked the Cairo-to-Haifa train near Binyamina. The announcement said most of the casualties were Arabs.

Haifa police, nearer the scene, said however that only 24 persons, all Arabs, were killed and that 64 were injured by triple explosions.

The explosions, which observers said probably were set off by Jews in retaliation for Arab attacks on convoys recently, derailed the locomotive, telescoped three of the four wrecked coaches, and ripped up yards of track. Several hundred British troops riding in the second half of the train on the Cairo-to-Haifa line were unhurt.

Stern Gang Blamed

A Jewish source said the Stern Gang set off the mine trap.

At the same time the virtual Arab seige of Jerusalem, which has brought bread rationing to this city's 100,000 Jews, was renewed. Several hundred Arabs beleaguered a Jewish food convoy en route from coastal Tel Aviv to relieve Jerusalem.

Hagana, the Jewish militia, said at least one Jew was killed and several wounded in a battle that began at midday and was continuing up to 8:30 p. m. Arabs said many Jews were killed and wounded in this first attempt of a Jewish convoy to run the Arab blockade into Jerusalem since the Arab ambush at Bloody Bad El Wad last Friday.

Police authorities at Haifa, who gave out the lower toll, said there electrically-detonated mines wrecked the train 15 miles south of Haifa in a predominately Jewish area at the southern foot of historic Mount Carmel.

Service Will Be Curtailed

The attack was near a British military camp and the wounded were taken in a military convoy to Haifa hospitals.

The railway company promptly announced a curtailment of service to three trains weekly in each direction. The government imposed a road curfew on all Jewish vehicles between Binyamina and the Jewish settlement of Zichron Yaacov, five miles to the north.

Three American Soldiers Perish In Korean Blaze

SEOUL, March 31—INS)—Three American soldiers burned to death and four others were injured today in a half million dollar fire that destroyed an Army barracks in the Korean city of Pusan.

Names of the known victims were withheld pending notification of relatives.

The early morning blaze raged through a two-story Japanese-built structure that had served as barracks for 50 enlisted men, most of whom escaped without injury.

Origin of the fire was not determined immediately. It was the most misastrous fire affecting Americans since the occupation of Korea.

Self-Styled Red Moves Out Of Mob-Damaged Home

Police watched while moving men, supervised by an unidentified couple, carried out furniture. More than 100-rain drenched spectators jeered when movers carted out armloads of books and literature.

Moving men said they were taking their load to a storage warehouse.

They moved as police doubled their precautions against any further violence to — or by — Communists.

Thirty to 40 persons last night broke into Hashmall's home while the family was away and wrecked the interior.

Sheriff Ralph J. Paul declared it was quite likely Communists might retaliate with a "goon squad" gang "schooled in rough and tumble alley and mob fighting tactics."

He indicated his 46 deputies and Columbus city police were ready for any test from this direction, then added:

"Don't make martyrs of them (Communists); don't commit some overt act which might lead to bloodshed or possible death; don't violate the law in opposing them."

Gus Hall, state Communist chairman, announced in Cleveland a civil damage suit would be filed against the Columbus Citizen and Franklin County for the "mob attack." He accused the Citizen of inspiring the action, which he said was "carried through by a German Nazi element, a military organization at Fort Hayes here, and followers of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists.

Russia Orders Berlin Trains To Be Checked

Guards Instructed To Bar Red Troops

HELMSTEDT, Germany, Thursday, April 1 (AP)—American railroad officers said early today Soviet authorities halted two British military trains at Marienborn when British guards refused to allow Soviet forces to inspect ther

Marienborn is the Soviet inspection point. It is about five miles inside the Soviet zone from the British zone.

BERLIN, Thursday, April 1—(AP)—The United States rejected early today a Soviet demand that Russian troops be allowed to inspect American military trains and freight entering and leaving Berlin.

United States military trains running between Berlin and Frankfurt were ordered by the American military government to continue their trips to Berlin through the Soviet zone. Train guards were instructed to bar Soviet troops entry to the trains.

The Soviet order, issued yesterday, instructed its troops to conduct such inspections as trains traversed the Soviet zone. Inspection was to begin at midnight last night.

Soviet reaction to the American rejection of inspection privileges was not made known immediately.

The British also ordered their train guards to refuse to allow Societ inspection. The French said they were studying the order, but had made no reply.

American trains were not expected to pass into the Soviet zone en route to Berlin until 3 a. m. (9 p. m. EST, Wednesday) today. It was considered unlikely that any news of how they were handled would reach Berlin until 8 a. m. 2 a. m., EST), when they are due at the local station.

Trains Well Armed

An order to hold up American trains was issued temporarily last night pending delivery of the United States note to the Russians. Once it was delivered, headquarters of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military commander, instructed the trains to proceed as usual.

American sources said a Berlin-bound train, halted temporarily at Helmstedt by the United States order, passed through a Russian control point there without incident at 11:23 p. m.

In Berlin, Allied forces and civilians waited tensely to see if the Russians would try to use force to back up their order. If they do, it is considered a certainty that clashes will result.

The sudden Societ order precipitated the most critical four-power crisis in Germany since the end of the war. It was the first incident that threatened any direct clash between Soviet and Western occupying forces.

No Reference To Air Traffic

The Russians demanded that American, British and French soldiers and civilians furnish proper identification to new Soviet control authorities on the one interzonal highway leading from Berlin and that the Russians be allowed to inspect their military trains.

In effect, the Soviet order would make it impossible, if enforced generally, for 25,000 Western Allied residents of Berlin to move out of the city into the western zones by Trains on the Berlin-Frankfurt run always have been well armed and guarded by a substantial number of officers and enlisted men. Military government officials said the train which left Frankfurt for Berlin last night carried only its usual crew and no extra guards.

Tax Lien Is Filed Against Meyers

The wartime Air Forces supply officer is now serving a 20 months to five-year jail term for persuading a business associate to give false testimony to a Senate committee.

The Federal Court of Appeals last week denied Meyers' application for bail while he appeals the conviction.

In Washington, Meyers today asked Chief Justice Vinson, of the Supreme Court, to order his release on bail while the Court of Appeals considers his case.

Vinson is expected to act on Meyers' request in a day or two. Supreme Court justices rarely grant such requests.

Meyers also is under indictment for committing perjury himself and for falsifying income taxes, and may face trial later on these charges.

The Internal Revenue Department's tax lien alleged Meyers owes the government more than $240,000 for taxes between 1941 and 1946. It was filed in the Long Island district, where Meyers has a home.

It listed approximately $33,000 owed for 1941; $50,000 for 1942; $37,000 for 1943; $49,000 for 1944; $50,000 for 1945, and $26,000 for 1946.

Meyers was convicted of persuading Bleriot Lamarre to give false testimony to Senate investigators about a plane-parts plant of which Lamarre was president.

Preparedness talk boiled up all around. There were these developments:

1. A negro leader, A. Philip Randolph, told Congress that many negroes, would disobey any draft law and refuse to bear arms if "segregation and discrimination" are not halted in the armed services. Senators warned they might run into treason charges.

2. President Truman told Tennessee Valley Authority officials to draft plans for greatly increased power output for defense plants. Mr. Truman was described as "deeply concerned" that there be an adequate power program.

3. Use of the atom bomb to shorten any future war and thus save lives was advocated by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), chairman of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee. He told a reporter we should have no qualms about using it strategically in this fashion, but that it should not be employed indiscriminately.

A-Bomb Supply "Adequate"

Members of the House Appropriations Committee reported privately that Chairman David E. Lilenthal, of the Atomic Energy Commission, had advised them that this country has an "adequate supply" of the atom bombs and is making more right along.

4. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, said in Albany that a state militia, along with "a total civilian effort" must be organized to be ready if the National Guard is called to federal duty.

5. Emergency planners here gave a hint that war might bring not only a draft of a few million fighting men but a complete resistration of adults, probably including women.

6. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said the economy could stand extra military costs up to $4,000,000,000—a figure under discussion — but beyond that point price controls and rationing might be necessary.

TAKES THE CAKE-- "Bushman," 550-pound gorilla who has made his home at Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago the last 18 years, is reluctant to taste a cake which attendants made to help him celebrate his 20th birthday today. The cake was prepared with bread dough and stuffed with fruits and vegetables. "Candles" are carrots and celery.

PLANE CRASH IN CATSKILLS IS REPORTED

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 31 (AP) —A two-engine plane was reported to have exploded in the air and crashed and burned on a lonely wooded mountainside near here early tonight.

No other details were available immediately.

A party of officers and citizens set out immediately for the scene, believed about two miles from the nearest road, but one official said it might be several hours before any word was received from the group.

The crash was reported to have taken place on Moonhaw Mountain in the Catskills, about 75 miles northwest of New York City. The town nearest the mountain is West Shokan, with a population of less than 500. Many of West Shokan's residents headed for the mountain.

The area is heavily wooded and the Catskills in the area tower from 3,000 to 4,000 feet.

West Shokan's citizens heard the plane go over and the subsequent explosion and crash. One resident reported the craft burned after crashing.

In New York, airlines operating in the area said none of their craft was missing and official air agencies had no report of a mishap. Military fields also had no word.

West Shokan is on the shore of New York City's giant Ashokan Reservoir. It is a few miles northwest of Kingston, county seat of Ulster County.

Explosions Believed Jewish Retaliation

JERUSALEM, March 31 (AP)—An official announcement here today said 40 persons were killed and 60 injured by mine blasts which wrecked the Cairo-to-Haifa train near Binyamina. The announcement said most of the casualties were Arabs.

Haifa police, nearer the scene, said however that only 24 persons, all Arabs, were killed and that 64 were injured by triple explosions.

The explosions, which observers said probably were set off by Jews in retaliation for Arab attacks on convoys recently, derailed the locomotive, telescoped three of the four wrecked coaches, and ripped up yards of track. Several hundred British troops riding in the second half of the train on the Cairo-to-Haifa line were unhurt.

Stern Gang Blamed

A Jewish source said the Stern Gang set off the mine trap.

At the same time the virtual Arab seige of Jerusalem, which has brought bread rationing to this city's 100,000 Jews, was renewed. Several hundred Arabs beleaguered a Jewish food convoy en route from coastal Tel Aviv to relieve Jerusalem.

Hagana, the Jewish militia, said at least one Jew was killed and several wounded in a battle that began at midday and was continuing up to 8:30 p. m. Arabs said many Jews were killed and wounded in this first attempt of a Jewish convoy to run the Arab blockade into Jerusalem since the Arab ambush at Bloody Bad El Wad last Friday.

Police authorities at Haifa, who gave out the lower toll, said there electrically-detonated mines wrecked the train 15 miles south of Haifa in a predominately Jewish area at the southern foot of historic Mount Carmel.

Service Will Be Curtailed

The attack was near a British military camp and the wounded were taken in a military convoy to Haifa hospitals.

The railway company promptly announced a curtailment of service to three trains weekly in each direction. The government imposed a road curfew on all Jewish vehicles between Binyamina and the Jewish settlement of Zichron Yaacov, five miles to the north.

Russia Orders Berlin Trains To Be Checked

Guards Instructed To Bar Red Troops

HELMSTEDT, Germany, Thursday, April 1 (AP)—American railroad officers said early today Soviet authorities halted two British military trains at Marienborn when British guards refused to allow Soviet forces to inspect ther

Marienborn is the Soviet inspection point. It is about five miles inside the Soviet zone from the British zone.

BERLIN, Thursday, April 1—(AP)—The United States rejected early today a Soviet demand that Russian troops be allowed to inspect American military trains and freight entering and leaving Berlin.

United States military trains running between Berlin and Frankfurt were ordered by the American military government to continue their trips to Berlin through the Soviet zone. Train guards were instructed to bar Soviet troops entry to the trains.

The Soviet order, issued yesterday, instructed its troops to conduct such inspections as trains traversed the Soviet zone. Inspection was to begin at midnight last night.

Soviet reaction to the American rejection of inspection privileges was not made known immediately.

The British also ordered their train guards to refuse to allow Societ inspection. The French said they were studying the order, but had made no reply.

American trains were not expected to pass into the Soviet zone en route to Berlin until 3 a. m. (9 p. m. EST, Wednesday) today. It was considered unlikely that any news of how they were handled would reach Berlin until 8 a. m. 2 a. m., EST), when they are due at the local station.

Trains Well Armed

An order to hold up American trains was issued temporarily last night pending delivery of the United States note to the Russians. Once it was delivered, headquarters of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military commander, instructed the trains to proceed as usual.

American sources said a Berlin-bound train, halted temporarily at Helmstedt by the United States order, passed through a Russian control point there without incident at 11:23 p. m.

In Berlin, Allied forces and civilians waited tensely to see if the Russians would try to use force to back up their order. If they do, it is considered a certainty that clashes will result.

The sudden Societ order precipitated the most critical four-power crisis in Germany since the end of the war. It was the first incident that threatened any direct clash between Soviet and Western occupying forces.

No Reference To Air Traffic

The Russians demanded that American, British and French soldiers and civilians furnish proper identification to new Soviet control authorities on the one interzonal highway leading from Berlin and that the Russians be allowed to inspect their military trains.

In effect, the Soviet order would make it impossible, if enforced generally, for 25,000 Western Allied residents of Berlin to move out of the city into the western zones by Trains on the Berlin-Frankfurt run always have been well armed and guarded by a substantial number of officers and enlisted men. Military government officials said the train which left Frankfurt for Berlin last night carried only its usual crew and no extra guards.

Papanek Refuses To Recognize New Czech Delegate

China Wants Benes To Tell About Coup

LAKE SUCCESS, March 31 (AP)—Credentials bearing the name of President Benes were submitted to the United Nations today by the new delegate of the Communist-dominated Prague regime.

Dr. Jan Papanek, the fired anti-Communist delegate who blasted the new Prague government in charges now before the Security Council, refused to recognize the letter.

These factors late in the day topped the Czechoslovak developments in the United Nations:

1. Vladimir Houdek handed the letter bearing his credentials to United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie. This letter said Papanek had been recalled. Houdek came here after Papanek broke with the new government when Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk died.

No Word From Benes

2. Papanek said he had received no word from Benes or any other source. He said he will not step down until he is recalled in a letter to him signed by Benes.

3. China's delegate, Dr. T. F Tsiang, urged the Security Council to invite President Benes and others concerned to come here and tell about the Communist coup last month. He expressed hope Russia would support such a move but Russia had denounced the whole affair.

4. China, Canada, Chile and Syria demanded a full investigation of the Czechoslovak case.

5. The Soviet Ukraine attacked France, Britain and the United States for supporting the charges that Russia backed the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

General Strike Is Threatened By Italian Reds

ROME, March 31 (AP) — The Communists threatened to order a nationwide strike which would paralyze Italy for a 10-day period before the April 18 national elections.

Giuseppe Di Vittorio, Communist president of Italy's 6,000,000-member General Labor Confederation (CGIL), announced in Palermo, Sicily, the organization's executive committee would call the strike if police fail to find a missing Sicilian labor leader by April 8.

Anti-Soviet Stand Backed By Chile

Juvenal Hernandez, Chilean Foreign Minister, told the Inter-American Conference the world was divided into two fronts—one which seeks to impose a new political totalitarianism, and another which seeks to defend western culture by democratic means.

Hernandez said Chile has taken its position with the nations which defend democracy and liberty and added "that should be the attitude of all the nations of America."

Chile recently severed diplomatic relations with Russia, as did Brazil. Hernandez' speech drew a burst of applause from the delegates and the gallery.

"This is the time for decision," he said, "and there is no place for a third position."

Wallace Is Booed By Demonstrators

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP) — Henry A. Wallace was booed tonight by an estimated 500 demonstrators who marched and shouted outside a Brooklyn school house where the third party presidential candidate spoke.

The demonstrators, carrying United States flags and insignia of several veterans organizations, marched in an endless chain around a block-square building in the Red Hook section.

Wallace entered and left the school house by a side door under heavy police guard and was escorted by officers through the column of marchers on his arrival and departure.

There was no disorder other than the noise of the marchers, whose shouts could be heard inside the school auditorium during Wallace's speech. The shouts did not interrupt his talk.

The demonstrators shouted "down with Russia! Down with Communism!"

Wallace, himself, took note of the demonstration at the outset of his speech, the first of two he made tonight in different sections of Brooklyn.

He told his audience "I don't think I've ever had a warmer reception than this one tonight."

The third party candidate told the rallies that American officials were employing force and intimidation in telling the Italian people United States aid would be cut off if the communists win the April 18 elections.

Three American Soldiers Perish In Korean Blaze

SEOUL, March 31—INS)—Three American soldiers burned to death and four others were injured today in a half million dollar fire that destroyed an Army barracks in the Korean city of Pusan.

Names of the known victims were withheld pending notification of relatives.

The early morning blaze raged through a two-story Japanese-built structure that had served as barracks for 50 enlisted men, most of whom escaped without injury.

Origin of the fire was not determined immediately. It was the most misastrous fire affecting Americans since the occupation of Korea.

Tax Lien Is Filed Against Meyers

The wartime Air Forces supply officer is now serving a 20 months to five-year jail term for persuading a business associate to give false testimony to a Senate committee.

The Federal Court of Appeals last week denied Meyers' application for bail while he appeals the conviction.

In Washington, Me. rs today asked Chief Justice Vinson, of the Supreme Court, to order his release on bail while the Court of Appeals considers his case.

Vinson is expected to act on Meyers' request in a day or two. Supreme Court justices rarely grant such requests.

Meyers also is under indictment for committing perjury himself and for falsifying income taxes, and may face trial later on these charges.

The Internal Revenue Department's tax lien alleged Meyers owes the government more than $240,000 for taxes between 1941 and 1946. It was filed in the Long Island district, where Meyers has a home.

It listed approximately $33,000 owed for 1941; $50,000 for 1942; $37,000 for 1943; $49,000 for 1944; $50,000 for 1945, and $26,000 for 1946.

Meyers was convicted of persuading Bleriot Lamarre to give false testimony to Senate investigators about a plane-parts plant of which Lamarre was president.

Congress Is Told Negroes Will Refuse To Bear Arms

WASHINGTON, March 31 — (AP) —A negro union leader told Congress today that millions of negroes will refuse to be drafted into a "Jim Crow" army. He said he would advise them not to bear arms and drew a warning that treason charges might result if he does.

The witness, A. Philip Randolph, president of the AFL Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, declared that negroes "never will" win civil rights unless a drastic step is taken.

Appearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee, he and other negro leaders asked that amendments against racial discrimination and segregation be included in any temporary draft or universal military training legislation.

"I personally will advise negroes to refuse to fight as slaves for a democracy they cannot possess and cannot enjoy," Randolph asserted.

His proposal for a civil disobedience protest against the draft brought advice from Sen. Morse (R-Ore) and Baldwin (R-Conn) that he is making a mistake and harming the civil rights cause.

But Randolph, who recently told President Truman that negroes would hesitate to shoulder arms unless segregation were abolished, declared that "we've got to face this thing sooner or later and we might as well face it now."

"Negroes," he said, "are just sick and tired of being pushed around and we just don't propose to take it, and we do not care what happens." A sprinkling of applause came from the white spectators.

Reynolds, an army chaplain during the war, said the negroes could only fight with "the weapons of truth and non-cooperation in any form or variety of cumpulsory Jim Crow."

During the war, he asserted, negro soldiers were humiliated, beaten and otherwise mistreated.

Britain Takes Ownership Of All Electric Utilities

LONDON, Thursday, April 1. (AP)—Britain took ownership last midnight of all the nation's electric utilities, sixth major enterprise to be nationalized under the labor government's socialist program.

One of the first developments under state control will be higher rates for a large proportion of domestic consumers in urban areas.

Chairmen of three of the 14 regional boards that will administer the industry said yesterday that domestic rates would have to be increased to meet rising costs, including higher prices for coal.

Dewey Wisconsin-Bound

ALBANY, N. Y., March 31 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey entrained tonight for Wisconsin, where he will wage an intensive two-day campaign for election of delegates pledged to his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

Pennsylvanians' Claim To Moon Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP)—On the eve of April Fool's Day, the government today turned down two Pennsylvanians who laid claim to the moon.

Secretary of the Interior Krug, saying the moon belongs to everyone, denied their request that the government approve the claim.

Self-Styled Red Moves Out Of Mob-Damaged Home

Police watched while moving men, supervised by an unidentified couple, carried out furniture. More than 100-rain drenched spectators jeered when movers carted out armloads of books and literature.

Moving men said they were taking their load to a storage warehouse.

They moved as police doubled their precautions against any further violence to — or by — Communists.

Thirty to 40 persons last night broke into Hashmall's home while the family was away and wrecked the interior.

Sheriff Ralph J. Paul declared it was quite likely Communists might retaliate with a "goon squad" gang "schooled in rough and tumble alley and mob fighting tactics."

He indicated his 46 deputies and Columbus city police were ready for any test from this direction. then added:

"Don't make martyrs of them (Communists); don't commit some overt act which might lead to bloodshed or possible death; don't violate the law in opposing them."

Gus Hall, state Communist chairman, announced in Cleveland a civil damage suit would be filed against the Columbus Citizen and Franklin County for the "mob attack." He accused the Citizen of inspiring the action, which he said was "carried through by a German Nazi element, a military organization at Fort Hayes here, and followers of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists.

Stassen Says Tax Slashes In Order

MADISON, Wis., March 31 (AP) — Harold E. Stassen said tonight that in time of peace no citizen should be forced to pay more than half his income in taxes.

Stassen urged tax cuts to aid individuals and new small businesses in a speech prepared for delivery over a radio network. The former Minnesota Governor is campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination.

"It is my view," Stassen said, "that a whole set of policies must be inaugurated to prevent the boom and bust tendencies of our free economy. Among these are reduction in taxes to specifically give a break to small new businesses and to avoid taking more than one-half of the income of any citizen of our country in time of peace.

"Both of these measures are important to stimulate the dynamics of our capitalism and to broaden the competition and increase the production of our total economic machine. They will tend to prevent the boom side of our cycle and to build bulwarks against the depth of our depression drop."

He said he favored a labor policy that "is fair and just and maintains a balance between individually managed capital and free organized labor." This, he added, would develop out of the Taft-Hartley law, with comparatively minor amendments.

Stassen also declared the government should be charged with the definite duty in any normal crop situation of positive support for the price of the entire crop at 90 per cent of parity.

Papanek Refuses

6. The council adjourned debate on the Czechoslovakia case until next Tuesday.

Papanek To Open New Office

Papanek and Houdek sat in the advisers section during the debate. After the meeting Papanek said he would open a new and smaller office in Manhattan, paying for it out of his own pocket. The lease on his old office expires tomorrow. Some of Papanek's staff remained with him; others joined Houdek.

Before Dr. Tsiang spoke to the Security Council, Chile and Canada proposed that the delegates hear from Czechoslovakian leaders who have escaped from their Communist-dominated homeland.

Dr. Tsiang made one of the strongest speeches he has yet presented to any United Nations organ. He said the council—and the world—must face up to the Czechoslovakian problem now rather than wait two, three or five years.

Reynolds, Plane Damaged, Calls Off Expedition

PEIPING, March 31 (INS)—Milton J. Reynolds, millionaire Chicago pen manufacturer, called off plans for his aerial expedition to the remote mountains of Western China today.

Reynolds abandoned the expedition when his C-86 transport plane was seriously damaged at Peiping while taxiing for a takeoff. The right wheel of the big four-motored plane collapsed and it crashed on its belly damaging a propeller and the fuselage.

The expedition leader said the plane may be patched up for a safe flight to Shanghai within the next few days but that it could not be completely repaired in China because parts are not available.

Truman Delays

members did that at noon today, and were "excused for the moment" from any more work, Chairman Sherman Minton said.

Hartley Seeks New Law

If Mr. Truman does call for court intervention to halt the strike, the board of inquiry would be reconvened in 60 days to make another report on the pension dispute which caused the walkout March 15. The National Labor Relations Board then would poll the nearly 400,000 soft coal miners to learn whether they wanted to accept the operators' last offer on a pension. Fifteen days would be allowed for that.

To date, the mine owners' trustee on the welfare and retirement fund has made no actual offers to meet Lewis' demand for $100 a month for men over 60 years old who have been employed in the mines 20 years. But the operators might do so within the next two months.

Attorney General Clark would be required to ask that the injunction be dissolved five days after the poll was completed. The whole process, set up under the Taft-Hartley Act, would be aimed at halting the strike for at least 80 days.

But by that time, Lewis' whole contract with the operators would be expired and another dispute seems likely over wages and other issues. The contract runs out June 30.

Rep. Fred A. Hartley (R-NJ), chairman of the House Labor Committee and co-author of the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Relations Act, introduced another bill today—aimed directly at Lewis.

It would make unions subject to the anti-trust laws and enable the Justice Department to prosecute them if they were deemed guilty of restraint of trade.

Slain Bride Had Financial Losses

NEW YORK, March 31—(AP)—Detectives probing the strangulation slaying of an attractive bride of four months turned attentian today to reports she had recently suffered financial reverses.

The bride, Mrs. Vera Lotito, 36, recently sold an interest in her travel service business for $2,500 and had disposed of most of the money, the detectives said.

They added that they would seek to learn to whom she paid the money and why. Her husband, Robert, an insurance company executive, and friends were to be questioned on the point.

Mrs. Lotito's body, tightly bound up with five of her husband's neckties and bearing 15 stab wounds, was discovered yesterday in her mid-Manhattan apartment.

Lotito found the body.

An autopsy showed that strangulation caused the woman's death with the stabbing as a contributory cause. One of the neckties was looped around her throat. Three of the stab wounds pierced the heart.

Detectives described the murder as a crime of vengeance but said they had no immediate suspects. The 20 men assigned to the case pored over names of friends and business acquaintances in Mrs. Lotito's 15 address books found in her apartment.

Mrs. Lotito's wedding and engagement rings were missing, but apparently nothing else was taken. Detectives said they believed the killer had tried to make the crime look like robbery.

Va. Commission Lacks Authority For Inquiry

RICHMOND, Va., March 31 (AP)—The State Corporation Commission today decided it is without authority to conduct an investigation of Richmond Newspapers, Inc., as directed in a resolution of the House of Delegates.

The commission, in a letter to Gov. Tuck and the clerks of the House and Senate dated March 31, said the investigation contemplated is not within the orbit of the general jurisdiction of the commission which, therefore, would have to consider that it was constituted by a committee by the House for the purpose of making the investigation.

Hynotist Is Convicted On Charges By Girl

MARTINEZ, Calif., March 31—(AP)—A sunday school teacher was convicted of a felony charge that he hypnotized a 16-year-old girl member of his class and then committed an unnatural sex act.

The jury required only 20 minutes to convict Donald E. Hickock, 38, a paroled ex-convict, of committing the crime in his physiotherapy office at Richmond nearly three years ago. Legal maneuvers had held up the trial.

Hickok's motion for a new trial was denied. He was sentenced immediately to San Quentin prison where he faces a term of one to 15 years. The term will be fixed by the adult authority.

Hickok offered no testimony. His attorney, Albert King, argued that the act was attempted, not consummated.

Yesterday the alleged victim, Mrs. Dolores J. Ramey, testified that she was hypnotized and that the act took place but that, while aware of it, she was powerless to resist.

Russia Orders

road or rail without Russian consent.

Berlin, by four-power agreement, occupies an island position inside the Soviet zone. Travelers on highway or rail routes out of the city cover 100 miles or more of Soviet-occupied territory before entering the western zones.

The Soviet order made no reference to air traffic to and from the capital.

The main problem before the Americans, British and French was whether they would give up the sovereignty of their military trains.

British Trucks Turned Back

A brief, one-sentence announcement tonight by a United States military government representative said only:

"We have advised the Russians we are prepared for train commanders to give proper documentation, but that we cannot permit entry into our trains as a new procedure."

An official spokesman, explaining "documentation," said train commanders always have given the Russians copies of the travel orders of trains and passengers.

The first instance of the Soviet clampdown came when several British military trucks bound for Berlin were turned back at the Soviet border checkpoint at Marienborn tonight. The Russians claimed the trucks bore no official Soviet translation of travel permits, the British said.

Should the Western Powers resist by force the Soviet order to inspect trains and the Russians declined to modify the order it could result in armed clashes between train guards and Russian troops.

Bill To Maintain Synthetic Rubber Industry Is Signed By President

WASHINGTON, March 31 (INS)—President Truman tonight signed a bill to maintain a permanent synthetic rubber producing industry with an overall capacity of 665,000 tons annually as a safeguard for national defense.

The bill, which also continues industrial rationing and inventory controls over rubber, was approved by Congress late today and rushed to the White House.

Republican leaders jammed the measure through at the close of a long legislative day which saw the 6.2 billion dollar European recovery bill passed.

In the brief debate, Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D) Tex., assailed the provisions for disposal of government-owned synthetic rubber plants. He declared that the effect would be to "speed sales" of plants. He added:

"It is astonishing that at such a critical time as this we should enact legislation that would set the stage to demobilize a vital part of our national defense."

The Senate was responsible for this provision, since the original House bill provided for government retention of production facilities.

Lacy Plans Vigorous Tax Law Enforcement

BALTIMORE, March 31 (AP) — State Comptroller James J. Lacy said today he planned to "enforce vigorously" the state income tax provisions and to "prosecute those individuals who wilfully refuse to file" a return.

In a brief statement discussing policy of his division regarding the income tax, the Comptroller said:

"May this be public notice to those individuals who intentionally fail to carry their share of the cost of state government that they might and will suffer the resulting consequences."

Truman Reported Ready To Veto Tax-Cut Today

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) — Congressmen have been urged to stand by for a quick vote on President Truman's expected veto of the $4,800,000,000 tax-cutting bill. One high-ranking Democrat predicted the veto would come tomorrow, but many other legislators said they did not expect it until Friday.

The President has until midnight Monday, April 5, to act on the measure. The White House was noncommittal but congressional leaders believe action will be taken before the deadline—some time this week and possibly tomorrow.

Stassen urged tax cuts to aid individuals and new small businesses in a speech prepared for delivery over a radio network. The former Minnesota Governor is campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination.

"It is my view," Stassen said, "that a whole set of policies must be inaugurated to prevent the boom and bust tendencies of our free economy. Among these are reduction in taxes to specifically give a break to small new businesses and to avoid taking more than one-half of the income of any citizen of our country in time of peace.

"Both of these measures are important to stimulate the dynamics of our capitalism and to broaden the competition and increase the production of our total economic machine. They will tend to prevent the boom side of our cycle and to build bulwarks against the depth of our depression drop."

He said he favored a labor policy that "is fair and just and maintains a balance between individually managed capital and free organized labor." This, he added, would develop out of the Taft-Hartley law, with comparatively minor amendments.

Stassen also declared the government should be charged with the definite duty in any normal crop situation of positive support for the price of the entire crop at 90 per cent of parity.

Papanek Refuses

6. The council adjourned debate on the Czechoslovakia case until next Tuesday.

Papanek To Open New Office

Papanek and Houdek sat in the advisers section during the debate. After the meeting Papanek said he would open a new and smaller office in Manhattan, paying for it out of his own pocket. The lease on his old office expires tomorrow. Some of Papanek's staff remained with him; others joined Houdek.

Before Dr. Tsiang spoke to the Security Council, Chile and Canada proposed that the delegates hear from Czechoslovakian leaders who have escaped from their Communist-dominated homeland.

Dr. Tsiang made one of the strongest speeches he has yet presented to any United Nations organ. He said the council—and the world—must face up to the Czechoslovakian problem now rather than wait two, three or five years.

Reynolds, Plane Damaged, Calls Off Expedition

PEIPING, March 31 (INS)—Milton J. Reynolds, millionaire Chicago pen manufacturer, called off plans for his aerial expedition to the remote mountains of Western China today.

Reynolds abandoned the expedition when his C-86 transport plane was seriously damaged at Peiping while taxiing for a takeoff. The right wheel of the big four-motored plane collapsed and it crashed on its belly damaging a propeller and the fuselage.

The expedition leader said the plane may be patched up for a safe flight to Shanghai within the next few days but that it could not be completely repaired in China because parts are not available.

Truman Delays

members did that at noon today, and were "excused for the moment" from any more work, Chairman Sherman Minton said.

Hartley Seeks New Law

If Mr. Truman does call for court intervention to halt the strike, the board of inquiry would be reconvened in 60 days to make another report on the pension dispute which caused the walkout March 15. The National Labor Relations Board then would poll the nearly 400,000 soft coal miners to learn whether they wanted to accept the operators' last offer on a pension. Fifteen days would be allowed for that.

To date, the mine owners' trustee on the welfare and retirement fund has made no actual offers to meet Lewis' demand for $100 a month for men over 60 years old who have been employed in the mines 20 years. But the operators might do so within the next two months.

Attorney General Clark would be required to ask that the injunction be dissolved five days after the poll was completed. The whole process, set up under the Taft-Hartley Act, would be aimed at halting the strike for at least 80 days.

But by that time, Lewis' whole contract with the operators would be expired and another dispute seems likely over wages and other issues. The contract runs out June 30.

Rep. Fred A. Hartley (R-NJ), chairman of the House Labor Committee and co-author of the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Relations Act, introduced another bill today—aimed directly at Lewis.

It would make unions subject to the anti-trust laws and enable the Justice Department to prosecute them if they were deemed guilty of restraint of trade.

Slain Bride Had Financial Losses

NEW YORK, March 31—(AP)—Detectives probing the strangulation slaying of an attractive bride of four months turned attention today to reports she had recently suffered financial reverses.

The bride, Mrs. Vera Lotito, 36, recently sold an interest in her travel service business for $2,500 and had disposed of most of the money, the detectives said.

They added that they would seek to learn to whom she paid the money and why. Her husband, Robert, an insurance company executive, and friends were to be questioned on the point.

Mrs. Lotito's body, tightly bound up with five of her husband's neckties and bearing 15 stab wounds, was discovered yesterday in her mid-Manhattan apartment.

Lotito found the body.

An autopsy showed that strangulation caused the woman's death with the stabbing as a contributory cause. One of the neckties was looped around her throat. Three of the stab wounds pierced the heart.

Detectives described the murder as a crime of vengeance but said they had no immediate suspects. The 20 men assigned to the case pored over names of friends and business acquaintances in Mrs. Lotito's 15 address books found in her apartment.

Mrs. Lotito's wedding and engagement rings were missing, but apparently nothing else was taken. Detectives said they believed the killer had tried to make the crime look like robbery.

Va. Commission Lacks Authority For Inquiry

RICHMOND, Va., March 31 (AP)—The State Corporation Commission today decided it is without authority to conduct an investigation of Richmond Newspapers, Inc., as directed in a resolution of the House of Delegates.

The commission, in a letter to Gov. Tuck and the clerks of the House and Senate dated March 31, said the investigation contemplated is not within the orbit of the general jurisdiction of the commission which, therefore, would have to consider that it was constituted by a committee by the House for the purpose of making the investigation.

Hynotist Is Convicted On Charges By Girl

MARTINEZ, Calif., March 31—(AP)—A sunday school teacher was convicted of a felony charge that he hypnotized a 16-year-old girl member of his class and then committed an unnatural sex act.

The jury required only 20 minutes to convict Donald E. Hickock, 38, a paroled ex-convict, of committing the crime in his physiotherapy office at Richmond nearly three years ago. Legal maneuvers had held up the trial.

Hickok's motion for a new trial was denied. He was sentenced immediately to San Quentin prison where he faces a term of one to 15 years. The term will be fixed by the adult authority.

Hickok offered no testimony. His attorney, Albert King, argued that the act was attempted, not consummated.

Yesterday the alleged victim, Mrs. Dolores J. Ramey, testified that she was hypnotized and that the act took place but that, while aware of it, she was powerless to resist.

Russia Orders

road or rail without Russian consent.

Berlin, by four-power agreement, occupies an island position inside the Soviet zone. Travelers on highway or rail routes out of the city cover 100 miles or more of Soviet-occupied territory before entering the western zones.

The Soviet order made no reference to air traffic to and from the capital.

The main problem before the Americans, British and French was whether they would give up the sovereignty of their military trains.

British Trucks Turned Back

A brief, one-sentence announcement tonight by a United States military government representative said only:

"We have advised the Russians we are prepared for train commanders to give proper documentation, but that we cannot permit entry into our trains as a new procedure."

An official spokesman, explaining "documentation," said train commanders always have given the Russians copies of the travel orders of trains and passengers.

The first instance of the Soviet clampdown came when several British military trucks bound for Berlin were turned back at the Soviet border checkpoint at Marienborn tonight. The Russians claimed the trucks bore no official Soviet translation of travel permits, the British said.

Should the Western Powers resist by force the Soviet order to inspect trains and the Russians declined to modify the order it could result in armed clashes between train guards and Russian troops.

Bill To Maintain Synthetic Rubber Industry Is Signed By President

WASHINGTON, March 31 (INS)—President Truman tonight signed a bill to maintain a permanent synthetic rubber producing industry with an overall capacity of 665,000 tons annually as a safeguard for national defense.

The bill, which also continues industrial rationing and inventory controls over rubber, was approved by Congress late today and rushed to the White House.

Republican leaders jammed the measure through at the close of a long legislative day which saw the 6.2 billion dollar European recovery bill passed.

In the brief debate, Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D) Tex., assailed the provisions for disposal of government-owned synthetic rubber plants. He declared that the effect would be to "speed sales" of plants. He added:

"It is astonishing that at such a critical time as this we should enact legislation that would set the stage to demobilize a vital part of our national defense."

The Senate was responsible for this provision, since the original House bill provided for government retention of production facilities.

Lacy Plans Vigorous Tax Law Enforcement

BALTIMORE, March 31 (AP) — State Comptroller James J. Lacy said today he planned to "enforce vigorously" the state income tax provisions and to "prosecute those individuals who wilfully refuse to file" a return.

In a brief statement discussing policy of his division regarding the income tax, the Comptroller said:

"May this be public notice to those individuals who intentionally fail to carry their share of the cost of state government that they might and will suffer the resulting consequences."

Truman Reported Ready To Veto Tax-Cut Today

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) — Congressmen have been urged to stand by for a quick vote on President Truman's expected veto of the $4,800,000,000 tax-cutting bill. One high-ranking Democrat predicted the veto would come tomorrow, but many other legislators said they did not expect it until Friday.

The President has until midnight Monday, April 5, to act on the measure. The White House was noncommittal but congressional leaders believe action will be taken before the deadline—some time this week and possibly tomorrow.

Plenty Of Rest Is Mental Ills Safeguard

There are today almost as many beds in hospitals for mental patients as there are in general hospitals with 674,930 beds in mental hospitals and 710,597 beds in general hospitals. And in both types of hospitals, there are at least 191,000 less beds than are needed!

Although this large number of mental patients may seem startling, there are a number of reasons for it. Some patients cared for in hospitals today would formerly have been cared for in their own homes. Others, no longer able to face the demands of modern living, its strain and pressure on the individual, give up the struggle and retire to a world in which they are not forced to make decisions.

Much of this stress could be avoided by attention to one simple need —plenty of sleep and rest. Members of the medical profession have agreed that many patients would not be in mental hospitals today if they had observed the body's need for plenty of restful sleep each night. This also means attention to sleeping equipment as wornout bedding can rob the sleeper of much of the restful benefits of his night's sleep.

Not Very Respectful Of General Eisenhower

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., and his brother, Elliott, have lent their names—or rather their surname—to the clamorous Democratic politicians who believe that Gen. Dwight W. Eisenhower is the only man who can save the party from disaster in November. Franklin, Jr., is vice chairman of the American for Democratic Action. Elliott is—well, Elliott is his ineffable self.

The "Ike For President" movement among certain Democrats is evidence of party desperation. A few months ago Eisenhower was being touted by certain Republican groups, on the basis of no visible evidence, as a Republican. Now he is being hailed by certain Democrats, for no better reason, as a Democrat. The General himself has not revealed his party complexion, if any. What he has done is to deny, publicly and categorically, that he is a candidate. He has dismissed as impossible the suggestion that he might be drafted. That refusal was enough for his G. O .P. supporters. But it is not enough for those Democrats [even in the face of a second refusal] who can see the future only in terms of "Eisenhower or ruin."

What does a man have to say or do in this country in order to convince some people that he is not and won't be a candidate for President? Only Gen. Sherman was more categorical in his refusal than Eisenhower, and the famous William Tecumseh was angry because he thought some Republicans were trying to use him to block his brother, Senator John Sherman.

Of course, those who want to use "Ike" politically are clutching desperately at the usual straws of rumor —like his reputed statement in private that he is now sorry he refused so flatly. What they actually propose is that a distinguished patriot and military leader allows himself to be used in order to salvage a political party caught in a jam. Really, it's not very respectful of the General.

The weather bureau is organizing to send out tornado warning. Better too late than never, seems to be its motto.

Marshall's Countermove In World's Game of Bluff

Secretary Marshall's blunt statement that the United States and the other western powers are staying in Berlin calls what looks like a Soviet bluff. Russia has the nearby military strength to run the United States, Great Britain and France out of there. But she will not use that strength unless she wants to start a war.

She has other moves up her sleeve, though. She will do what she can to convince the people of Germany and Europe that, short of starting a war, she can do about just anything she pleases and there isn't much the other powers are able or willing to do to stop her.

Some other drastic move in Berlin is to be expected in time to have its effect on the Italian people before they go to the polls on April 18.

What that move is likely to be is foreshadowed by another announcement Secretary Marshall made at the same time. Any further attempt to disrupt the function of the four-power Allied Control Council, he said, would be regarded as "unilateral action aimed against the unification of Germany."

The Russians have made several such attempts. Recently the Communist press in Berlin hinted darkly that the western powers would not be able to remain much longer. The Russians have formed a "People's Congress" in their zone which they are apparently grooming as a quisling group to put forward as the true government of all Germany.

Such a move would violate the agreements under which Germany is now governed by the four powers.

And Soviet representatives recently walked out of the Soviet Council to keep it from functioning. These moves could mean that Russia intends to force the issue whether it starts a war or not. That is what she wants Europeans to fear that they do mean. So Marshall's statement is a counter-move in the game of bluff.

Another Russian gesture in reply is looked for in the next week or two.

Nobody Is Satisfied With Plans for Palestine

Harry Truman is rarely his best advocate, and, on the issue of Palestine, his advisers do little to help him out. His explanation of the reasons for abandoning the partition plan in Palestine in favor of a temporary United Nations trusteeship was a dismal and confusing performance.

The United States reversed its position, said the President, because partition could not be enforced without the use of American troops. He did not mention what has been understood to the main consideration of our State Department and military officials—that partition would call for an international police force, which would introduce into the Middle East a Red Army and a Soviet propaganda engine, via the Dardenelles.

On the question of enforcing a trusteeship plan, Mr. Truman was evasive. He said the United States will accept its "share of responsibility" for enforcing UN administration in Palestine, but refused to say whether we would send in enforcement troops after the British moved out this spring. That, bridge, said Mr. Truman, will be crossed when we come to it. But the bridge is dangerously near.

Uncrossed bridges have been the curse of the Administration's Palestine policy all along. The same reluctance to face the problem of enforcement marked the President's cavalier sponsorship—for domestic political reasons—of partition. Today he refuses to face the probable cost of setting up a trusteeship.

The result is that nobody is satisfied. The Zionists were infuriated by the about-face of partition. The Arabs were naturally delighted, but even they are again made suspicious by the President's gratuitous remark that he still favors partition by peaceful agreement between Arabs and Jews.

The White House advisers must have been suffering a bad attack of spring fever when Mr. Truman prepared his statement for the press.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Breast Cancer

Fear often impairs reason and judgment and the fear of cancer is no exception. Many individuals who think that malignancy is present will delay examination under the delusion that the longer the truth is evaded, the easier the outcome will be. This illogical behavior is one of the greatest obstacles to early detection of the disease. It is well known that most cancers can be treated successfully in the beginning stages but it is not always easy to do so because the condition may be advanced before symptoms appear. On the other hand, some persons neglect warnings or, through carelessness, fail to observe changes that arise.

In one study of cancer of the breast, for example, 75 per cent of the patients found the tumors by accident, usually while bathing or dressing; and in 91 per cent of these, the growth was almost an inch in diameter. It is difficult to perceive how the lesions could escape observation until they reached this size. Furthermore, in one series of a thousand cases, a questionnaire revealed that the women put off visiting a physician for 15 months after discovering the mass. In another group, they waited 12 months; and in a third, 6 months or longer. Many excuses were given; lack of courage was the most common.

Any breast "lump" that persists for more than a month should be investigated. Not all are dangerous but if the most skilled surgeon is unable to differentiate between the harmless and harmful lesion by examination alone, how can any layman be expected to do so? The tumor must be removed and sent to the laboratory for detailed study.

In one of our large hospitals, two surgeons with vast experience in cancer work were unable to make the distinction without biopsy in 336 consecutive cases. All of the tumors were sent to the laboratory ultimately; and subsequent statistics showed that in 170, cancer existed. In reviewing the figures, it was found that many correct guesses were made; other lesions they thought malignant were benign and vice versa. These studies are significant from another point of view. They emphasize the fact that not every "lump" is cancerous hence the worst should not always be feared. It might be added that in the series under discussion, far advanced malignancies were not included; nor were obviousy innocuous lesions. If such patients had been taken into consideration, only between 25 and 30 per cent probably would have proved cancerous.

Cancer of the breast can occur at any age but is most prevalent during the menopause or thereafter. The tumor is usually hard and painless and frequently attached to the overlying skin; this sometimes produces dimpling but in others, the epidermis over the area resembles pigskin. Larger masses may be tender and occasionally glands in the armpit are swollen. Tumors in the upper and outer part of the breast should always be viewed with suspicion because approximately 60 per cent of the breast carcinomas are located in this site. Bleeding from the nipple does not necessarily imply malignancy because this condition is equally prevalent in innocent lesions.

G.W. writes: What are the "brass shakes?"

Reply

A disorder in which a brass worker develops symptoms of a cold followed by trembling and shivering. If the manifestations last more than a day, some of the other compounds contained in the product may be responsible. These include lead, mercury, manganese, magnesium, and cadmium.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Just the other day a woman started a diet in protest against high prices. She's eating nothing but bread and water and if this kepes on, prices may go down but bread and water will go up.

This may start a new trend to combat inflation. In fact, one political party already has a new slogan. . ."Reduce prices or watch our women disappear."

The problem of high prices is a very serious affair. I've been thinking about it myself and I've decided that at today's prices we're better off eating money.

If all the women follow the trend and diet against high prices, we'll probably have a new hit song called, "I don't want her, you can have her, she's too thin for me."

The men are worried about the whole thing . . . if this fad catches on, they'll have less to whistle at.

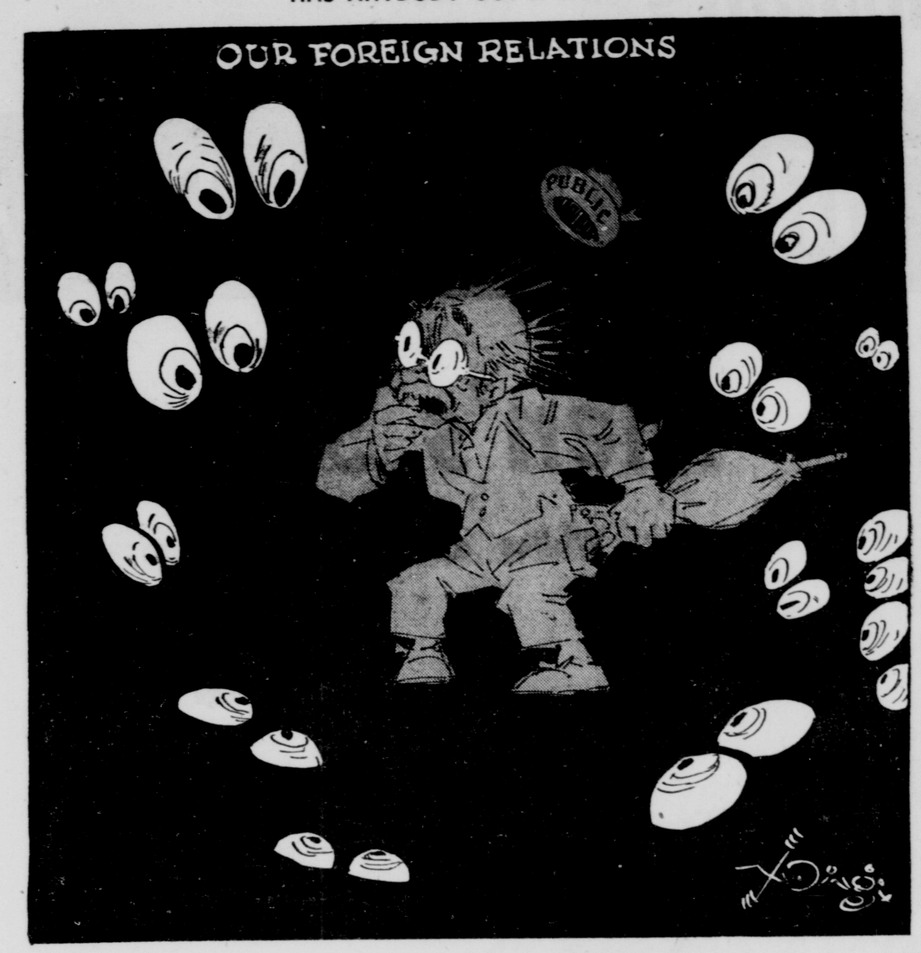

I know one woman who lost so much weight fighting high prices that her husband doesn't ask her what's cooking anymore . . . instead, when he comes home, he just says, "honey, where are you?"

My brother just started a bread and water diet to fight inflation.. he wants a lower sentence.

But I'm in favor of all the women dieting for the cause . . . now when I invite them out to dinner I don't have to be afraid to pick up the check.

Britain Informs U. S. That It Will Oppose Russia If War Breaks; U. S. Will Ship More Wheat To Europe

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 31.—One all-important question debated by war chiefs during recent defense discussions was whether Great Britain would throw its weight with the USA in case of a Red sweep across Europe.

It is no secret that there has been strong sentiment in war-weary Britain for sitting out the next war. Five years of buzz-bombs and living in air-raid shelters has made a lot of Britishers feel that neutrality may be the best policy.

Incidentally this opinion is also widely held by many Frenchmen, Belgians, Dutch and other continentals.

The answer to this question was all-important to U. S. defense planners. They had to figure out in advance whether the United States would be able to have air bases near the European continent. With the Red Army probably sweeping to the English Channel in a few weeks in case of war, Britain and Spain would be the only potential bases usable by the United States.

However, definite word has been given the United States by the British Government that, if Russia attacks, Britain will fight. British bases will be available to American bombers.

More Wheat To Europe

The President's food cabinet committee is seriously considering a substantial increase in wheat allocations to Europe within the next three months, but the big question is: How to prevent greedy speculators from cashing in if prices climb as a result.

At a secret meeting last week, attended by representatives of the State, Agriculture and Commerce Departments, it was decided that the goal of 450,000,000 bushels of wheat and flour for Europe in the fiscal year ending June 30 not only can be achieved, but probably boosted to 500,000,000 or more. Of coarse grains (corn, rye, oats, etc.), together with 70,000,000 bushels this means the total European grain shipments before June 30 may exceed 570,000,000. This is 50,000,000 bushels more than the Agriculture Department tentatively estimated would be available in its February report.

Agriculture spokesmen cagily predicted during the meeting that the 1948 wheat crop might be the second largest in history, approximating 1,250,000,000 bushels. Last year's record crop was 1,365,000,000, while the greatest previous crop—1946—was 1,153,000,000 bushels.

One hitch in increasing European allocations is a stipulation in the interim aid act, passed during the special session of Congress last year, that the wheat carryover (for livestock feeding and emergency domestic use) shall not be less than 150,000,000 bushels when the current fiscal year ends June 30.

However, because of the expected bumper crop of winter and spring wheat, State and Commerce Department spokesmen argued that Congress could be persuaded to reduce the carryover. The carryover last year, when our corn crop was low and Western European wheat production was negligible, was only 84,000,000 bushels. With crop prospects here and abroad much brighter this year, it was contended that the 150,000,000-bushel figure was ridiculously high.

MacArthur's Friends

The MacArthur campaign in Wisconsin has several interesting aspects. One is the tremendous amount of money being spent on his behalf. The other is the men behind him—including America Firster Phil LaFollette and foxy Fred Zimmerman, both ex-Governors of Wisconsin.

Zimmerman, an ex-Dewey backer, has been on more political bandwagons than almost any other politician in Wisconsin—most of them losers. This time he is all-out to pick a winner.

One of foxy Fred's bandwagons was the America First Committee. Another was the Ku Klux Klan. According to a sworn affidavit by William F. Wieseman, King Kleagle of the Wisconsin KKK, Zimmerman was an active Klansman. According to the Milwaukee Journal, Zimmerman "became a member of Milwaukee provisional Klan No. 1 in the summer of 1922 while he was a candidate for Secretary of State. He was initiated at the Klan headquarters in the Alhambra Building."

After being elected Governor of Wisconsin in 1927, however, Zimmerman got into hot water over his Klan membership when he fired a Catholic state employee, Alex Cobban, and had to testify regarding the dismissal before a Civil Service hearing. At the hearing Zimmerman refused to answer a question regarding his Klan membership.

However, when court action was threatened to make him answer, Zimmerman, according to the Milwaukee Journal, met with John C. Kleist, a Klan leader, and Charles B. Lewis, imperial representative, who gave him special dispensation to withdraw from the Klan. He was then able to answer that he was not a member of the Klan.

Merry-Go-Round

Americans for Democratic Action, sometimes described as the "New Deal government in exile" will come out for Eisenhower April 10 in Pittsburgh. . . . While Congress exposes strategic shipments to Russia, one of the Marshall Plan countries—Belgium—has just concluded a juicy trade pact with Moscow. . . . Veterans for Eisenhower now active in 24 states have opened new quarters at 3 Tenley Circle, Washington. They are trying to bombard Ike with 3,000,000 draft cards. . . . Harold Young, Henry Wallace's former right-hand man, will practice law near Uvalde, Tex., John Garner's hometown. . . . The CIO has decided to undertake a million-dollar advertising campaign to win support for liberal candidates whether they be Republicans or Democrats. . . . The Army, Navy and Air Force are all set to reopen the vast network of wartime posts in the USA as soon as Congress authorizes more manpower. . . . Smartest thing Secretary of Defense Forrestal ever did was to play up to Walter Winchell re Russia. . . . Senator Taft is not happy about the way Harold Stassen's campaign is going in certain Ohio districts — notably Cleveland, Toledo, Akron and Dayton. Looks like Stassen would hook some delegates. . . . Motion-picture czar Eric Johnston, calling at the White House last week, informed Truman that French and Italian attendance at showings of American movies had risen rapidly of late—even though Russian movies are given them free plus free transportation to the movie houses.

NEW YORK, March 31—(INS)—Every now and then a columnist's mail gets too interesting to be filed with a reflective "hmmmm." So here's some of recent vintage:

"Mr. Truman may not have the greatest advisers a President ever had," writes a New Yorker who was in the reviewing stand at the St. Patrick's Day parade (and who asks that his name be withheld). "But he has enough smart cookies around him to have wrung a complaint from Mr. Dewey during the parade.

"One of them learned that the school whose pupils were attacked by that gun-toting madman not long before the parade was going to march. He sent word to the school official to drop out of the line of march long enough to meet the President and receive the latter's expression of sympathy.

"This was done, and the Presidents' sincerity made a deep impression.

"Governor Dewey added his sympathies, but, as he was leaving, turned to one of his staff and said, 'Why don't some of you lunkheads think of things like that?'"

"'I've said no in every possible language, every possible way,' Ike said. 'I'm not interested and, what's more, I'm completely fed up with some of the politicians who have been after me, night and day. If one more of them puts the bee on me, I'm getting out of Washington for keeps!'"

"On the instruction sheet it stated that I should send counterfoils and checks to the person on the enclosed slip. Since your column was enclosed, I am led to believe that it must mean you.

"If you are acting as agent for the Mexican sweepstakes I can then feel assured that they are authentic."

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

The present national political setup makes me shudder like an awning in a hurricane.

Not one candidate on either side has mentioned grass roots. That's the best political salad there is when chopped up fine and mixed with the old apple sauce.

And not a single politico has hubbed up on his rear axles and hollered, "Don't changes hosses in mid-stream."

They never told us how that noble animal got out there. Now we know some screwball galloped him off a wharf.

Processes Of Public Opinion May Bring End To Coal Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 31 — The American people are about to witness an example of how to attempt to stop a strike by the processes of public opinion—the most enlightened method that democracy has been able to devise.

If it fails, compulsory arbitration will ensue.

John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers Union have never been up against the procedures which Congress has fortunately provided under the Taft-Hartley law.

If the provisions are found ineffective, further legislation may be enacted that will prescribe a procedure to require settlements in national industries affecting the public health and safety.

This proposal was contained in some of the bills which were under consideration before the Taft-Hartley bill was worked out in conference between the two houses of Congress, but it was thought to be too drastic to win enough votes to override a presidential veto.

Lewis Invited Taft-Hartley Bill

Mr. Lewis did more to get the Taft-Hartley bill enacted into law than any employer or trade association, and he is now in a fair way to compel the passage of more legislation with teeth in it. As a tactician in behalf of union labor, he is the worst foe that the trade-union movement has developed in recent years.

The labor leaders of other unions may rant about the Taft-Hartley law, yet, but for that statute, Congress would be considering far more drastic legislation today and President Truman would be urging it. The pension dispute is one that reasonable men ought to be able to resolve in an orderly fashion.

The nation ought not to have its fuel supply tied up while lawyers wrangle on the meaning of technical phrases.

The next step which the government will take under the Taft-Hartley law is to request that a federal court issue an injunction for 80 days while the presidential board of inquiry takes testimony from both sides and then makes a report to the public.

The board has the widest latitude in asking questions and compelling answers and in cross-examining witnesses so that at the end of a 60-day period it can get to the bottom of the dispute and tell the public what is right as well as who is right.

Naturally Mr. Lewis will contend that he did not initiate a strike and that the miners quit work as individuals and of their own free will. This kind of hooey will appeal to nobody who understands the manner in which several hundred thousand miners act concertedly.

The court in due time will enjoin the union from continuing the strike and can order all union funds impounded so no strike benefits can be paid out. Also the president and officers of the miners' union can be ordered publicly to disavow the strike and to request the men to go back to work. Any attempt to deal by subterfuge or circumvention with the court's order would mean a charge of contempt and possibly jail sentences for those who evaded the court's order.

May Not Go That Far

It may be that Mr. Lewis, knowing all these angles, will not go that far but will ask the men to go back to work while the issues are explored by the President's fact-finding board.

Certainly when three impartial members of the board of inquiry, who have no relationship to the miners or operators, get all the facts together and then insist on a final proposal from the employers, some progress can be anticipated. This final proposal must be voted on in secret within 15 days after the National Labor Relations Board gets it from the President's board of inquiry.

Once the men have voted, the results are then certified to the President. If the vote is negative, the President then puts the matter up to Congress for legislation.

It is a procedure that is somewhat analogous to that which has been used so successfully under the railway meditation law. Mr. Lewis can delay the isuance of the 80-day injunction by legal technicalities, but it seems hardly probable that this will hold up the injunction more than a few days.

Meanwhile, if it seems certain that the work stoppage will be ended, coal stocks on hand will be used in the interim on the assurance that production will soon be resumed.

Video and Politics

FOR A year now, we have been looking at a television instrument. Most of the looking is done by the younger members of the family who like fights, wrestling, basketball and the doings of the "Small Fry." Whenever I want to see something, the set kicks up. Either some doctor's diathermy is at work, or an amateur is experimenting, or planes are overhead. We are always having mechanics about the place who leave fingerprints on the walls and woodwork and get paid for it.

Certainly, nothing ought to go wrong so often and yet be in such good condition. It is like the doctor who tells the patient he is in prime shape, but the patient drops dead as he leaves the doctor's office.

The other day, I appeared on video and it was a beastly ordeal because the lights produce too much heat. Also, nobody told me not to slump in my seat, so when I did, the lights made my middle resemble that of Man - Mountain Dean. However, it was a gay experience, particularly as I said precisely what I wanted to say and the audience could see an attempt made to stop me.

I see by the newspapers that David Sarnoff, who runs the Radio Corporation of America and is a very shrewd hombre, having come up the very hard way, appraises video almost as revolutionary in political consequences. He said:

"We have but to recall the tremendous effect of radio broadcasting upon the social and political life of the nation to look forward to the profound effect which television is certain to have on domestic habits and politics."

He is so right about that. Radio made it possible for a lunkhead to read a ghost-written speech, after having had some specialist teach him how to modulate his voice in such a manner that it came over the radio entertainingly. For example, Franklin D. Roosevelt had a perfect radio voice after he had been taught by experts. He never wrote a speech for himself. There used to be bets over who prepared which paragraph. The script was marked up like a musical score. It came over wonderful.

On the other hand, men like Herbert Hoover or Robert A. Taft do not sound so well on the radio because they have never gone in for voice culture and fancy pauses and suspense and such things. In a word, they speak politics but are not auditioning to become a professional radio announcer who is hired for his voice.

Television will change that, and change it radically. The uninspired face, the fellow with his tongue in his cheek will be exposed. Sarnoff said:

"He must look into the television camera and speak to the people face to face. His appearance, his smile, his gestures, combined with the sound of his voice to complete the transmission of his personality—and it is that complete personality with which the voter will become acquainted."

For instance, Harry Truman, on television, looks better than he reads, except when he is doing gymnastics on the deck of a battleship. When he does gymnastics, he looks like an old man showing off to his youngest grandchild. But most of the time, he gives the impression of a sincere man, trying to get along. His words are weak and his voice is awful, but he evokes friendship and sympathy. Nobody can teach that. It is in the personality. It is the result of klieg lights on the subconscious. That is why many movies are spoiled by their stars: they speak of great spiritual purity but their eyes look as though they had taken too many flings. Make-up cannot change that —but when it comes to actors, most people don't care. For as that comic paper, "The New Yorker," once said, in an effort to confound an argument, an actor on the stage is not obligated to mirror his own life, and vice versa.

Anything is superior to the bluffing that radio makes possible. Video will not only change the political picture, but in time many ham commentators will disappear because when the public gets one look at them, it will prefer wrestling. That might save our sanity.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Without Money Or Price

I can see nothing to be gained by envying the possessions of another, nor in bemoaning the lack of anything beyond what is useful to us in serving another. How rich we seem to get as we keep distributing! Said Dr. Axel Munthe: "All that is really useful to us can be bought for little money, it is only the superfluous that is put up for sale at a high price."

How saturated with beauty and glory is the oncoming of the Springtime—its awakening from the long and troublesome days of Winter. The return of the song birds, the miraculous opening of the buds and leaves, and the greening grass coming to life again. What fragrance in the air, what a stir in all Nature!

The same heavens and the same colorful sky, the same rise of Sun and the same lowering of beauty in the Western horizon, as when God created this wonderful world, and then viewing it, proclaimed that it was very good. And today we say that it is very good—good to be alive with richness all about us, and for which we pay nothing—just appreciation, that's all.

Every book I own for a little time, I look upon as a piece of wealth, for it is the product of a human mind. I cannot pick up a single stone without wondering about its composition, and marveling at its coloring and derivation. The simplest flower is a friend, and I often talk to one. It tells me things that no book or human being has ever imparted to me.

Ten months of the year I dream of my return to my small Lodge at Grand Lake, Nova Scotia, which is one of a group of small islands. Everything is very simple there, yet to me it is a miniature heaven. Silence and natural beauty are all about. I love every tree there and every rock that lines its shore. Its mossy paths, so very colorful, and the springy earth, so deeply carpeted with millions of fallen pine needles, are a joy to tread. God pays for the upkeep! I, in return, humbly return my thanks.

We have far more things to be thankful for than we ever dream. A few friends, a selected cluster of books near at hand, some useful service daily being performed, and how rich one can feel! Contentment and peace of mind are what we earn, and we earn them by teaching others in invest in them.

Not Very Respectful Of General Eisenhower

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., and his brother, Elliott, have lent their names—or rather their surname—to the clamorous Democratic politicians who believe that Gen. Dwight W. Eisenhower is the only man who can save the party from disaster in November. Franklin, Jr., is vice chairman of the American for Democratic Action. Elliott is—well, Elliott is his ineffable self.

The "Ike For President" movement among certain Democrats is evidence of party desperation. A few months ago Eisenhower was being touted by certain Republican groups, on the basis of no visible evidence, as a Republican. Now he is being hailed by certain Democrats, for no better reason, as a Democrat. The General himself has not revealed his party complexion, if any. What he has done is to deny, publicly and categorically, that he is a candidate. He has dismissed as impossible the suggestion that he might be drafted. That refusal was enough for his G. O .P. supporters. But it is not enough for those Democrats [even in the face of a second refusal] who can see the future only in terms of "Eisenhower or ruin."

What does a man have to say or do in this country in order to convince some people that he is not and won't be a candidate for President? Only Gen. Sherman was more categorical in his refusal than Eisenhower, and the famous William Tecumseh was angry because he thought some Republicans were trying to use him to block his brother, Senator John Sherman.

Of course, those who want to use "Ike" politically are clutching desperately at the usual straws of rumor—like his reputed statement in private that he is now sorry he refused so flatly. What they actually propose is that a distinguished patriot and military leader allows himself to be used in order to salvage a political party caught in a jam. Really, it's not very respectful of the General.

The weather bureau is organizing to send out tornado warning. Better too late than never, seems to be its motto.

Marshall's Countermove In World's Game of Bluff

Secretary Marshall's blunt statement that the United States and the other western powers are staying in Berlin calls what looks like a Soviet bluff. Russia has the nearby military strength to run the United States, Great Britain and France out of there. But she will not use that strength unless she wants to start a war.

She has other moves up her sleeve, though. She will do what she can to convince the people of Germany and Europe that, short of starting a war, she can do about just anything she pleases and there isn't much the other powers are able or willing to do to stop her.

Some other drastic move in Berlin is to be expected in time to have its effect on the Italian people before they go to the polls on April 18.

What that move is likely to be is foreshadowed by another announcement Secretary Marshall made at the same time. Any further attempt to disrupt the function of the four-power Allied Control Council, he said, would be regarded as "unilateral action aimed against the unification of Germany."

The Russians have made several such attempts. Recently the Communist press in Berlin hinted darkly that the western powers would not be able to remain much longer. The Russians have formed a "People's Congress" in their zone which they are apparently grooming as a quisling group to put forward as the true government of all Germany.

Such a move would violate the agreements under which Germany is now governed by the four powers.

And Soviet representatives recently walked out of the Soviet Council to keep it from functioning. These moves could mean that Russia intends to force the issue whether it starts a war or not. That is what she wants Europeans to fear that they do mean. So Marshall's statement is a counter-move in the game of bluff.

Another Russian gesture in reply is looked for in the next week or two.

Nobody Is Satisfied With Plans for Palestine

Harry Truman is rarely his best advocate, and, on the issue of Palestine, his advisers do little to help him out. His explanation of the reasons for abandoning the partition plan in Palestine in favor of a temporary United Nations trusteeship was a dismal and confusing performance.

The United States reversed its position, said the President, because partition could not be enforced without the use of American troops. He did not mention what has been understood to the main consideration of our State Department and military officials—that partition would call for an international police force, which would introduce into the Middle East a Red Army and a Soviet propaganda engine, via the Dardenelles.

On the question of enforcing a trusteeship plan, Mr. Truman was evasive. He said the United States will accept its "share of responsibility" for enforcing UN administration in Palestine, but refused to say whether we would send in enforcement troops after the British moved out this spring. That, bridge, said Mr. Truman, will be crossed when we come to it. But the bridge is dangerously near.

Uncrossed bridges have been the curse of the Administration's Palestine policy all along. The same reluctance to face the problem of enforcement marked the President's cavalier sponsorship—for domestic political reasons—of partition. Today he refuses to face the probable cost of setting up a trusteeship.

The result is that nobody is satisfied. The Zionists were infuriated by the about-face of partition. The Arabs were naturally delighted, but even they are again made suspicious by the President's gratuitous remark that he still favors partition by peaceful agreement between Arabs and Jews.

The White House advisers must have been suffering a bad attack of spring fever when Mr. Truman prepared his statement for the press.

Breast Cancer

Fear often impairs reason and judgment and the fear of cancer is no exception. Many individuals who think that malignancy is present will delay examination under the delusion that the longer the truth is evaded, the easier the outcome will be. This illogical behavior is one of the greatest obstacles to early detection of the disease. It is well known that most cancers can be treated successfully in the beginning stages but it is not always easy to do so because the condition may be advanced before symptoms appear. Metal Poisoning

G.W. writes: What are the "brass shakes?"

Reply

A disorder in which a brass worker develops symptoms of a cold followed by trembling and shivering. If the manifestations last more than a day, some of the other compounds contained in the product may be responsible. These include lead, mercury, manganese, magnesium, and cadmium.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Just the other day a woman started a diet in protest against high prices. She's eating nothing but bread and water and if this kepes on, prices may go down but bread and water will go up.

This may start a new trend to combat inflation. In fact, one political party already has a new slogan. . ."Reduce prices or watch our women disappear."

The problem of high prices is a very serious affair. I've been thinking about it myself and I've decided that at today's prices we're better off eating money.

If all the women follow the trend and diet against high prices, we'll probably have a new hit song called, "I don't want her, you can have her, she's too thin for me."

The men are worried about the whole thing . . . if this fad catches on, they'll have less to whistle at.

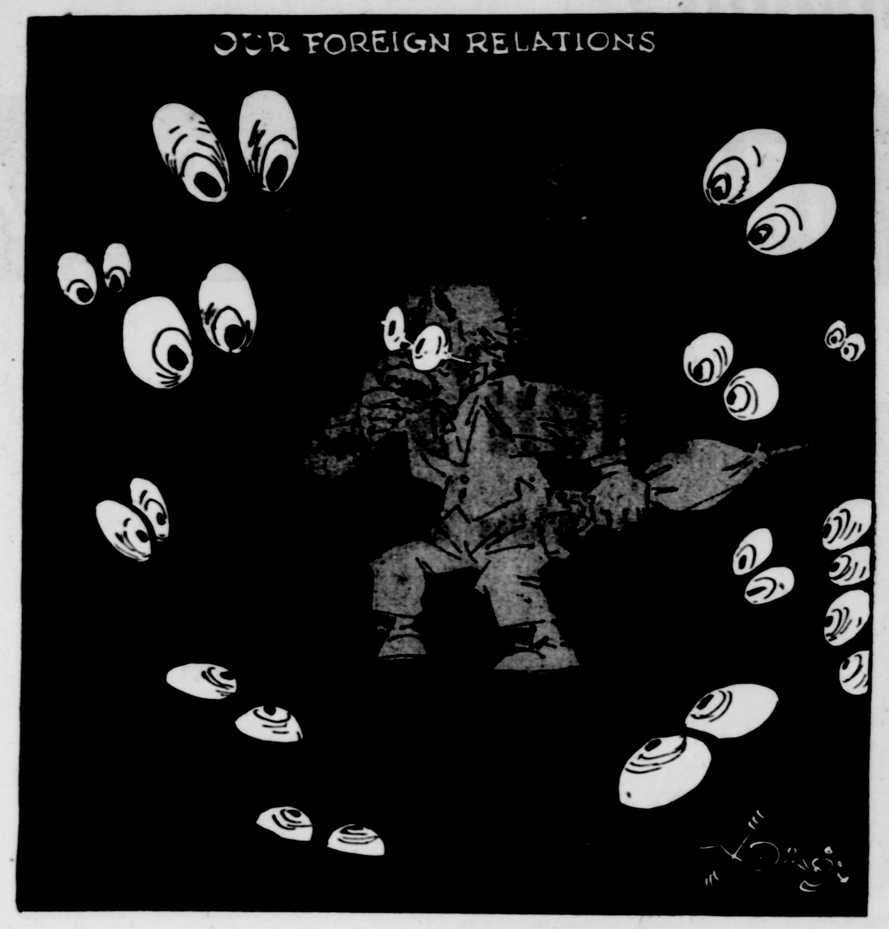

I know one woman who lost so much weight fighting high prices that her husband doesn't ask her what's cooking anymore . . . instead, when he comes home, he just says, "honey, where are you?"

My brother just started a bread and water diet to fight inflation.. he wants a lower sentence.

But I'm in favor of all the women dieting for the cause . . . now when I invite them out to dinner I don't have to be afraid to pick up the check.

Britain Informs U. S. That It Will Oppose Russia If War Breaks; U. S. Will Ship More Wheat To Europe

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 31.—One all-important question debated by war chiefs during recent defense discussions was whether Great Britain would throw its weight with the USA in case of a Red sweep across Europe.

It is no secret that there has been strong sentiment in war-weary Britain for sitting out the next war. Five years of buzz-bombs and living in air-raid shelters has made a lot of Britishers feel that neutrality may be the best policy.

Incidentally this opinion is also widely held by many Frenchmen, Belgians, Dutch and other continentals.

The answer to this question was all-important to U. S. defense planners. They had to figure out in advance whether the United States would be able to have air bases near the European continent. With the Red Army probably sweeping to the English Channel in a few weeks in case of war, Britain and Spain would be the only potential bases usable by the United States.

However, definite word has been given the United States by the British Government that, if Russia attacks, Britain will fight. British bases will be available to American bombers.

More Wheat To Europe

The President's food cabinet committee is seriously considering a substantial increase in wheat allocations to Europe within the next three months, but the big question is: How to prevent greedy speculators from cashing in if prices climb as a result.

At a secret meeting last week, attended by representatives of the State, Agriculture and Commerce Departments, it was decided that the goal of 450,000,000 bushels of wheat and flour for Europe in the fiscal year ending June 30 not only can be achieved, but probably boosted to 500,000,000 or more. Of coarse grains (corn, rye, oats, etc.), together with 70,000,000 bushels this means the total European grain shipments before June 30 may exceed 570,000,000. This is 50,000,000 bushels more than the Agriculture Department tentatively estimated would be available in its February report.

Agriculture spokesmen cagily predicted during the meeting that the 1948 wheat crop might be the second largest in history, approximating 1,250,000,000 bushels. Last year's record crop was 1,365,000,000, while the greatest previous crop—1946—was 1,153,000,000 bushels.

One hitch in increasing European allocations is a stipulation in the interim aid act, passed during the special session of Congress last year, that the wheat carryover (for livestock feeding and emergency domestic use) shall not be less than 150,000,000 bushels when the current fiscal year ends June 30.

However, because of the expected bumper crop of winter and spring wheat, State and Commerce Department spokesmen argued that Congress could be persuaded to reduce the carryover. The carryover last year, when our corn crop was low and Western European wheat production was negligible, was only 84,000,000 bushels. With crop prospects here and abroad much brighter this year, it was contended that the 150,000,000-bushel figure was ridiculously high.

MacArthur's Friends

The MacArthur campaign in Wisconsin has several interesting aspects. One is the tremendous amount of money being spent on his behalf. The other is the men behind him—including America Firster Phil LaFollette and foxy Fred Zimmerman, both ex-Governors of Wisconsin.

Zimmerman, an ex-Dewey backer, has been on more political bandwagons than almost any other politician in Wisconsin—most of them losers. This time he is all-out to pick a winner.

One of foxy Fred's bandwagons was the America First Committee. Another was the Ku Klux Klan. According to a sworn affidavit by William F. Wieseman, King Kleagle of the Wisconsin KKK, Zimmerman was an active Klansman. According to the Milwaukee Journal, Zimmerman "became a member of Milwaukee provisional Klan No. 1 in the summer of 1922 while he was a candidate for Secretary of State. He was initiated at the Klan headquarters in the Alhambra Building."

After being elected Governor of Wisconsin in 1927, however, Zimmerman got into hot water over his Klan membership when he fired a Catholic state employee, Alex Cobban, and had to testify regarding the dismissal before a Civil Service hearing. At the hearing Zimmerman refused to answer a question regarding his Klan membership.

However, when court action was threatened to make him answer, Zimmerman, according to the Milwaukee Journal, met with John C. Kleist, a Klan leader, and Charles B. Lewis, imperial representative, who gave him special dispensation to withdraw from the Klan. He was then able to answer that he was not a member of the Klan.

Merry-Go-Round

Americans for Democratic Action, sometimes described as the "New Deal government in exile" will come out for Eisenhower April 10 in Pittsburgh. . . . While Congress exposes strategic shipments to Russia, one of the Marshall Plan countries—Belgium—has just concluded a juicy trade pact with Moscow. . . . Veterans for Eisenhower now active in 24 states have opened new quarters at 3 Tenley Circle, Washington. They are trying to bombard Ike with 3,000,000 draft cards. . . . Harold Young, Henry Wallace's former right-hand man, will practice law near Uvalde, Tex., John Garner's hometown. . . . The CIO has decided to undertake a million-dollar advertising campaign to win support for liberal candidates whether they be Republicans or Democrats. . . . The Army, Navy and Air Force are all set to reopen the vast network of wartime posts in the USA as soon as Congress authorizes more manpower. . . . Smartest thing Secretary of Defense Forrestal ever did was to play up to Walter Winchell re Russia. . . . Senator Taft is not happy about the way Harold Stassen's campaign is going in certain Ohio districts — notably Cleveland, Toledo, Akron and Dayton. Looks like Stassen would hook some delegates. . . . Motion-picture czar Eric Johnston, calling at the White House last week, informed Truman that French and Italian attendance at showings of American movies had risen rapidly of late—even though Russian movies are given them free plus free transportation to the movie houses.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, March 31—(INS)—Every now and then a columnist's mail gets too interesting to be filed with a reflective "hmmmm." So here's some of recent vintage:

"Mr. Truman may not have the greatest advisers a President ever had," writes a New Yorker who was in the reviewing stand at the St. Patrick's Day parade (and who asks that his name be withheld). "But he has enough smart cookies around him to have wrung a complaint from Mr. Dewey during the parade.

"One of them learned that the school whose pupils were attacked by that gun-toting madman not long before the parade was going to march. He sent word to the school official to drop out of the line of march long enough to meet the President and receive the latter's expression of sympathy.

"This was done, and the Presidents' sincerity made a deep impression.

"Governor Dewey added his sympathies, but, as he was leaving, turned to one of his staff and said, 'Why don't some of you lunkheads think of things like that?'"

"Dear Bob," writes a member of the swank Burning Tree Golf Club, playing course of top members of Washington's official life. "General Eisenhower played here a few Sundays ago and, in the locker room later, sounded off briefly and eloquently against the heavy pressure being put upon him to change his mind about running for President.

"'I've said no in every possible language, every possible way,' Ike said. 'I'm not interested and, what's more, I'm completely fed up with some of the politicians who have been after me, night and day. If one more of them puts the bee on me, I'm getting out of Washington for keeps!'"

"Dear Sir," Writes George E. Hayes, of Hoboken, N. J., "yesterday I received two Mexican sweepstakes books in the mail with instructions on how to make returns, and a miniature reproduction of your column of March 4 (in reference to the new tie-up between the Mexican and Irish sweeps).

"On the instruction sheet it stated that I should send counterfoils and checks to the person on the enclosed slip. Since your column was enclosed, I am led to believe that it must mean you.

"If you are acting as agent for the Mexican sweepstakes I can then feel assured that they are authentic."

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

The present national political set-up makes me shudder like an awning in a hurricane.

Not one candidate on either side has mentioned grass roots. That's the best political salad there is when chopped up fine and mixed with the old apple sauce.

And not a single politico has hubbed up on his rear axles and hollered, "Don't changes hosses in mid-stream."

They never told us how that noble animal got out there. Now we know some screwball galloped him off a wharf.

Processes Of Public Opinion May Bring End To Coal Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 31 — The American people are about to witness an example of how to attempt to stop a strike by the processes of public opinion—the most enlightened method that democracy has been able to devise.

If it fails, compulsory arbitration will ensue.

John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers Union have never been up against the procedures which Congress has fortunately provided under the Taft-Hartley law.

If the provisions are found ineffective, further legislation may be enacted that will prescribe a procedure to require settlements in national industries affecting the public health and safety.

This proposal was contained in some of the bills which were under consideration before the Taft-Hartley bill was worked out in conference between the two houses of Congress, but it was thought to be too drastic to win enough votes to override a presidential veto.

Lewis Invited Taft-Hartley Bill

Mr. Lewis did more to get the Taft-Hartley bill enacted into law than any employer or trade association, and he is now in a fair way to compel the passage of more legislation with teeth in it. As a tactician in behalf of union labor, he is the worst foe that the trade-union movement has developed in recent years.

The labor leaders of other unions may rant about the Taft-Hartley law, yet, but for that statute, Congress would be considering far more drastic legislation today and President Truman would be urging it. The pension dispute is one that reasonable men ought to be able to resolve in an orderly fashion.

The nation ought not to have its fuel supply tied up while lawyers wrangle on the meaning of technical phrases.

The next step which the government will take under the Taft-Hartley law is to request that a federal court issue an injunction for 80 days while the presidential board of inquiry takes testimony from both sides and then makes a report to the public.

The board has the widest latitude in asking questions and compelling answers and in cross-examining witnesses so that at the end of a 60-day period it can get to the bottom of the dispute and tell the public what is right as well as who is right.

Naturally Mr. Lewis will contend that he did not initiate a strike and that the miners quit work as individuals and of their own free will. This kind of hooey will appeal to nobody who understands the manner in which several hundred thousand miners act concertedly.

The court in due time will enjoin the union from continuing the strike and can order all union funds impounded so no strike benefits can be paid out. Also the president and officers of the miners' union can be ordered publicly to disavow the strike and to request the men to go back to work. Any attempt to deal by subterfuge or circumvention with the court's order would mean a charge of contempt and possibly jail sentences for those who evaded the court's order.

May Not Go That Far

It may be that Mr. Lewis, knowing all these angles, will not go that far but will ask the men to go back to work while the issues are explored by the President's fact-finding board.

Certainly when three impartial members of the board of inquiry, who have no relationship to the miners or operators, get all the facts together and then insist on a final proposal from the employers, some progress can be anticipated. This final proposal must be voted on in secret within 15 days after the National Labor Relations Board gets it from the President's board of inquiry.

Once the men have voted, the results are then certified to the President. If the vote is negative, the President then puts the matter up to Congress for legislation.

It is a procedure that is somewhat analogous to that which has been used so successfully under the railway meditation law. Mr. Lewis can delay the isuance of the 80-day injunction by legal technicalities, but it seems hardly probable that this will hold up the injunction more than a few days.

Meanwhile, if it seems certain that the work stoppage will be ended, coal stocks on hand will be used in the interim on the assurance that production will soon be resumed.

Video and Politics

FOR A year now, we have been looking at a television instrument. Most of the looking is done by the younger members of the family who like fights, wrestling, basketball and the doings of the "Small Fry." Whenever I want to see something, the set kicks up. Either some doctor's diathermy is at work, or an amateur is experimenting, or planes are overhead. We are always having mechanics about the place who leave fingerprints on the walls and woodwork and get paid for it.

Certainly, nothing ought to go wrong so often and yet be in such good condition. It is like the doctor who tells the patient he is in prime shape, but the patient drops dead as he leaves the doctor's office.

The other day, I appeared on video and it was a beastly ordeal because the lights produce too much heat. Also, nobody told me not to slump in my seat, so when I did, the lights made my middle resemble that of Man - Mountain Dean. However, it was a gay experience, particularly as I said precisely what I wanted to say and the audience could see an attempt made to stop me.

I see by the newspapers that David Sarnoff, who runs the Radio Corporation of America and is a very shrewd hombre, having come up the very hard way, appraises video almost as revolutionary in political consequences. He said:

"We have but to recall the tremendous effect of radio broadcasting upon the social and political life of the nation to look forward to the profound effect which television is certain to have on domestic habits and politics."

He is so right about that. Radio made it possible for a lunkhead to read a ghost-written speech, after having had some specialist teach him how to modulate his voice in such a manner that it came over the radio entertainingly. For example, Franklin D. Roosevelt had a perfect radio voice after he had been taught by experts. He never wrote a speech for himself. There used to be bets over who prepared which paragraph. The script was marked up like a musical score. It came over wonderful.

On the other hand, men like Herbert Hoover or Robert A. Taft do not sound so well on the radio because they have never gone in for voice culture and fancy pauses and suspense and such things. In a word, they speak politics but are not auditioning to become a professional radio announcer who is hired for his voice.

Television will change that, and change it radically. The uninspired face, the fellow with his tongue in his cheek will be exposed. Sarnoff said:

"He must look into the television camera and speak to the people face to face. His appearance, his smile, his gestures, combined with the sound of his voice to complete the transmission of his personality—and it is that complete personality with which the voter will become acquainted."

For instance, Harry Truman, on television, looks better than he reads, except when he is doing gymnastics on the deck of a battleship. When he does gymnastics, he looks like an old man showing off to his youngest grandchild. But most of the time, he gives the impression of a sincere man, trying to get along. His words are weak and his voice is awful, but he evokes friendship and sympathy. Nobody can teach that. It is in the personality. It is the result of klieg lights on the subconscious. That is why many movies are spoiled by their stars: they speak of great spiritual purity but their eyes look as though they had taken too many flings. Make-up cannot change that—but when it comes to actors, most people don't care. For as that comic paper, "The New Yorker," once said, in an effort to confound an argument, an actor on the stage is not obligated to mirror his own life, and vice versa.

Anything is superior to the bluffing that radio makes possible. Video will not only change the political picture, but in time many ham commentators will disappear because when the public gets one look at them, it will prefer wrestling. That might save our sanity.

Today's Talk

Without Money Or Price

I can see nothing to be gained by envying the possessions of another, nor in bemoaning the lack of anything beyond what is useful to us in serving another. How rich we seem to get as we keep distributing! Said Dr. Axel Munthe: "All that is really useful to us can be bought for little money, it is only the superfluous that is put up for sale at a high price."

How saturated with beauty and glory is the oncoming of the Springtime—its awakening from the long and troublesome days of Winter. The return of the song birds, the miraculous opening of the buds and leaves, and the greening grass coming to life again. What fragrance in the air, what a stir in all Nature!

The same heavens and the same colorful sky, the same rise of Sun and the same lowering of beauty in the Western horizon, as when God created this wonderful world, and then viewing it, proclaimed that it was very good. And today we say that it is very good—good to be alive with richness all about us, and for which we pay nothing—just appreciation, that's all.

Every book I own for a little time, I look upon as a piece of wealth, for it is the product of a human mind. I cannot pick up a single stone without wondering about its composition, and marveling at its coloring and derivation. The simplest flower is a friend, and I often talk to one. It tells me things that no book or human being has ever imparted to me.

Ten months of the year I dream of my return to my small Lodge at Grand Lake, Nova Scotia, which is one of a group of small islands. Everything is very simple there, yet to me it is a miniature heaven. Silence and natural beauty are all about. I love every tree there and every rock that lines its shore. Its mossy paths, so very colorful, and the springy earth, so deeply carpeted with millions of fallen pine needles, are a joy to tread. God pays for the upkeep! I, in return, humbly return my thanks.

We have far more things to be thankful for than we ever dream. A few friends, a selected cluster of books near at hand, some useful service daily being performed, and how rich one can feel! Contentment and peace of mind are what we earn, and we earn them by teaching others in invest in them.

Playground Fund Action Postponed

Mayor Thombas S. Post suggested yesterday that any final decision on funds for the Virginia Avenue Playground Association be postponed until the new council takes office next week.

A six-woman delegation from the association, headed by Mrs. Vivian Turley, secretary of the Virginia Avenue Parent-Teacher Association, appeared before the Mayor and Council to make an appeal for any remaining funds in the playground account.

After the meeting City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson checked accounts and said a balance of not more than $11.32 is possible.

As of February 29 the playground account showed a balance of $1,687.52. Of this amount the council has paid $1,017.72 for improvements at Gephart Playground and expended the rest for sand, cement, lumber and plumbing at various places.

Mrs. Turley said her group last November was promised any balance after Gephart needs were met. She said the money is wanted to purchase equipment.

The council rescinded an order passed Monday regarding the transfer of funds from one account to another and then authorized the following transfers:

From—City Hall, $200; contingent, $5,900; engineering, $600; sewers, $2,500; and streets and alleys, $2,300.

To—Accident awards, $1,200; airport, $200; collector, $100; City Hall annex, $300; Constitution Park, $400; election, $1,200; errors and insolvencies, $1,000; garbage, $1,200; salaries, $200; street cleaning, $4,500; and warehouse, $1,400.

Another order empowered the auditor to transfer any unused funds to the contingent account and then to transfer that amount to the surplus account.

A motion to take a one-page advertisement for $20 in a program for the "Minstrel Melodies", to be presented by the student nurses of Allegany Hospital at SS. Peter and Paul Hall, April 19 and 20, was approved.. Mayor Post said the money raised would be used to assist student nurses get an education.

Commissioner William V. Keegan suggested that steps be taken to have as many poles as possible removed from city streets.

Safety Measures Urged At Ocean Mine No. 1

Following a Federal inspection in February, safer blasting practices and added ventilation precautions to supplement several recent safety advances at Ocean Mine No. 1 are being urged by the Bureau of Mines.

The mine is operated by the Consolidated Coal Company, Inc., and at the time of the inspection, 39 men were employed in the daily production of 180 tons of coal.

A ban on open flame lights and smoking in the mine was urged along with more air for the Rock Hill section. Other recommendations called for better maintenance of escapeways, including posting of escapeway-direction signs and the wearing of protective hats and footwear by all employes, and approved-type goggles for all eyehazardous work.

Playground Fund Action Postponed

Mayor Thombas S. Post suggested yesterday that any final decision on funds for the Virginia Avenue Playground Association be postponed until the new council takes office next week.

A six-woman delegation from the association, headed by Mrs. Vivian Turley, secretary of the Virginia Avenue Parent-Teacher Association, appeared before the Mayor and Council to make an appeal for any remaining funds in the playground account.

After the meeting City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson checked accounts and said a balance of not more than $11.32 is possible.

As of February 29 the playground account showed a balance of $1,687.52. Of this amount the council has paid $1,017.72 for improvements at Gephart Playground and expended the rest for sand, cement, lumber and plumbing at various places.

Mrs. Turley said her group last November was promised any balance after Gephart needs were met. She said the money is wanted to purchase equipment.

The council rescinded an order passed Monday regarding the transfer of funds from one account to another and then authorized the following transfers:

From—City Hall, $200; contingent, $5,900; engineering, $600; sewers, $2,500; and streets and alleys, $2,300.

To—Accident awards, $1,200; airport, $200; collector, $100; City Hall annex, $300; Constitution Park, $400; election, $1,200; errors and insolvencies, $1,000; garbage, $1,200; salaries, $200; street cleaning, $4,500; and warehouse, $1,400.

Another order empowered the auditor to transfer any unused funds to the contingent account and then to transfer that amount to the surplus account.

A motion to take a one-page advertisement for $20 in a program for the "Minstrel Melodies", to be presented by the student nurses of Allegany Hospital at SS. Peter and Paul Hall, April 19 and 20, was approved. Mayor Post said the money raised would be used to assist student nurses get an education.

Commissioner William V. Keegan suggested that steps be taken to have as many poles as possible removed from city streets.

Safety Measures Urged At Ocean Mine No. 1

Following a Federal inspection in February, safer blasting practices and added ventilation precautions to supplement several recent safety advances at Ocean Mine No. 1 are being urged by the Bureau of Mines.

The mine is operated by the Consolidated Coal Company, Inc., and at the time of the inspection, 39 men were employed in the daily production of 180 tons of coal.

A ban on open flame lights and smoking in the mine was urged along with more air for the Rock Hill section. Other recommendations called for better maintenance of escapeways, including posting of escapeway-direction signs and the wearing of protective hats and footwear by all employes, and approved-type goggles for all eyehazardous work.

Hardinger Fined For Exceeding 70 Miles An Hour

Wilbur Hardinger, Route 3, Bedford Road, was fined $100.75 on a charge of exceeding 70 miles an hour and $5.75 for passing on a curve, after pleading guilty to both charges yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court.

Hardinger, who said he was recently furloughed from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, testified before Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce., Jr., that he was "hurrying home to go fishing."

Trooper William F. Baker, who arrested Hardinger last Wednesday on Route 220 at Frantztown, said he clocked the Bedford Road man at 85 miles an hour.

Another motorist, George V. Tucker, Route 1, city, was acquitted of a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. The local painter and Navy veteran was arrested Tuesday on Route 40 in LaVale by trooper Milton Hart.

Tucker pleaded guilty to a second charge of reckless driving and was fined $10.75.

Joseph Raney, Braddock, Pa., forfeited $6.45 for exceeding 30 in LaVale, and Herbert Lee Miller, Route 2, was fined $20.75 on a charge of exceeding 50 on Route 40. Both were arrested Saturday by Trooper George E. Coddington.

Accused of using tags issued to another vehicle, Robert Vincent Warnick, 519 North Mechanic Street, was fined $5.75 and Charles W. Nicodemus, 231 Henderson Avenue, paid a fine of $1.75 for permitting dealer's tags to be displayed more than ten days. Trooper William O. McElfish made the arrests Monday.

Doral C. Lambert, 605 Virginia Avenue, forfeited $11.45 for driving on an instructor's permit with no licensed operator in the city. Trooper McElfish preferred charges.

George Gilbert Cecil, Route 5, was given a suspended fine for operating a motor vehicle with inadequate brakes. He was arrested Tuesday in LaVale by Trooper Hart.

Robert George Hott, Valley Road, was fined $21.45 for permitting an unauthorized person to operate a motor vehicle. He pleaded not guilty of the charge.

His companion, Gilbert Fulk, also of Route 3, identified himself as driver of the car when it wrecked on Valley Road early last Thursday, and was fined $5.75.

Trooper McElfish said Hott originally told police his car had been stolen from in front of Shobe's Gas Station in Bowman's Addition before it was wrecked. Damage to the demolished machine, which knocked down a wooden fence after leaving the road, was $475.

O'Conor Urges New, Strong Air Force

Senator Herbert R. O'Conor (D.-Md.) yesterday issued a prepared statement urging a strong United States Air Force as the nation's best guarantee for peace and stressed the need for speed in building a modern air arm.

"We would be guilty of the worst type of national indifference if we did not recognize frankly the direction from which an attack will come, if we did not face facts and admit the existence of Russia as a possible aggressor," the Senator declared.

"Today's great tragedy is that we do not have that air force. We have a pitifully weak air force, an obsolete air force, backed up by a withering aircraft industry. The time for discussion already has passed," Senator O'Conor declared, adding, "The time for action is here."

Vandehout Administrator Sues For $10,000 Damage

The suit is the result of an automobile mishap on Mt. Savage Road, when the elder Vandehout was a rider in an automobile said to be owned and operated by Glover. The plaintiff claims injuries received caused the death of Vandehout and asks for $10,000 damages.

924 County Veterans

"These suggestions of course would require the co-operation of city and state government officials. One suggestion is exemption from city taxes of all new homes up to $5,000 of their costs, provided they were finished within three years from the start. Labor costs for new homes are up 140 per cent too much.

"Another suggestion is 'taxes'. A pine board costing a dollar includes at least 25 cents in taxes. A $5,000 home has about $1,250 federal, state, county and city taxes in that price.

"I took time to write this letter hoping that something will be done very soon to cut the cost of homes in our state. The sales tax we have in Maryland should not be applied on lumber that one buys for new homes. Why isn't something done about this?

"If at any time I can be of help to you by offering suggestions, etc., please feel free to call on me. I know that lower cost homes can be built if everyone would co-operate and that means the federal, state, county and city officials."

Request Investigation

Several veterans who purchased newly constructed homes asked that a Veterans Administration inspector be sent to check these houses.

One typical comment was, "There is little use to list the defects without the understanding that some capable and efficient representative will visit and see for himself the conditions of these homes. When the original specifications were made the project was intended entirely for GI's so as to gain priority on building materials, but recently homes have been sold to non-GI's even though veterans want them."

Another who has bought a newly constructed home under a GI loan wrote, "Something should be done to keep this contractor from selling any more houses like this one I bought."

"I really got taken. This house is falling apart. Floors are dropping down. Plaster is cracking. The house isn't fully finished."

Cites Faulty Construction

Another wrote, "I have one of the new GI houses, and although it is fair there is a lot of faulty construction. Doors won't stay shut without banging them shut. Poor workmanship which seems to impress me with the idea that jobs are rushed so workmen can move on to the next sucker's house. That's the general impression of everyone I've talked to who bought one of these houses. A personal check by a VA representative should be made."

Another veteran, from Westernport, wrote, "I wrote to Senator Tydings and I just received an answer. He told me that I should get eight veterans like myself and start to build under the GI Bill of Rights."

Senator Tydings' letter to the veteran was attached to the returned questionnaire.

This same veteran wrote a letter to the Veterans Housing Committee explaining, "I am glad you sent me this paper to fill out, because some of us in Allegany County are living like pigs in a pen. I have a family of five here and I don't have any bathtub. I don't have proper heat and use gas stoves. The house is damp and mouldy and the children have been sick all winter with colds and coughs. We all have to sleep in the same room. I am not a loafer and have a good job and work steadily. I can afford better housing and can pay for a home if I can just get one started. I hope your committee can accomplish something."

service to Great Britain, he was made Commander of the Royal Victorian Order by the late King George.

Col. Stewart-Roddie was born in 1878 and educated at the Royal Academy, Inverness and in France and Germany. He entered World War I in 1914 and was in active service until being wounded in 1918.

In 1919 he served with the Intelligence Department of the War Office, subsequently carrying out special missions to Germany for the War Office, Minister of Munitions and Department of Overseas Trade.

Because of special knowledge of Germany he was appointed to the Inter-Allied Disarmament Commission. His observations of Germany through the periods of disarmament and revolution were increased by numerous later visits to that country.

In addition to his work for England in Germany, Col. Stewart-Roddie has been associated with financial missions to the Far East and to the United States.

In the '30s he gave lectures in this country on "Germany—Disarmament, Revolution, Hitler" and is well-remembered from coast to coast. During the war years between missions he was in great demand as a speaker in England.

If you fellas and gals think you have a tough time nowadays making ends meet, you should talk to R. J. Reuschlein, 308 Decatur Street, who retired Wednesday morning after serving Western Union for 56 years.

According to Reuschlein, he started with Western Union in 1892 as a messenger boy at a salary of $10 a month, yes, a month. He worked from 8 in the morning until 10 at night for that meager sum, and it was seven days a week, too.

But that didn't dim the hopes of the night wire chief who retired Wednesday, because he soon got one of his biggest thrills, an honest-to-goodness Baltimore and Ohio lantern to help him see at night.

When he started, and for sometime after, Reuschlein said, typewriters were unheard of and all the work was done in longhand and then carried to the home for which the message was intended. There were only about 100 telephones in Cumberland at that time. Most of the trips were over muddy roads, too, which made travel bad.

"I can remember very well," said Reuschlein, "when all trains used to stop in Cumberland so the passengers could eat, but those days are gone now, what with the new diners and coffee shops."

Blue stone batteries were used in those days and Western Union has since come a long way, he reflected. The newest equipment is the beam system of transmitting messages, which will do away with all poles.

Reminiscing a little more, the 69-year-old man, who looks a good deal younger, said, "I can even remember the time when I had to swipe wood from the B. and O. to keep the Western Union office warm."

Looking back over his past experiences, Reuschlein said he could remember intercepting a message telling that World War I was over. He confirmed the wire and then notified Charles Donnelly of the old Daily News, who beat the Baltimore Sun on the streets with the glad news.

Reuschlein says he never had much time for fishing, but he believes he will be taking it up soon. A trip, too, is in the offing, but nothing definite has been planned.

Army Rejects Men Serving Probation

Because they have received suspended sentences or been convicted of minor crimes, from 10 to 15 men are rejected each month for enlistment in the Army and Air Force, it was learned locally Wednesday.

Lt. George Gocke said that men who receive suspended sentences and are placed on their good behavior for a period of time are not eligible to enlist until after the time has expired and an additional six months of probation passes.

All questionable enlistees who have served their period of probation are referred to the commander of the Baltimore Recruiting District for approval.

eral. After the meeting the mayor said that perhaps "Walsh and associates" would have been a better term than "Walsh machine.")

Commissioner Light entered the picture at this stage, stating that he believes "the company should pay something for using city streets." He added that "nine out of ten people" using the buses have to stand.

"I would like some clarification on the 'Walsh machine'," said Commissioner Keegan.

"Mr. Walsh acts for the utilities," said Mayor Post. "Since I have been mayor Mr. Walsh always appears at the City Hall when the Potomac Edison is to be represented."

Hardinger Fined For Exceeding 70 Miles An Hour

Wilbur Hardinger, Route 3, Bedford Road, was fined $100.75 on a charge of exceeding 70 miles an hour and $5.75 for passing on a curve, after pleading guilty to both charges yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court.

Hardinger, who said he was recently furloughed from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, testified before Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce., Jr., that he was "hurrying home to go fishing."

Trooper William F. Baker, who arrested Hardinger last Wednesday on Route 220 at Frantztown, said he clocked the Bedford Road man at 85 miles an hour.

Another motorist, George V. Tucker, Route 1, city, was acquitted of a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. The local painter and Navy veteran was arrested Tuesday on Route 40 in LaVale by trooper Milton Hart.

Tucker pleaded guilty to a second charge of reckless driving and was fined $10.75.

Joseph Raney, Braddock, Pa., forfeited $6.45 for exceeding 30 in LaVale, and Herbert Lee Miller, Route 2, was fined $20.75 on a charge of exceeding 50 on Route 40. Both were arrested Saturday by Trooper George E. Coddington.

Accused of using tags issued to another vehicle, Robert Vincent Warnick, 519 North Mechanic Street, was fined $5.75 and Charles W. Nicodemus, 231 Henderson Avenue, paid a fine of $1.75 for permitting dealer's tags to be displayed more than ten days. Trooper William O. McElfish made the arrests Monday.

Doral C. Lambert, 605 Virginia Avenue, forfeited $11.45 for driving on an instructor's permit with no licensed operator in the city. Trooper McElfish preferred charges.

George Gilbert Cecil, Route 5, was given a suspended fine for operating a motor vehicle with inadequate brakes. He was arrested Tuesday in LaVale by Trooper Hart.

Robert George Hott, Valley Road, was fined $21.45 for permitting an unauthorized person to operate a motor vehicle. He pleaded not guilty of the charge.

His companion, Gilbert Fulk, also of Route 3, identified himself as driver of the car when it wrecked on Valley Road early last Thursday, and was fined $5.75.

Trooper McElfish said Hott originally told police his car had been stolen from in front of Shobe's Gas Station in Bowman's Addition before it was wrecked. Damage to the demolished machine, which knocked down a wooden fence after leaving the road, was $475.

O'Conor Urges New, Strong Air Force

Senator Herbert R. O'Conor (D.-Md.) yesterday issued a prepared statement urging a strong United States Air Force as the nation's best guarantee for peace and stressed the need for speed in building a modern air arm.

"We would be guilty of the worst type of national indifference if we did not recognize frankly the direction from which an attack will come, if we did not face facts and admit the existence of Russia as a possible aggressor," the Senator declared.

"Today's great tragedy is that we do not have that air force. We have a pitifully weak air force, an obsolete air force, backed up by a withering aircraft industry. The time for discussion already has passed," Senator O'Conor declared, adding, "The time for action is here."

Vandehout Administrator Sues For $10,000 Damage

Through his attorney, Paul M. Fletcher, Adrainos H. Vandehout, administrator for the estate of Floyd Edward Vandehout, has filed suit against Foster C. Glover, administrator for the estate of Foster Glover, according to records filed yesterday at the Court House.

The suit is the result of an automobile mishap on Mt. Savage Road, when the elder Vandehout was a rider in an automobile said to be owned and operated by Glover. The plaintiff claims injuries received caused the death of Vandehout and asks for $10,000 damages.

City Will Pay For Airport Buildings

Machinery was set in motion Wednesday by the Mayor and City Council to pay Cumberland Airways, Inc., for erection of buildings at the airport during the two year period ending December 31.

An approved order authorized the city auditor to transfer $37,169.88 from the Valley Street Bridge account to the Cumberland Airport Bond fund and to hold the money for payment to Cumberland Airways.

According to Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, in the lease with Cumberland Airways, the city must pay for the cost of the buildings erected, less depreciation. The amount is about $38,000.

Local 26 To Vote On Wage Request

Also slated at the meeting is an address by Dr. A. L. Lewis, educational director of the URCLPWA, who is expected to advocate and institute a public speaking training course for the local.

"These suggestions of course would require the co-operation of city and state government officials. One suggestion is exemption from city taxes of all new homes up to $5,000 of their costs, provided they were finished within three years from the start. Labor costs for new homes are up 140 per cent too much.

"Another suggestion is 'taxes'. A pine board costing a dollar includes at least 25 cents in taxes. A $5,000 home has about $1,250 federal, state, county and city taxes in that price.

"I took time to write this letter hoping that something will be done very soon to cut the cost of homes in our state. The sales tax we have in Maryland should not be applied on lumber that one buys for new homes. Why isn't something done about this?

"If at any time I can be of help to you by offering suggestions, etc., please feel free to call on me. I know that lower cost homes can be built if everyone would co-operate and that means the federal, state, county and city officials."

Request Investigation

Several veterans who purchased newly constructed homes asked that a Veterans Administration inspector be sent to check these houses.

One typical comment was, "There is little use to list the defects without the understanding that some capable and efficient representative will visit and see for himself the conditions of these homes. When the original specifications were made the project was intended entirely for GI's so as to gain priority on building materials, but recently homes have been sold to non-GI's even though veterans want them."

Another who has bought a newly constructed home under a GI loan wrote, "Something should be done to keep this contractor from selling any more houses like this one I bought."

"I really got taken. This house is falling apart. Floors are dropping down. Plaster is cracking. The house isn't fully finished."

Cites Faulty Construction

Another wrote, "I have one of the new GI houses, and although it is fair there is a lot of faulty construction. Doors won't stay shut without banging them shut. Poor workmanship which seems to impress me with the idea that jobs are rushed so workmen can move on to the next sucker's house. That's the general impression of everyone I've talked to who bought one of these houses. A personal check by a VA representative should be made."

Another veteran, from Westernport, wrote, "I wrote to Senator Tydings and I just received an answer. He told me that I should get eight veterans like myself and start to build under the GI Bill of Rights."

Senator Tydings' letter to the veteran was attached to the returned questionnaire.

This same veteran wrote a letter to the Veterans Housing Committee explaining, "I am glad you sent me this paper to fill out, because some of us in Allegany County are living like pigs in a pen. I have a family of five here and I don't have any bathtub. I don't have proper heat and use gas stoves. The house is damp and mouldy and the children have been sick all winter with colds and coughs. We all have to sleep in the same room. I am not a loafer and have a good job and work steadily. I can afford better housing and can pay for a home if I can just get one started. I hope your committee can accomplish something."

service to Great Britain, he was made Commander of the Royal Victorian Order by the late King George.

Col. Stewart-Roddie was born in 1878 and educated at the Royal Academy, Inverness and in France and Germany. He entered World War I in 1914 and was in active service until being wounded in 1918.

In 1919 he served with the Intelligence Department of the War Office, subsequently carrying out special missions to Germany for the War Office, Minister of Munitions and Department of Overseas Trade.

Because of special knowledge of Germany he was appointed to the Inter-Allied Disarmament Commission. His observations of Germany through the periods of disarmament and revolution were increased by numerous later visits to that country.

In addition to his work for England in Germany, Col. Stewart-Roddie has been associated with financial missions to the Far East and to the United States.

In the '30s he gave lectures in this country on "Germany—Disarmament, Revolution, Hitler" and is well-remembered from coast to coast. During the war years between missions he was in great demand as a speaker in England.

If you fellas and gals think you have a tough time nowadays making ends meet, you should talk to R. J. Reuschlein, 308 Decatur Street, who retired Wednesday morning after serving Western Union for 56 years.

According to Reuschlein, he started with Western Union in 1892 as a messenger boy at a salary of $10 a month, yes, a month. He worked from 8 in the morning until 10 at night for that meager sum, and it was seven days a week, too.

But that didn't dim the hopes of the night wire chief who retired Wednesday, because he soon got one of his biggest thrills, an honest-to-goodness Baltimore and Ohio lantern to help him see at night.

When he started, and for sometime after, Reuschlein said, typewriters were unheard of and all the work was done in longhand and then carried to the home for which the message was intended. There were only about 100 telephones in Cumberland at that time. Most of the trips were over muddy roads, too, which made travel bad.

"I can remember very well," said Reuschlein, "when all trains used to stop in Cumberland so the passengers could eat, but those days are gone now, what with the new diners and coffee shops."

Blue stone batteries were used in those days and Western Union has since come a long way, he reflected. The newest equipment is the beam system of transmitting messages, which will do away with all poles.

Reminiscing a little more, the 69-year-old man, who looks a good deal younger, said, "I can even remember the time when I had to swipe wood from the B. and O. to keep the Western Union office warm."

Looking back over his past experiences, Reuschlein said he could remember intercepting a message telling that World War I was over. He confirmed the wire and then notified Charles Donnelly of the old Daily News, who beat the Baltimore Sun on the streets with the glad news.

Reuschlein says he never had much time for fishing, but he believes he will be taking it up soon. A trip, too, is in the offing, but nothing definite has been planned.

Army Rejects Men Serving Probation

Because they have received suspended sentences or been convicted of minor crimes, from 10 to 15 men are rejected each month for enlistment in the Army and Air Force, it was learned locally Wednesday.

Lt. George Gocke said that men who receive suspended sentences and are placed on their good behavior for a period of time are not eligible to enlist until after the time has expired and an additional six months of probation passes.

All questionable enlistees who have served their period of probation are referred to the commander of the Baltimore Recruiting District for approval.

eral. After the meeting the mayor said that perhaps "Walsh and associates" would have been a better term than "Walsh machine.")

Commissioner Light entered the picture at this stage, stating that he believes "the company should pay something for using city streets." He added that "nine out of ten people" using the buses have to stand.

"I would like some clarification on the 'Walsh machine'," said Commissioner Keegan.

"Mr. Walsh acts for the utilities," said Mayor Post. "Since I have been mayor Mr. Walsh always appears at the City Hall when the Potomac Edison is to be represented."

ALONG THE POTOMAC TO WASHINGTON

By J. GLENN BEALL
(Member of Congress from Maryland Sixth District)

The surprisingly heavy vote by which the amended version of the Knutson Tax Reduction Bill passed the Senate (78 to 11) on Monday of last week, and the House (279 to 66) on Wednesday of last week, seems to make certain the measure will be quickly enacted into law over the President's veto if he sees fit to take such action. It Requires a two to one vote—or a two-thirds majority—to enact a bill into law over a Presidential veto. In the Senate the vote in favor of the Tax Reduction Bill was better than seven to one. In the House the vote was approximately four and one-half to one. Even the Democratic leaders of Congress are predicting there will not be a sufficient number of legislators who will vote to support the veto to endanger enactment of the bill, notwithstanding the President's objections.

Under the new law a long existing inequality in Federal taxation will be eliminated. For many years husbands and wives in the twelve Community Property States have been permitted to divide their family income for tax purposes, while those in the other thirty-six States were not. Under the new Knutson Tax Reduction Bill this privilege will be extended to all married couples throughout the United States. This will mean a substantial tax saving which will run as high as thirty-five or thirty-six per cent in some instances.

The 80th Congress has at last given recognition to the fact that the aged and the blind are not as capable of earning their own livings as are other citizens, and must of necessity live off their savings or their incomes from investments. As a result the Congress has not only increased the individual exemption for income tax purposes from five hundred to six hundred dollars a year, but has also voted an additional exemption of another six hundred dollars to each individual over sixty-five years of age, and has also granted another six hundred exemption to all blind persons, regardless of age. Under this provision a blind person of more than sixty-five years of age would be entitled to eighteen hundred dollars per annum.

On Wednesday, March 17, President Truman delivered an address to the Congress and the country in which he indicated there was grave danger of war with Russia, and called upon the people of this country and of all the world to do what they could to stop Communistic aggression. On Monday, March 22, Congressman Alvin C. Weichel, Sandusky, Ohio, Chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine, arose on the floor of the House and asked how come the President was permitting Russian ships to be loading, at that very moment in New Jersey ports, with huge quantities of materials which could be used for making war. He pointed out that the President, under authority granted by Congress, has the power to control or stop all foreign exports. Less than two weeks before the President spoke to the Congress on the danger of Communistic aggression in Europe the House Subcommittee on Appropriations for the State Department gave a forty-page report to the Congress on a large number of employees of the State Department, some in high places, who had been engaged in radical activities or belonging to "fellow traveler" organizations, against whom complaints had been filed or their royalty questioned, without any conclusive action being taken by the State Department to get rid of such employees. Seemingly we are fighting Communists in Europe while at the same time we are supplying Russia with American war materials and harboring radicals and disloyal suspects within our own Government.

Late last week the House and Senate agreed on a compromise bill to extend rent control for one year, or until March 31, 1949. Under the new Rent Control Law local boards will have the power to fix rentals, subject to final approval or disapproval of the Federal Rent Administrator, with the right of appeal from the Rent Administrator's decision to a special Federal Appeals Court.

I was advised that the National Park Service will make a preliminary survey of the C and O Canal in the very near future. This is in line with my bill H. I was advised by the Post Office Department that mail service would be extended through the 500 block of Thayer Avenue, Silver Spring.

It's a heck of a Birthday Cake

Lots of folks have told us that a sparkling new coat of Hanline Bros. paint looks "good enough to eat"—but we'd hardly recommend it as cake icing!

However, even on a festive occasion like our 100th birthday, we can't get our mind off the paint business. And, maybe that's a pretty good thing for you—a full hundred years of learning how to make paint better and better—a hundred years of accumulated experience and "know how" makes the Hanline Paint you buy look better and last longer than any other kind we know.

Thanks to you for trying and buying our paint. And, thanks to the fine dealers—each one outstanding in his own community—who have been selling our paints for so many years!

Husbands, please note! The average housewife performs 70 different tasks in her normal day's work! (Frankly, women will think this figure far too low, but it comes from the U. S. Government's Office of Education!)

Yes, home-making is a big job—but dependable, time-and-labor-saving electricity helps a housewife skip through her maze of tasks. Electric service saves her steps, lightens her work, gives her more leisure, makes life healthier and happier for her and all her family!

And it costs so little! In an era of sky-high prices, that same average housewife still gets twice as much electricity for her budget dollar as she got 20 years ago!

Yes, it is a-maze-ing!

ALONG THE POTOMA TO WASHINGTON

By J. GLENN BEALL

(Member of Congress from Maryland Sixth District)

The surprisingly heavy vote by which the amended version of the Knutson Tax Reduction Bill passed the Senate (78 to 11) on Monday of last week, and the House (279 to 66) on Wednesday of last week, seems to make certain the measure will be quickly enacted into law over the President's veto if he sees fit to take such action. It Requires a two to one vote—or a two-thirds majority—to enact a bill into law over a Presidential veto. In the Senate the vote in favor of the Tax Reduction Bill was better than seven to one. In the House the vote was approximately four and one-half to one. Even the Democratic leaders of Congress are predicting there will not be a sufficient number of legislators who will vote to support the veto to endanger enactment of the bill, notwithstanding the President's objections.

Under the new law a long existing inequality in Federal taxation will be eliminated. For many years husbands and wives in the twelve Community Property States have been permitted to divide their family income for tax purposes, while those in the other thirty-six States were not. Under the new Knutson Tax Reduction Bill this privilege will be extended to all married couples throughout the United States. This will mean a substantial tax saving which will run as high as thirty-five or thirty-six per cent in some instances.

The 80th Congress has at last given recognition to the fact that the aged and the blind are not as capable of earning their own livings as are other citizens, and must of necessity live off their savings or their incomes from investments. As a result the Congress has not only increased the individual exemption for income tax purposes from five hundred to six hundred dollars a year, but has also voted an additional exemption of another six hundred dollars to each individual over sixty-five years of age, and has also granted another six hundred exemption to all blind persons, regardless of age. Under this provision a blind person of more than sixty-five years of age would be entitled to eighteen hundred dollars per annum.

On Wednesday, March 17, President Truman delivered an address to the Congress and the country in which he indicated there was grave danger of war with Russia, and called upon the people of this country and of all the world to do what they could to stop Communistic aggression. On Monday, March 22, Congressman Alvin C. Weichel, Sandusky, Ohio, Chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine, arose on the floor of the House and asked how come the President was permitting Russian ships to be loading, at that very moment in New Jersey ports, with huge quantities of materials which could be used for making war. He pointed out that the President, under authority granted by Congress, has the power to control or stop all foreign exports. Less than two weeks before the President spoke to the Congress on the danger of Communistic aggression in Europe the House Subcommittee on Appropriations for the State Department gave a forty-page report to the Congress on a large number of employees of the State Department, some in high places, who had been engaged in radical activities or belonging to "fellow traveler" organizations, against whom complaints had been filed or their royalty questioned, without any conclusive action being taken by the State Department to get rid of such employees. Seemingly we are fighting Communists in Europe while at the same time we are supplying Russia with American war materials and harboring radicals and disloyal suspects within our own Government.

Late last week the House and Senate agreed on a compromise bill to extend rent control for one year, or until March 31, 1949. Under the new Rent Control Law local boards will have the power to fix rentals, subject to final approval or disapproval of the Federal Rent Administrator, with the right of appeal from the Rent Administrator's decision to a special Federal Appeals Court.

UNDER THE DOME

I was advised that the National Park Service will make a preliminary survey of the C and O Canal in the very near future. This is in line with my bill H. R. 5155 which would provide for a survey by the National Park Service and the Public Roads Administration as to the advisability of constructing a parkway.

•—•—•

The Stream Pollution Sub-Committee of the Public Works Committee of which I am a member met this week to consider all stream pollution bills. They are now preparing a report in line with the wishes of the Committee. I met with a group of war service appointees regarding the Senate Bill 2324 which would grant preference to certain former employees and temporary and war service indefinite employees of the United States in obtaining a permanent civil service status.

I was advised by the Post Office Department that mail service would be extended through the 500 block of Thaver Avenue, Silver Spring.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Girl Of 17 Advised To Stop Thinking That Wildness Is Glamorous

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 17 and recently was introduced to a fellow 24. We went out together and he came down to the house a few times. After that I never saw him again until a week ago.

He is a fellow who likes to drink and even gets drunk sometimes. Some of his best friends have told me that he wasn't my type. They also tell me he has been married.

I want to know if I should go on seeing him, as I really love him no matter what they say. Of course my mother has heard a few things about him and now wants me never to see him again.

"CAROLE"

Dear "Carole":

Seventeen isn't very old, but it's plenty old enough for a girl to have a lot more sense than you seem to have.

It's utter nonsense for you to talk about being in love with a chap you have seen only two or three times. And it's worse than nonsense—it's downright dim-witted—when the young man has the sort of reputation this one has, and about whom you have been warned even by his own friends. Your attitude is like that of a small child who's been told to stay away from the fire because he'll get burned, so he thinks it would be exciting to stick his hand in and find out. For heaven's sake, be your age and stop thinking wildness is glamorous, or you'll be just as sorry as that burned child.

Shall She Go Out?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 20 years old and have been going steady for two years with a young man the same age. He goes to college, so finds it very difficult to take me out more than once or twice a week.

We have not announced our engagement yet, due to financial reasons, so do you think I am wrong in wanting to go out to a movie or bowling with one or two of the boys I work with, just for companionship? My friend says he would never feel the same about me if he knew I was out with anyone but him. We can't get married before he graduates, three years from now, but I love him very much and want to do what is right.

"CONFUSED"

Dear "Confused":

I certainly think you would be wrong in going out, even to a movie, with any other boy while keeping people ignorant of the fact that you are engaged. That's not fair either to your fiance or to the "other boy."

Once your engagement is known, however, I can't see any harm in your going bowling with friends, provided these friends thoroughly understand the situation and will behave accordingly. But I think any social engagements should be with a group of boys and girls rather than just with one boy. It would hardly seem reasonable for your fiance to object to your having good times with the crowd on the evenings he can't be with you.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, March 31—(INS)—Rosalind Russell is getting her wardrobe ready for a three-month eastern and European sojourn. She goes first to White Sulphur Springs, before she and the whole Brisson family sail for the Scandinavian countries.

Louella Parsons

"I am looking forward to a summer with Freddie and Carl and Cleo", she told me, "because it's such fun to go on picnics with all their relatives and friends. We will spend much of our time in Copenhagen,where Freddie has busines." Carl and Cleo are Roz's mother and father-in-law, and Carl Brisson is one of Denmark's favorite actors.

"What next for you?" I asked Roz.

"Comedy and more comedy," she said, "I want a recess from all heavy, sombre dramas. My next commitment is with Columbia and we are still looking for a comedy. Then I will make 'Marly In Love' for our own company, an idea which I suggested."

Twice Roz was nominated as the Academy choice for great performances, in "Sister Kenny" and "Mourning Becomes Electra," but she feels the public wants something lighter and that is what she intends to give them.

Want to bet that when "Monty Stratton" starts, Jimmy Stewart isn't in there pitching the star role?

Van Johnson was at bat for MGM's baseball yarn before his bad headaches struck him out and right after that Gregory Peck was rumored. But Greg will not be available. His next is "Yellow Skies" with the 20th Century Fox team.

But, getting back to Jimmy—his stage deal for "Harvey" has only a few more weeks to run, then watch him round the bases back to Hollywood and "Monty Stratton," with Director Roy Rowland rehearsing him on baseball tactics.

John Garfield blows in for three days to huddle with Bob Roberts about his next picture, "Tucker's People." The main thing is to decide on a release—Enterprise, Columbia, or United Artists.

While Garfield is making up his mind, I'd like to call to his attention that Enterprise did all right by him with "Body and Soul," so why look for supposedly greener fields?

"Tucker's People" is by the prize winning war correspondent, Ira Wolfert, and deals with the numbers racketeers. John just closed his New York show, "Skipper Next To God," for which he received peanuts.

Clark Gable has just bought 80 acres in Montana and will build a house on the property. That should really get him away from it all and give him a chance to do some real ranching.

He came back to town on Monday with Gail and Howard Strickling. When Clark and Howard came back by way of San Francisco, Howard long distanced Gail to meet him in San Francisco and spend their wedding anniversary there.

Clark saw "Command Decision" three times and for once is really crazy about a movie part. I say for once, because I never knew anyone who worries more than Clark about his screen roles.

Chatter in Hollywood: The Douglas McLeans are bringing their troubles out in the open, and this week Mrs. McLean goes into court to ask for a divorce.

●—●—●

I must have had 50 letters suggesting Hoagy Carmichael for the role of Jimmy Walker. He does look like Jimmy.

Hoagy, by the way, will not play himself in the screen version of his book, "Stardust," which Mary Pickford is producing. I wonder why not—he is such a good looking actor.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Eleanor Parker and Bert Friedlob have sold their Malibu house. They sail for Europe April 29 and won't need a beach house.

Virginia Mayo was well enough today to visit the Warner Studios, the first time since her bad siege of sinus.

Mary Pickford has taken off pounds and hasn't looked so well in years. Buddy Rogers is really very thrilled about his new acting career.

Dorothy Lamour, who is watching her diet very carefully although she doesn't need to, didn't eat or drink. Saw her and Bill Howard later dining with Babe and Myrt Blum.

Valli and her husband and the Louis Jourdans at Cobina's party. Made a date to see Valli next week. I like her so much.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, March 31—(INS)—Rosalind Russell is getting her wardrobe ready for a three-month eastern and European sojourn. She goes first to White Sulphur Springs, before she and the whole Brisson family sail for the Scandinavian countries.

Louella Parsons

"I am looking forward to a summer with Freddie and Carl and Cleo", she told me, "because it's such fun to go on picnics with all their relatives and friends. We will spend much of our time in Copenhagen,where Freddie has busines." Carl and Cleo are Roz's mother and father-in-law, and Carl Brisson is one of Denmark's favorite actors.

"What next for you?" I asked Roz.

"Comedy and more comedy," she said, "I want a recess from all heavy, sombre dramas. My next commitment is with Columbia and we are still looking for a comedy. Then I will make 'Marly In Love' for our own company, an idea which I suggested."

Twice Roz was nominated as the Academy choice for great performances, in "Sister Kenny" and "Mourning Becomes Electra," but she feels the public wants something lighter and that is what she intends to give them.

State College Needs To Be Studied Soon

A study to determine the physical needs of Frostburg State Teachers College and other teacher schools in Maryland will get underway within 10 days.

Out-of-state experts will make the survey, according to Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state superintendent of schools, who also revealed that another survey will be made in May on a proposed system of state-wide junior colleges.

Those who have been selected to make the teacher college survey include: Dr. Walter E. Hager, president of Wilson's Teachers College, Washington; Dr. Roscoe West, president of the State Teachers College, Trenton, N. J.; and Dr. Clyde Erwin, state superintendent of public instruction for North Carolina.

Lafferty Fined In Disturbance

Charged with disorderly conduct as the result of a disturbance near Maryland Avenue School building, William Lafferty, 927 Maryland Avenue, yesterday was fined $10 in Police Court.

A similar count against Charles Hemmis, 109 West First Street, who accused Lafferty of being one of several men who assailed him, was dismissed.

Lloyd Brant, 236 West Oldtown Road, was given a suspended sentence on charges of being drunk and disorderly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wilfong, where he rooms.

An Indian, "Chief Owen Redfeathers," Pittsburgh, drew a five-day jail term when he was unable to pay a $5 fine yesterday in Police Court on a charge of being drunk. He admitted being arrested on two previous occasions on similar charges.

Local Man Is Held By Baltimore Police

A Cumberland man, Richard H. Wilson, 20, who police said pleaded guilty to holding up a Baltimore store Saturday night and taking $37, yesterday was ordered held for action of the grand jury.

Police said the man, identified as a seaman, spent an hour in the store waiting for it to close. He was arrested after a cab driver reported seeing Wilson carrying a pistol.

Two Divorces Granted; Four Complaints Filed

Four bills of complaint were filed and two divorces granted in Circuit Court Wednesday.

Judge William A. Huster granted a divorce to James A. Via from Katherine D. Via, and to J. N. Long, Jr. from Lillian Long.

Phillips Oilers Down Kentucky, 53 To 49 In Playoff

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

TAMPA, Fla., March 31—(AP)—He stood in the hot sun patiently practicing on a knuckle ball, and you felt a quick rush of sympathy for you knew Bucky Walters when he didn't have to worry about such trick pitches. He'd just throw the ball and dare the batters to hit it.

He's facing the sunset of a fine career now, though, and nobody knows it better than he himself and he figures that maybe a knuckle ball might help him stay around just a little longer.

Bucky Walters

Bucky has pitched with his heart many a time, but he never showed more heart than he's showing right now, when every time he throws hard enough to crack an egg he gets shooting pains in his arm.

"It hurts just about all the time," he admits frankly. "Sometimes last summer after I pitched I couldn't sleep, and when I wanted to change position I'd have to lift my right arm with my left to move it. Only once in a while do I have a day when it doesn't hurt, and then I can pitch.

He neglected the knuckler for a moment and threw what looked like a fairly hard ball. He grinned wanly when it was mentioned.

"That isn't good enough in this league," he said. "They'd murder a ball like that."

He was a once-a-week pitcher last year, and certainly won't go to the post oftener than that this year. If he can get the knuckler working he might win a few more games, as he still has plenty of savvy. That, and that big pitching heart.

He's inching up on 38 now, and starting his 20th year of pro ball, and his 15th consecutive year in the majors. He became a third baseman after one year of pitching with High Point in the Piedmont League, but he was just hanging on to the fringes of the majors by his finger nails when the late Jimmy Wilson brought him to the Phillies from the Boston Red Sox in 1934 and convinced him his future, if he had one, was on the mound.

The Reds acquired him in 1938 and he promptly became one of the most respected hurlers in the league. He was voted most valuable player in 1939, when he won 27 games in the Reds' pennant march. He won 22 the next year, when the club gain won. In 1944 he came back with 23 victories.

In the pennant years he was poison to the Brooklyn club particularly, and when he ambled out to the mound, his bandy legs giving him the rolling gait of an old sailor after 40 years before the mast, it meant the Ebbets Field patrons could call their bums with real feeling.

He had an 8-8 season last year, marking the 10th straight year he has not dropped below the .500 mark. If he can tease and heckle and bait the batters with trick pitches and sheer know-how this year for a record equally as good it will make him more valuable than a lot of rookies with the power of youth in their arms but still musclebound between the ears. It also would put him well over the coveted 200 mark in victories, as he has only two to go.

So he just clamps his square jaws a little tighter and tries to forget the dull ache in his arm as he methodically places his knuckles on the ball and throws, and throws.

Commission Okays New Fight Date

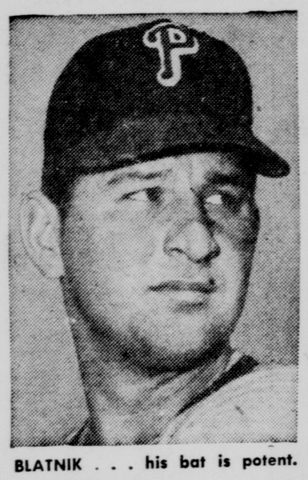

CHICAGO, March 31 (AP) — The Illinois State Athletic Commission today sanctioned April 12 as the new date of the Ezzard Charles-Elmer "Violent" Ray ten round bout in the Chicago Stadium.

Charles asked for a five day postponement because he needed additional time for training after recovering from a cold. The commission received a medical report from the Cincinnati Boxing Commission indicating a definite need for the extra training period.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

CLEARWATER, Fla. — "This is the best ball club I've ever had. We're going to win more games this year than we did any other year I've managed the team. I'm not conceding anything to anybody. We're out to win every ball game we play."

Ben Chapman, manager of the "Phightin' Phillies," was the speaker. If that isn't enough tipoff on the Phils, listen to this:

"This is the best club we've ever had."

Those words were spoken by young Bob Carpenter, president of the Phils, who is here on the scene.

Several things, of course, account for the enthusiasm of these two Philly officials. One is Curt Simmons, the $60,000 rookie pitcher who is the rave of the southland, and another is the acquisition of Eddie Miller, star shortstop of the Reds for the past five years.

Blazin' Ben, who has done a fine job with the club formerly known as the "Phutile Phils" and now advertised everywhere as the "Phightin' Phils," has more to say:

"There are only three boys on this club who are regulars who were in camp last year. They are Emil Verban, second baseman; Del Ennis, outfielder, and Andy Seminich, catcher. Even Harry Walker, the leading hitter in the National league, wasn't with us then.

"However, we've got 'em here now and they look good, too. Eddie Miller looks very good. He'll very definitely help us around the middle.

"I'll tell you one thing, though," Ben emphasized, "there's no job cinched on this club. Everybody who played last year is going to be pushed to make this team."

"We've got a good bunch of boys," Ben continued, "and we're keeping 'em. We're not getting rid of our players like the Phillies did in the old days.

"Al Flair is our first baseman until proven otherwise. We don't care how he did with the Red Sox. We're playing him at first."

Flair, who hit .308 with New Orleans, is a 6-foot 4-inch giant who formerly was in the Red Sox chain. He had several tries at first for the Sox in spring camps but never could make the grade.

The rest of the infield will be Verban at second, Miller at short and Bert Haas, procured from Cincinnati, at third. Haas hit. 286 for the Reds in 135 games last year.

In the outfield are Ennis, the sensational rookie of the 1946 season; Walker, who was a holdout but signed and reported to camp exactly one week after the March 1 date, and probably Roy Cullenbine, who played the full season with the Tigers last year.

Competing with Cullenbine for the one open spot are Elvin Adams, who played in 69 games for the Phils last year, and Charley Gilbert, who got in 83 games. There are only two rookies listed among the outfield corps. The best is Johnny Blatik, who hit .334 for Wilkes-Barre.

The catchers are Seminick, big Jon Padgett, Al Lakeman and the rookie, Stan Lopata. The last-named is listed on the Phillies' minor league roster in the Clearwater camp but is expected to make a strong bid for the third backstop job. He hit .325 for Utica last season.

Among the infield insurance is Ralph LaPointe, rookie last season who played first for Baltimore and then wound up playing 56 games for the Phils at shortstop; Granville Hammer, who had a good year at Utica and is considered very promising, and Ralph Caballero, who had a fine season at Utica and is well-liked by Carpenter.

Cynosure of all eyes in camp, of course, is the young southpaw pitcher from Egypt, Pa., Curt Simmons, who drew the highest bonus paid to a ball player in history.

Simmons, plucked off the high school and Legion diamonds, hails from Egypt, Pa., and pitched for Wilmington last summer after he was signed. He won 13 and lost five. In the final game of the season, the Phils brought him up to pitch against the Giants. He beat the Giants, 3 to 1, striking out nine batters.

In his first stint in training camp here, a two-inning effort, he struck out five, including some of the Phil regulars. This young southpaw is being compared with the greats of baseball and Chapman already is figuring on him as a starter.

The rest of the Phil slab staff is about the same as last year with the addition of Ken Heintzelman, who started with the Pirates last season.

In Dutch Leonard, who won 17; Schoolboy Rowe, who won 14, and Oscar Judd the Phils have three pitchers who may still have their old stuff although each one has been around for years. In two rookies, Dick Koecher, who won 17 for Utica, and Lou Possehl, who won 15, the Phils think they have two fine prospects.

Given good pitching, the Phils could be a strong second division club and possibly a contender. The infield and outfield has improved. More batting punch is needed and pitching help must be had. If Simmons has a big year the Phils can't help but go up from their last-place tie of 1947.

MADISON, Wis., March 31 (INS) —The 11th annual N.C.A.A. boxing championships, first of 11 tourneys which will funnel eight winners each to the Olympic tryouts at Boston in June, start their three-day run at the University of Wisconsin tomorrow

Battling will commence in the Badger fieldhouse with 13 afternoon bouts tomorrow, and will run through final warfare Saturday night, involving 62 fighters from 22 colleges and universities.

Gerry Auclair of Syracuse University, who won the 125-pound N.C.A.A. crown last year, is the one returning titlist who will not see first-round action. Auclair, fighting this year at the international weight of 119 pounds, has drawn a bye into the second round.

Four other defending N.C.A.A. champs, back for this year's renewal, go in first-round affairs tomorrow. Charles Davey of Michigan State, winner at 135 pounds last year, will compete in the Olympic weight division of 136 lbs., 10 oz.

The fifth 1947 titlist, Miami University's Art Saey, won as a heavyweight last year and is back in the unlimited weight division this time.

In addition to the returning N.C.A.A. champs, a total of 18 conference titleholders or runners-up will be on display during this year's tournament.

Oarsmen Lose Pants In Boathouse Fire

The fire broke out in the dryer room of the Yale Bob Cook boathouse. Up in smoke went about 100 pairs of rowing trunks and seat suits.

Bobby Goss Slated To Meet Dave Pirna In Amvets Fistic Carnival

Bobby Goss, local flyweight belter, is slated to meet Dave Pirna, Baltimore Eastern Police Boys' Clubmittman, in one of the feature bouts of the Cumberland Amvets' third annual amateur boxing show here Monday, April 5, at the local state armory, Matchmaker Robert "Sparky" Chisholm announced last night.

Pirna defeated Earl Smith, local Amvet puncher, in the quarter finals of the flyweight division of the South Atlantic Association AAU tournament in Baltimore, March 11, and is considered one of the best boxers in the city of Baltimore.

The main go of the simon-pure card will find Randall "Skeets" Starkey, Wiley Ford welterweight under the banner of the Amvets, meeting Dick Bryant, Baltimore YMCA 147-pounder in a five-round match.

Starkey, one of the best welters in the tri-state area, has been meeting all comers and recently lost a very unpopular decision to Bryant in the AAU tourney in Baltimore.

Bryant, after topping "Skeets" in the quarter-final bout, went on to lose to Milford Pack in a close split decision in the tournament.

The semi-final bout will bring together Earl Smith, local 112-pounder, and "Sonny" Lafferty of the St. Mary's Boys' Club.

Smith and Lafferty have both won major bouts lately with Lafferty's last decision being over Ben Banks, negro flyweight from Grantsville, in the Century A. C. show at Frostburg last week.

Bouts for Bill Frazier, Bill Mann and Melvin Washington are being arranged with other Baltimore boys who will be brought here by Trainer "Buck" Reed.

Tickets will go on sale for the show at the Wilson Hardware Co., Nu-Way Shoe Repair Shop, Bunny Hare's Pool Hall and the Amvets Home.

140 Hear WVU Mentor At Keyser Cage Dinner

Dudley S. DeGroot, West Virginia University's 24th coach in 50 years of football, says he traveled 3,000 miles to take over the reins as head coach at the Morgantown institution and it is important that he makes a go of his new job because he has three daughters and a son attending college and they all like to eat and wear pretty clothes.

The one-time All-America center at Stanford University who has coached college and professional grid teams for the past 15 years was the principal speaker at a dinner held last night in Keyser in honor of Potomac State School's basketball team and the majority of the 140 who attended the affair agreed that the Mountaineers' new mentor didn't "pull any punches" on one of the many stops of his West Virginia goodwill tour.

Coaching Tenure Is Brief

"The coaching tenure at West Virginia is worse than that in politics and that's why I am more anxious to make good," De Groot declared.

"Dud" pointed out that Potomac State School is an integral part of the state university and the future of the Morgantown school depends on boys who come from the state's schools for education and athletics, particularly football.

Potomac State owes a certain obligation to the university because students get part of their training at the Keyser school, he emphasized, and urged members of the student body to think carefully and give West Virginia U. first consideration before making a final choice of the school where they will continue their education.

Praises Lee Patton

DeGroot lauded Lee Patton, coach of Mountaineer basketball teams, stating that his teams have won 50 out of 60 games in three seasons and added that "Patton's pattern would be a tough one for him to follow." He also praised the coaches of nearby schools and the outstanding athletes they brought to the dinner and expressed the hope that many of the athletes would enroll at West Virginia.

He spoke of stopping off at the University of Kentucky and visiting and old friend, Coach Paul Bryant, and the latter showed him "nine beautiful, big specimens from West Virginia." DeGroot added: "Then Paul insulted me by having me shake hands with all of the boys."

In his semi-humorous talk, DeGroot spoke of one of Potomac State's outstanding athletes enrolling at a Washington school and expressed the opinion that he didn't think that school could offer the lad any more than cherry blossoms.

He urged basketball players to talk to Lee Patton, baseball players to contact Steve Harrick and football players to confer with him.

"We want to win and we can win with the great coaching staff at the university," the W.V.U. coach concluded.

125 Sought Coaching Job

Roy M. "Legs" Hawley, director of athletics, preceded DeGroot on the speaking program, and said he felt it a pleasure to attend such a fine affair. He stated that the council at the university selected DeGroot from 125 candidates for the coaching job formerly held by Bill Kern, and is confident that the council selected a man who will give West Virginia real football.

Vernon E. Rankin, prosecuting attorney for Mineral County, who acted as toastmaster, introduced Dana "Horse" Lough, Potomac State head coach, as the "man whose football team won the conference grid title and came within a game of capturing the basketball championship." Lough said that at the start of the season he told Judson Hodges, assistant coach, he didn't think the basketball team would win six games. The team was composed mostly of freshmen built around Kenneth H. Sims, who later spoke in behalf of the basketball squad. Other members of the squad were: Roy Ashcraft, James Eaton, Dick Finley, Neil Gutshall, Joe Hawkins, Bob Johnson, Hal Newcome, Kenneth Orr, Dallas Ours, William Sestric, Bon Slusser and Gilbert Storey.

In all the Sox were limited to five hits by the Braves' trio of White, fighting to come back, Ed Wright and the veteran Clyde Shoun.

A Tommy Holmes double and a Connie Ryan single, after Phil Masi walked, gave the Braves the first run of the game in the second inning.

The Sox tied the contest in the fifth on Ted Williams' 425 foot triple to center and a long flyout by Jake Jones. Williams was the first of the American Leaguers to reach first base.

Triples by Al Dark and Jim Russell and Earl Torgeson's long flyout gave the Braves two more runs in their half of the fifth and Clint Conatser homered in the eighth for the final run for the National Leaguers.

Rumor Crisler Will Quit As Athletic Head

Reported Seeking Civilian Position

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 31 (AP) —Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, stood strictly "mum" today in the face of printed rumors that he would leave his post as athletic director at the University of Michigan by next June to enter private business.

Crisler, who retired only two weeks ago as Michigan's head coach but announced he would stay on as athletic director, said he had "absolutely no comment" on a report in the Detroit News that he "has negotiated for a position in Chicago that presumably would pay several times his salary of $14,500 at Michigan."

Head Coach 18 Years

Crisler, a veteran of 18 years as a head football coach, the last 10 of them as director of Michigan's grid magic, turned over the Wolverines' reins only recently to his backfield aide, Benny Oosterbaan. Benny was in charge when spring practice opened earlier this week.

Crisler, an astute hand in business matters, agreed to remain as athletic director and administrator of a proposed million dollar expansion in Michigan's athletic plant.

But top priority for materials in the university's building program has been given to classroom and science buildings and it is doubtful that work on the athletic expansion will start inside of three years.

"The Michigan athletic director has turned his endeavors outside football and college athletic administration," the News said. "It was learned he will submit his resignation before June."

Report No Knowledge

In the absence of University President Alexander G. Ruthven, chairman of the board of regents through which any change in administration of Michigan's athletic department would have to clear, other board members reported no knowledge of the rumored resignation.

"There has been absolutely nothing to lead me to believe Fritz is planning such a move," declared Prof. Ralph W. Aigler, Michigan's Western Conference representative.

Aigler was empowered by the board to name a successor to the late Fielding Yost in 1941 when Crisler was made athletic director.

The News speculated that Ernie McCoy, assistant athletic director under Crisler, might move up as his successor if Fritz leaves, but the selection would be entirely in the hands of the regents.

Dildine Gets Fifth Spot Bowling Tie

DETROIT, March 31 (AP)—Detroit keglers monopolized a heavy schedule of minor events at the 45th annual American Bowling Congress today, but only one major change in standings resulted from the onslaught.

Richard Dildine slipped into a fifth place tie with Robert Welch of Terre Haute, Ind. in the all-events when he compiled 1878 for an average of 208.6 over the nine-game test.

Michigan booster teams took over the alleys tonight for a 60-hour stand which will not be broken until the "Owl Squad" Friday.

Clarence Coller, Y'ngstown, O.	1922
Wm. Gregory, Mt. Vernon, O.	1913
Nick Sandru, Canton, O.	1896
Robert Briarton, Detroit	1892
Robert Welch, Terre Haute	1878
Richard Dildine, Detroit	1878

Kurland Paces Winners With Twenty Points

Crowd Of 18,400 Sees Title Game

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP) — The titanic Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., paced by seven-foot Bob Kurland, conquered University of Kentucky, 53 to 49, in the Olympic basketball playoffs finals tonight at Madison Square Garden.

A capacity crowd of 18,400 saw the National AAU champions choke off a spectacular last-half rally by the fast NCAA kings to win the trials.

The victory gave the Oilers' coach, Bud Browning, the task of guiding America's cage forces in the London Olympics in July.

This was about the only thing at stake since the Olympic Committee previously had announced that the Olympic team would be made up of five players from each of the final teams and four picked from the entire field.

In the third place consolation, the Denver Nuggets outlasted Baylor University, 73-64.

Kurland, the Oilers' giant center, rang in 20 points to lead the Oklahomans. Ralph Beard, Kentucky's All-America guard, however, tallied 23 points for the best individual scoring performance of the evening.

Wallace (Wah Wah) Jones, Kentucky's six-foot-four sharpshooter, was put out of the game on personal fouls at the midway point of the second half.

After the half had ended with the score tied 26-26, the Oilers spurted to a ten-point advantage, 37-27, on the fine marksmanship of Kurland, who tallied eight, and Jesse Renick, who scored three.

But the Wildcats from the Blue Grass country roared back to go ahead for the only time in the final half, 47-45. Beard was the spearhead, making 11 points in the rally.

The rangy, seasoned Oklahomans immediately tied the score, went ahead and stayed there.

Citation Arrives At 'Graw Track

Remains Docile Throughout Trip

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., March 31—(AP)—Calumet Farm's Citation came back today to the grounds where he started a sensational winning streak to sharpen up the three-year-old racing crown for which most handicappers already have him fitted.

Citation was fittingly in the same railroad car with the veteran Armed, whom he is tabbed to succeed as the Calumet pride, on their trip up from Miami.

Hustling trainer Jimmy Jones personally led the seven-year-old Armed from the train to the barn, reporting "they all shipped safe and sound." Half of the Calumet string is to be raced in Maryland while the remainder have been shipped to Kentucky.

Citation lived up to his reputation as a calm colt. He walked docily to his stall while Armed, the old time campaigner, gave Jones quite a bit of trouble.

Citation, the rich colored bay son of Bull Lea, will make his first start here on opening day in the Chesapeake Trial April 12, according to the Jones plans. Then he'll try for the Chesapeake Stakes a week later and be shipped to Kentucky, where it's likely he'll make another start in the Derby trial before the run for the roses.

Those desiring to sponsor teams are urged to attend Thursday's meeting.

It is hoped that representatives will attend from Zihlman, Eckhart, Klondike, Shaft, Vale Summit and Frostburg. The Frostburg Eagles and Century A. C. are expected to sponsor teams in the circuit.

Boys 16 years of age and under will be eligible to participate.

Phillips Oilers Down Kentucky, 53 To 49 In Playoff

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

TAMPA, Fla., March 31—(AP)—He stood in the hot sun patiently practicing on a knuckle ball, and you felt a quick rush of sympathy for you knew Bucky Walters when he didn't have to worry about such trick pitches. He'd just throw the ball and dare the batters to hit it.

He's facing the sunset of a fine career now, though, and nobody knows it better than he himself and he figures that maybe a knuckle ball might help him stay around just a little longer.

Bucky Walters

Bucky has pitched with his heart many a time, but he never showed more heart than he's showing right now, when every time he throws hard enough to crack an egg he gets shooting pains in his arm.

"It hurts just about all the time," he admits frankly. "Sometimes last summer after I pitched I couldn't sleep, and when I wanted to change position I'd have to lift my right arm with my left to move it. Only once in a while do I have a day when it doesn't hurt, and then I can pitch.

He neglected the knuckler for a moment and threw what looked like a fairly hard ball. He grinned wanly when it was mentioned.

"That isn't good enough in this league," he said. "They'd murder a ball like that."

He was a once-a-week pitcher last year, and certainly won't go to the post oftener than that this year. If he can get the knuckler working he might win a few more games, as he still has plenty of savvy. That, and that big pitching heart.

He's inching up on 38 now, and starting his 20th year of pro ball, and his 15th consecutive year in the majors. He became a third baseman after one year of pitching with High Point in the Piedmont League, but he was just hanging on to the fringes of the majors by his finger nails when the late Jimmy Wilson brought him to the Phillies from the Boston Red Sox in 1934 and convinced him his future, if he had one, was on the mound.

The Reds acquired him in 1938 and he promptly became one of the most respected hurlers in the league. He was voted most valuable player in 1939, when he won 27 games in the Reds' pennant march. He won 22 the next year, when the club gain won. In 1944 he came back with 23 victories.

In the pennant years he was poison to the Brooklyn club particularly, and when he ambled out to the mound, his bandy legs giving him the rolling gait of an old sailor after 40 years before the mast, it meant the Ebbets Field patrons could call their bums with real feeling.

He had an 8-8 season last year, marking the 10th straight year he has not dropped below the .500 mark. If he can tease and heckle and bait the batters with trick pitches and sheer know-how this year for a record equally as good it will make him more valuable than a lot of rookies with the power of youth in their arms but still musclebound between the ears. It also would put him well over the coveted 200 mark in victories, as he has only two to go.

So he just clamps his square jaws a little tighter and tries to forget the dull ache in his arm as he methodically places his knuckles on the ball and throws, and throws.

CHICAGO, March 31 (AP) — The Illinois State Athletic Commission today sanctioned April 12 as the new date of the Ezzard Charles-Elmer "Violent" Ray ten round bout in the Chicago Stadium.

Charles asked for a five day postponement because he needed additional time for training after recovering from a cold. The commission received a medical report from the Cincinnati Boxing Commission indicating a definite need for the extra training period.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

CLEARWATER, Fla. — "This is the best ball club I've ever had. We're going to win more games this year than we did any other year I've managed the team. I'm not conceding anything to anybody. We're out to win every ball game we play."

Ben Chapman, manager of the "Phightin' Phillies," was the speaker. If that isn't enough tipoff on the Phils, listen to this:

"This is the best club we've ever had."

Those words were spoken by young Bob Carpenter, president of the Phils, who is here on the scene.

Several things, of course, account for the enthusiasm of these two Philly officials. One is Curt Simmons, the $60,000 rookie pitcher who is the rave of the southland, and another is the acquisition of Eddie Miller, star shortstop of the Reds for the past five years.

Blazin' Ben, who has done a fine job with the club formerly known as the "Phutile Phils" and now advertised everywhere as the "Phightin' Phils," has more to say:

"There are only three boys on this club who are regulars who were in camp last year. They are Emil Verban, second baseman; Del Ennis, outfielder, and Andy Seminich, catcher. Even Harry Walker, the leading hitter in the National league, wasn't with us then.

"However, we've got 'em here now and they look good, too. Eddie Miller looks very good. He'll very definitely help us around the middle.

"I'll tell you one thing, though," Ben emphasized, "there's no job cinched on this club. Everybody who played last year is going to be pushed to make this team."

"We've got a good bunch of boys," Ben continued, "and we're keeping 'em. We're not getting rid of our players like the Phillies did in the old days.

"Al Flair is our first baseman until proven otherwise. We don't care how he did with the Red Sox. We're playing him at first."

Flair, who hit .308 with New Orleans, is a 6-foot 4-inch giant who formerly was in the Red Sox chain. He had several tries at first for the Sox in spring camps but never could make the grade.

The rest of the infield will be Verban at second, Miller at short and Bert Haas, procured from Cincinnati, at third. Haas hit .286 for the Reds in 135 games last year.

In the outfield are Ennis, the sensational rookie of the 1946 season; Walker, who was a holdout but signed and reported to camp exactly one week after the March 1 date, and probably Roy Cullenbine, who played the full season with the Tigers last year.

Competing with Cullenbine for the one open spot are Elvin Adams, who played in 69 games for the Phils last year, and Charley Gilbert, who got in 83 games. There are only two rookies listed among the outfield corps. The best is Johnny Blatik, who hit .334 for Wilkes-Barre.

The catchers are Seminick, big Jon Padgett, Al Lakeman and the rookie, Stan Lopata. The last-named is listed on the Phillies' minor league roster in the Clearwater camp but is expected to make a strong bid for the third backstop job. He hit .325 for Utica last season.

Among the infield insurance is Ralph LaPointe, rookie last season who played first for Baltimore and then wound up playing 56 games for the Phils at shortstop; Granville Hammer, who had a good year at Utica and is considered very promising, and Ralph Caballero, who had a fine season at Utica and is well-liked by Carpenter.

Cynosure of all eyes in camp, of course, is the young southpaw pitcher from Egypt, Pa., Curt Simmons, who drew the highest bonus paid to a ball player in history.

Simmons, plucked off the high school and Legion diamonds, hails from Egypt, Pa., and pitched for Wilmington last summer after he was signed. He won 13 and lost five. In the final game of the season, the Phils brought him up to pitch against the Giants. He beat the Giants, 3 to 1, striking out nine batters.

In his first stint in training camp here, a two-inning effort, he struck out five, including some of the Phil regulars. This young southpaw is being compared with the greats of baseball and Chapman already is figuring on him as a starter.

The rest of the Phil slab staff is about the same as last year with the addition of Ken Heintzelman, who started with the Pirates last season.

In Dutch Leonard, who won 17; Schoolboy Rowe, who won 14, and Oscar Judd the Phils have three pitchers who may still have their old stuff although each one has been around for years. In two rookies, Dick Koecher, who won 17 for Utica, and Lou Possehl, who won 15, the Phils think they have two fine prospects.

Given good pitching, the Phils could be a strong second division club and possibly a contender. The infield and outfield has improved. More batting punch is needed and pitching help must be had. If Simmons has a big year the Phils can't help but go up from their last-place tie of 1947.

Wisconsin To Be Scene Of Battles

MADISON, Wis., March 31 (INS) —The 11th annual N.C.A.A. boxing championships, first of 11 tourneys which will funnel eight winners each to the Olympic tryouts at Boston in June, start their three-day run at the University of Wisconsin tomorrow

Battling will commence in the Badger fieldhouse with 13 afternoon bouts tomorrow, and will run through final warfare Saturday night, involving 62 fighters from 22 colleges and universities.

Gerry Auclair of Syracuse University, who won the 125-pound N.C.A.A. crown last year, is the one returning titlist who will not see first-round action. Auclair, fighting this year at the international weight of 119 pounds, has drawn a bye into the second round.

Four other defending N.C.A.A. champs, back for this year's renewal, go in first-round affairs tomorrow. Charles Davey of Michigan State, winner at 135 pounds last year, will compete in the Olympic weight division of 136 lbs., 10 oz.

The fifth 1947 titlist, Miami University's Art Saey, won as a heavyweight last year and is back in the unlimited weight division this time.

In addition to the returning N.C.A.A. champs, a total of 18 conference titleholders or runners-up will be on display during this year's tournament.

DERBY, Conn., March 31 (AP) — Yale oarsmen lost their rowing pants today—in a fire.

The fire broke out in the dryer room of the Yale Bob Cook boathouse. Up in smoke went about 100 pairs of rowing trunks and seat suits.

Bobby Goss Slated To Meet Dave Pirna In Amvets Fistic Carnival

Bobby Goss, local flyweight belter, is slated to meet Dave Pirna, Baltimore Eastern Police Boys' Club mittman, in one of the feature bouts of the Cumberland Amvets' third annual amateur boxing show here Monday, April 5, at the local state armory, Matchmaker Robert "Sparky" Chisholm announced last night.

Pirna defeated Earl Smith, local Amvet puncher, in the quarter finals of the flyweight division of the South Atlantic Association AAU tournament in Baltimore, March 11, and is considered one of the best boxers in the city of Baltimore.

The main go of the simon-pure card will find Randall "Skeets" Starkey, Wiley Ford welterweight under the banner of the Amvets, meeting Dick Bryant, Baltimore YMCA 147-pounder in a five-round match.

Starkey, one of the best welters in the tri-state area, has been meeting all comers and recently lost a very unpopular decision to Bryant in the AAU tourney in Baltimore.

Bryant, after topping "Skeets" in the quarter-final bout, went on to lose to Milford Pack in a close split decision in the tournament.

The semi-final bout will bring together Earl Smith, local 112-pounder, and "Sonny" Lafferty of the St. Mary's Boys' Club.

Smith and Lafferty have both won major bouts lately with Lafferty's last decision being over Ben Banks, negro flyweight from Grantsville, in the Century A. C. show at Frostburg last week.

Bouts for Bill Frazier, Bill Mann and Melvin Washington are being arranged with other Baltimore boys who will be brought here by Trainer "Buck" Reed.

Tickets will go on sale for the show at the Wilson Hardware Co., Nu-Way Shoe Repair Shop, Bunny Hare's Pool Hall and the Amvets Home.

Dudley S. DeGroot, West Virginia University's 24th coach in 50 years of football, says he traveled 3,000 miles to take over the reins as head coach at the Morgantown institution and it is important that he makes a go of his new job because he has three daughters and a son attending college and they all like to eat and wear pretty clothes.

The one-time All-America center at Stanford University who has coached college and professional grid teams for the past 15 years was the principal speaker at a dinner held last night in Keyser in honor of Potomac State School's basketball team and the majority of the 140 who attended the affair agreed that the Mountaineers' new mentor didn't "pull any punches" on one of the many stops of his West Virginia goodwill tour.

Coaching Tenure Is Brief

"The coaching tenure at West Virginia is worse than that in politics and that's why I am more anxious to make good," De Groot declared.

"Dud" pointed out that Potomac State School is an integral part of the state university and the future of the Morgantown school depends on boys who come from the state's schools for education and athletics, particularly football.

Potomac State owes a certain obligation to the university because students get part of their training at the Keyser school, he emphasized, and urged members of the student body to think carefully and give West Virginia U. first consideration before making a final choice of the school where they will continue their education.

Praises Lee Patton

DeGroot lauded Lee Patton, coach of Mountaineer basketball teams, stating that his teams have won 50 out of 60 games in three seasons and added that "Patton's pattern would be a tough one for him to follow." He also praised the coaches of nearby schools and the outstanding athletes they brought to the dinner and expressed the hope that many of the athletes would enroll at West Virginia.

He spoke of stopping off at the University of Kentucky and visiting and old friend, Coach Paul Bryant, and the latter showed him "nine beautiful, big specimens from West Virginia." DeGroot added: "Then Paul insulted me by having me shake hands with all of the boys."

In his semi-humorous talk, DeGroot spoke of one of Potomac State's outstanding athletes enrolling at a Washington school and expressed the opinion that he didn't think that school could offer the lad any more than cherry blossoms.

He urged basketball players to talk to Lee Patton, baseball players to contact Steve Harrick and football players to confer with him.

"We want to win and we can win with the great coaching staff at the university," the W.V.U. coach concluded.

125 Sought Coaching Job

Roy M. "Legs" Hawley, director of athletics, preceded DeGroot on the speaking program, and said he felt it a pleasure to attend such a fine affair. He stated that the council at the university selected DeGroot from 125 candidates for the coaching job formerly held by Bill Kern, and is confident that the council selected a man who will give West Virginia real football.

Vernon E. Rankin, prosecuting attorney for Mineral County, who acted as toastmaster, introduced Dana "Horse" Lough, Potomac State head coach, as the "man whose football team won the conference grid title and came within a game of capturing the basketball championship." Lough said that at the start of the season he told Judson Hodges, assistant coach, he didn't think the basketball team would win six games. The team was composed mostly of freshmen built around Kenneth H. Sims, who later spoke in behalf of the basketball squad. Other members of the squad were: Roy Ashcraft, James Eaton, Dick Finley, Neil Gutshall, Joe Hawkins, Bob Johnson, Hal Newcome, Kenneth Orr, Dallas Ours, William Sestric, Bon Slusser and Gilbert Storey.

The Cards were held to seven hits by Red Embree and Karl Drews, the former going the first six innings to gain the decision over George Munger. Munger was clipped for four runs and seven hits in four innings. In all the Sox were limited to five hits by the Braves' trio of White, fighting to come back, Ed Wright and the veteran Clyde Shoun.

The Sox tied the contest in the fifth on Ted Williams' 425 foot triple to center and a long flyout by Jake Jones. Williams was the first of the American Leaguers to reach first base.

Triples by Al Dark and Jim Russell and Earl Torgeson's long flyout gave the Braves two more runs in their half of the fifth and Clint Conatser homered in the eighth for the final run for the National Leaguers.

Rumor Crisler Will Quit As Athletic Head

Reported Seeking Civilian Position

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 31 (AP) —Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, stood strictly "mum" today in the face of printed rumors that he would leave his post as athletic director at the University of Michigan by next June to enter private business.

Crisler, who retired only two weeks ago as Michigan's head coach but announced he would stay on as athletic director, said he had "absolutely no comment" on a report in the Detroit News that he "has negotiated for a position in Chicago that presumably would pay several times his salary of $14,500 at Michigan."

Head Coach 18 Years

Crisler, a veteran of 18 years as a head football coach, the last 10 of them as director of Michigan's grid magic, turned over the Wolverines' reins only recently to his backfield aide, Benny Oosterbaan. Benny was in charge when spring practice opened earlier this week.

Crisler, an astute hand in business matters, agreed to remain as athletic director and administrator of a proposed million dollar expansion in Michigan's athletic plant.

But top priority for materials in the university's building program has been given to classroom and science buildings and it is doubtful that work on the athletic expansion will start inside of three years.

"The Michigan athletic director has turned his endeavors outside football and college athletic administration," the News said. "It was learned he will submit his resignation before June."

Report No Knowledge

In the absence of University President Alexander G. Ruthven, chairman of the board of regents through which any change in administration of Michigan's athletic department would have to clear, other board members reported no knowledge of the rumored resignation.

"There has been absolutely nothing to lead me to believe Fritz is planning such a move," declared Prof. Ralph W. Aigler, Michigan's Western Conference representative.

Aigler was empowered by the board to name a successor to the late Fielding Yost in 1941 when Crisler was made athletic director.

The News speculated that Ernie McCoy, assistant athletic director under Crisler, might move up as his successor if Fritz leaves, but the selection would be entirely in the hands of the regents.

Dildine Gets Fifth Spot Bowling Tie

DETROIT, March 31 (AP)—Detroit keglers monopolized a heavy schedule of minor events at the 45th annual American Bowling Congress today, but only one major change in standings resulted from the onslaught.

Richard Dildine slipped into a fifth place tie with Robert Welch of Terre Haute, Ind. in the all-events when he compiled 1878 for an average of 208.6 over the nine-game test.

Michigan booster teams took over the alleys tonight for a 60-hour stand which will not be broken until the "Owl Squad" Friday.

Clarence Coller, Y'ngstown, O.	1922
Wm. Gregory, Mt. Vernon, O.	1913
Nick Sandru, Canton, O.	1896
Robert Briarton, Detroit	1892
Robert Welch, Terre Haute	1878
Richard Dildine, Detroit	1878

Kurland Paces Winners With Twenty Points

Crowd Of 18,400 Sees Title Game

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP) — The titanic Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., paced by seven-foot Bob Kurland, conquered University of Kentucky, 53 to 49, in the Olympic basketball playoffs finals tonight at Madison Square Garden.

A capacity crowd of 18,400 saw the National AAU champions choke off a spectacular last-half rally by the fast NCAA kings to win the trials.

The victory gave the Oilers' coach, Bud Browning, the task of guiding America's cage forces in the London Olympics in July.

This was about the only thing at stake since the Olympic Committee previously had announced that the Olympic team would be made up of five players from each of the final teams and four picked from the entire field.

In the third place consolation, the Denver Nuggets outlasted Baylor University, 73-64.

Kurland, the Oilers' giant center, rang in 20 points to lead the Oklahomans. Ralph Beard, Kentucky's All-America guard, however, tallied 23 points for the best individual scoring performance of the evening.

Wallace (Wah Wah) Jones, Kentucky's six-foot-four sharpshooter, was put out of the game on personal fouls at the midway point of the second half.

After the half had ended with the score tied 26-26, the Oilers spurted to a ten-point advantage, 37-27, on the fine marksmanship of Kurland, who tallied eight, and Jesse Renick, who scored three.

But the Wildcats from the Blue Grass country roared back to go ahead for the only time in the final half, 47-45. Beard was the spearhead, making 11 points in the rally.

The rangy, seasoned Oklahomans immediately tied the score, went ahead and stayed there.

Citation Arrives At 'Graw Track

Remains Docile Throughout Trip

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., March 31—(AP)—Calumet Farm's Citation came back today to the grounds where he started a sensational winning streak to sharpen up the three-year-old racing crown for which most handicappers already have him fitted.

Citation was fittingly in the same railroad car with the veteran Armed, whom he is tabbed to succeed as the Calumet pride, on their trip up from Miami.

Hustling trainer Jimmy Jones personally led the seven-year-old Armed from the train to the barn, reporting "they all shipped safe and sound." Half of the Calumet string is to be raced in Maryland while the remainder have been shipped to Kentucky.

Citation lived up to his reputation as a calm colt. He walked docily to his stall while Armed, the old time campaigner, gave Jones quite a bit of trouble.

Citation, the rich colored bay son of Bull Lea, will make his first start here on opening day in the Chesapeake Trial April 12, according to the Jones plans. Then he'll try for the Chesapeake Stakes a week later and be shipped to Kentucky, where it's likely he'll make another start in the Derby trial before the run for the roses.

TEAMS IN FROSTBURG SECTION PLAN JUNIOR BASEBALL CIRCUIT

FROSTBURG, March 31 — A meeting will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at 8 p. m., at the local Eagles Home for the purpose of discussing the formation of a junior baseball league comprising teams from Frostburg and vicinity.

An eight-team league is proposed and the season would open with the start of the school summer vacation period.

Those desiring to sponsor teams are urged to attend Thursday's meeting.

It is hoped that representatives will attend from Zihlman, Eckhart, Klondike, Shaft, Vale Summit and Frostburg. The Frostburg Eagles and Century A. C. are expected to sponsor teams in the circuit.

Boys 16 years of age and under will be eligible to participate.

What is this thing called "Bouquet?"

Gardenia? Lilac? No—hop buds! They are delightfully aromatic and delicately elusive ... from America and Europe's choicest vines. They are the costliest known—and worth it! Skillful brewing extracts their goodness. As a result, over the snowy foam in each glass of Budweiser hovers an exquisite bouquet that is as delightful to the sense of smell as Budweiser is to the sense of taste. Thanks to these hops ... plus fine barley and rice ... plus the most expensive brewing process known, you enjoy the distinctive taste found only in Budweiser.

MAKE THIS TEST! DRINK Budweiser FOR FIVE DAYS
You'll want the distinctive taste of Budweiser thereafter

Because of our great expansion program, more Budweiser is available now. Demand it wherever you go.

Only 10 More Days Left
The Most Unusual Offer Ever Made In The Tire Business!!

YOUR MONEY BACK IF Super Cushion TIRES DON'T GIVE YOU THE SOFTEST RIDE YOU'VE EVER HAD!
YOU RIDE...THEN YOU DECIDE!
Due to the demand for Super-Cushion tires we are able to make this unusual offer for only these few more days. Come in — we'll put a set of Super-Cushion tires and tubes on your car. Drive it for one week. Then, if you don't agree they give you a softer ride than any tire you've ever owned, we'll replace your old tires and tubes and give your money back. Super-Cushion is a remarkable new kind of tire. Bigger, softer than conventional tires and runs on only 24 pounds of air pressure. It is so superior that we can afford to make this amazing offer.
Super Cushion TIRES BY GOODYEAR
Super-Cushions give you a remarkable new ease in car handling. Your car hugs the road, seems to float through traffic, to flow around curves.
Super-Cushions soak up crosswise jolts, soak up vibration. Results: less driving fatigue, less wear and tear on your car, fewer rattles, fewer repair bills.
Super-Cushions run cooler; and because they're softer they "roll with the punch", are harder to cut, bruise or blow out.

MILLIONS OF SUPER-CUSHIONS ARE NOW IN USE ON NEW AND OLDER CARS

What is this thing called "Bouquet?"

Gardenia? Lilac? No—hop buds! They are delightfully aromatic and delicately elusive ... from America and Europe's choicest vines. They are the costliest known—and worth it! Skillful brewing extracts their goodness. As a result, over the snowy foam in each glass of Budweiser hovers an exquisite bouquet that is as delightful to the sense of smell as Budweiser is to the sense of taste. Thanks to these hops ... plus fine barley and rice ... plus the most expensive brewing process known, you enjoy the distinctive taste found only in Budweiser.

The Most Unusual Offer Ever Made In The Tire Business!!

YOU RIDE...THEN YOU DECIDE!
Due to the demand for Super-Cushion tires we are able to make this unusual offer for only these few more days. Come in — we'll put a set of Super-Cushion tires and tubes on your car. Drive it for one week. Then, if you don't agree they give you a softer ride than any tire you've ever owned, we'll replace your old tires and tubes and give your money back. Super-Cushion is a remarkable new kind of tire. Bigger, softer than conventional tires and runs on only 24 pounds of air pressure. It is so superior that we can afford to make this amazing offer.
Super-Cushion TIRES BY GOODYEAR
Super-Cushions give you a remarkable new ease in car handling. Your car hugs the road, seems to float through traffic, to flow around curves.
Super-Cushions soak up crosswise jolts, soak up vibration. Results: less driving fatigue, less wear and tear on your car, fewer rattles, fewer repair bills.
Super-Cushions run cooler; and because they're softer they "roll with the punch", are harder to cut, bruise or blow out.

Dr. Cobey Joins Medical Mission To Japan, Korea

Group Will Visit Army Hospitals

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG — Dr. Milton C. Cobey, orthopedic surgeon of Washington, D. C., a former resident of Frostburg, is in Japan as a consultant of the Surgeon General of the Army in that area. He left Washington Tuesday, March 23, with two other members of the mission, one a physician and the other a surgeon.

The trip from Fairfield, near San Francisco, Calif., to the Orient by air, arranged by the Army Transport Command, included stops at Hickam Field, Honolulu; Johnson Islands, Kwajalein of the Marshall group; Guam, Iwo Jima and Tokyo.

While in Japan, Dr. Cobey and his associates will teach and give lectures in Army hospitals and formulate a program designed to place the institutions on the highest level of efficiency. The group will visit all Army hospitals in Japan and Korea and if time permits will do the same in the Philippines and Guam. They plan to return to this country in about two months.

During World War II, Dr. Cobey served as an orthopedic surgeon at Kessler Field, Miss., for five years, holding the rank of lieutenant colonel when he received his honorable discharge. For the past two years he has been practicing in Washington. He is a graduate of Duke University Medical School and studied orthopedic surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for five years.

He is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Cobey, West Main Street, and the late Dr. J. C. Cobey. His wife, Dr. Fredericka Cobey and her children, Fredericka and twins, James C. and Elizabeth, are spending a week here with Mrs. Cobey. Dr. Fredericka Cobey practiced medicine here for several months during the winter of 1940 and is well known by many residents of Frostburg.

Taft To Be Guest On Lewis's Show; Durante With Al

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 1—In addition to the CBS series on presidential candidates on Wednesday nights, Fulton Lewis jr. of MBS at 7 also is conducting a series of his own. He is scheduled to have his second Thursday evening when Sen. Robert A. Taft is to be the guest. Lewis is running his in the form of an interview.

Crime Photographer of CBS, previously slated to take a radio rest, won't. It's got a new sponsor which will keep the mystery series on the air at 9:30. Staats Cotsworth is the demon detective photographer.

It being April Fool's night, Jimmy Durante figured it was a good time for him to make a guest appearance in the Al Jolson Music Hall on NBC at 9.

Jim Backus is all ready to produce another group of out of the usual talent dispensers when his "great" talent hunt unfolds again on MBS at 8:30. The acts, which from the description would be better television material than sightless radio, will include a combined Trumpet - piano player, and an opera singing cockatoo. Backus is running this show in addition to his Sunday night comedy on this same network but at a different time.

"Little Boy Blue" is the script title for the Family Theater of MBS at 10. It's based on the life of Eugene Field.

A talk at a New York luncheon of radio executives and the Overseas Press club will bring the voice of George V. Allen, assistant secretary of State, to NBC at 1:15 p. m.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Old Wine, New Bottle

The Theater Guild, plunging into television as early as it was late in getting into radio, presented last Sunday its fifth and very possibly its best production, the old George Kaufman-Edna Ferber play "Stage Door" and a very beautiful job it was by all hands. It was the first televised drama I've ever seen that provided anything like the sustained interest of the theater; it was, in fact, the first televised drama in my experience that had more than curiosity value; it was good enough to scare the pants off motion picture and theater interests, if they were paying attention, and to furnish food for thought for everyone else.

John Crosby

The only thing that came off badly was the play. In 1936 when "Stage Door" was first presented, the dilemma of a girl who sticks out her tongue at Hollywood's filthy money to enrich her soul if not her purse in the theater may have contained a certain urgency. Today it sounds pompous and more than a little phoney. The intensity of emotion expanded on this spiritual wrestling match appears—to me at least—disproportionate to the question involved. The authors may well have felt twinges of remorse concerning their central theme because they surrounded it, bolstered it and damn near suffocated it with surpassing workmanship. It's a good show if nothing else.

You can still get into a hot and inconclusive argument as to whether televised drama is closer to movies than to a stage. It's a bit of both and, in its present stage of development, it presents a nice problem to the actors. In close-ups any gesture much bigger than the elevation of an eyebrow seems pretentious; in the same time, sustained acting and sustained moods are demanded just as they are in the theater. All in all, television acting may be the most difficult of all the dramatic arts.

After having watched a recent Kraft Theater production of "Captain Applejack" in which the panting, the shouting, the rolling of eyes and gnashing of teeth made me wonder whether the invention of television was not a hideous mistake, the muted performances in "Stage Door" appeared possibly a little better than they really were. Louisa Horton, as Terry, stood in the great shadow of Margaret Sullavan for the first few minutes. She grows on you though, and in sum she turned in a performance little short of terrific. Miss Horton possesses a voice that sounds two parts Hepburn, one part Sullavan, if that seems possible. I don't know whether nature designed it that way or whether Miss Horton just picked up the idea somewhere and I don't particularly care. It's a striking voice of great charm, power and flexibility no matter how she arrived at it.

Because of the restricted space, actors have a tendency to cluster together like grapes in televised drama. Three is a play but four is a crowd. If more than four get together, the scene begins to resemble a crowded elevator. There was some of this but less than usual in the Guild play and the directors seem to be solving this difficult problem by the proper use of cameras, which can give the illusion of great spaciousness where there is none at all. The exits and entrances are still, I'm afraid, a bit unexpected. Actors spring at you from the shadows at right and vanish dreamily into the shadows at left without preparation or any great purpose.

All this is meant in the spirit of observation rather than criticism. In "Stage Door," the director surmounted some staggering problems and stumbled over just a few small ones. The highest compliment I can pay is that the Guild presented a play rather than an experiment, which is the effect most televised dramas have on you. If television maintains a standard anywhere near this high, it'll certainly be a menacing competitor with stage and screen.

The Guild's first production in this new medium was "John Ferguson." I didn't see it but those who did and even those involved in it agreed fairly unanimously that it was pretty bad. The fact that the Guild and NBC have ironed out so many technical problems and learned so much in a single season is significant and, insofar as the listeners are concerned, promising. The next Guild production April 25 will bring Gertrude Lawrence in a Bernard Shaw play, which ought to be an event of some importance. Like all the Guild shows it will be carried on NBC's five-city east coast network.

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 1—In addition to the CBS series on presidential candidates on Wednesday nights, Fulton Lewis jr. of MBS at 7 also is conducting a series of his own. He is scheduled to have his second Thursday evening when Sen. Robert A. Taft is to be the guest. Lewis is running his in the form of an interview.

Crime Photographer of CBS, previously slated to take a radio rest, won't. It's got a new sponsor which will keep the mystery series on the air at 9:30. Staats Cotsworth is the demon detective photographer.

It being April Fool's night, Jimmy Durante figured it was a good time for him to make a guest appearance in the Al Jolson Music Hall on NBC at 9.

Jim Backus is all ready to produce another group of out of the usual talent dispensers when his "great" talent hunt unfolds again on MBS at 8:30. The acts, which from the description would be better television material than sightless radio, will include a combined Trumpet - piano player, and an opera singing cockatoo. Backus is running this show in addition to his Sunday night comedy on this same network but at a different time.

"Little Boy Blue" is the script title for the Family Theater of MBS at 10. It's based on the life of Eugene Field.

A talk at a New York luncheon of radio executives and the Overseas Press club will bring the voice of George V. Allen, assistant secretary of State, to NBC at 1:15 p. m.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Old Wine, New Bottle

John Crosby

The Theater Guild, plunging into television as early as it was late in getting into radio, presented last Sunday its fifth and very possibly its best production, the old George Kaufman-Edna Ferber play "Stage Door" and a very beautiful job it was by all hands. It was the first televised drama I've ever seen that provided anything like the sustained interest of the theater; it was, in fact, the first televised drama in my experience that had more than curiosity value; it was good enough to scare the pants off motion picture and theater interests, if they were paying attention, and to furnish food for thought for everyone else.

The only thing that came off badly was the play. In 1936 when "Stage Door" was first presented, the dilemma of a girl who sticks out her tongue at Hollywood's filthy money to enrich her soul if not her purse in the theater may have contained a certain urgency. Today it sounds pompous and more than a little phoney. The intensity of emotion expanded on this spiritual wrestling match appears—to me at least—disproportionate to the question involved. The authors may well have felt twinges of remorse concerning their central theme because they surrounded it, bolstered it and damn near suffocated it with surpassing workmanship. It's a good show if nothing else.

You can still get into a hot and inconclusive argument as to whether televised drama is closer to movies than to a stage. It's a bit of both and, in its present stage of development, it presents a nice problem to the actors. In close-ups any gesture much bigger than the elevation of an eyebrow seems pretentious; in the same time, sustained acting and sustained moods are demanded just as they are in the theater. All in all, television acting may be the most difficult of all the dramatic arts.

After having watched a recent Kraft Theater production of "Captain Applejack" in which the panting, the shouting, the rolling of eyes and gnashing of teeth made me wonder whether the invention of television was not a hideous mistake, the muted performances in "Stage Door" appeared possibly a little better than they really were. Louisa Horton, as Terry, stood in the great shadow of Margaret Sullavan for the first few minutes. She grows on you though, and in sum she turned in a performance little short of terrific. Miss Horton possesses a voice that sounds two parts Hepburn, one part Sullavan, if that seems possible. I don't know whether nature designed it that way or whether Miss Horton just picked up the idea somewhere and I don't particularly care. It's a striking voice of great charm, power and flexibility no matter how she arrived at it.

Because of the restricted space, actors have a tendency to cluster together like grapes in televised drama. Three is a play but four is a crowd. If more than four get together, the scene begins to resemble a crowded elevator. There was some of this but less than usual in the Guild play and the directors seem to be solving this difficult problem by the proper use of cameras, which can give the illusion of great spaciousness where there is none at all. The exits and entrances are still, I'm afraid, a bit unexpected. Actors spring at you from the shadows at right and vanish dreamily into the shadows at left without preparation or any great purpose.

All this is meant in the spirit of observation rather than criticism. In "Stage Door," the director surmounted some staggering problems and stumbled over just a few small ones. The highest compliment I can pay is that the Guild presented a play rather than an experiment, which is the effect most televised dramas have on you. If television maintains a standard anywhere near this high, it'll certainly be a menacing competitor with stage and screen.

The Guild's first production in this new medium was "John Ferguson." I didn't see it but those who did and even those involved in it agreed fairly unanimously that it was pretty bad. The fact that the Guild and NBC have ironed out so many technical problems and learned so much in a single season is significant and, insofar as the listeners are concerned, promising. The next Guild production April 25 will bring Gertrude Lawrence in a Bernard Shaw play, which ought to be an event of some importance. Like all the Guild shows it will be carried on NBC's five-city east coast network.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my wife, Mary E. Diehl, who passed away one year ago, yesterday (March 31, 1947).
March bring sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest.
But she'll always be remembered
By the ones who loved her best.
Sadly missed by her HUSBAND, SONS and DAUGHTER.

Stocks Advance With Individual Favorites Adding Over 2 Points

NEW YORK, March 31—(AP)—Stocks hit a bullish note in a fast market session today. Closing gains by individual favorites ranged above two points, with many issues at new 1948 highs.

Total transfers of 1,780,000 shares for the day were the second largest since last October 15 and compared with 1,060,000 Tuesday. The March total of 22,992,575 shares was the best since December.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite climbed .8 of a point to 65.2, its best level since January 12. Its net advance of 4.2 since the end of February made the March gain the best for any month since January, 1946.

With 1,089 issues registering, today's market was the broadest since the record session of February 10. Moving forward were 776 issues while 132 declined.

New tops for the year were touched by Santa Fe, which closed at 102, Anaconda Copper 36, Kennecott 53⅜, American Smelting 57⅞, Phelps Dodge 50, General Electric 36, Montgomery Ward 55, Paramount Pictures 24, Twentieth Century-Fox 25½, Loew's 19¼, Pacific Western Oil 54 and Mission Corporation 59¼. Superior Oil of California, thinly-held issue which leaped 22 points Tuesday, spurted another 15 to a new high at 200 today before falling back to close at 189, on sales of only 500 shares.

Amerada Petroleum pushed ahead as an extra dividend was declared. Alleghany Corporation scored fractional improvement on a 10,000-share block. Other leaders of the upturn included United States Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, Texas Company, Great Northern preferred, du Pont, Allied Chemical, Firestone, Electric Power and Light, International Harvester and J. I. Case.

Risers in the curb included Aluminum Company of America, Adam Hat, Creole Petroleum and Pantepec Oil. Turnover here was 350,000 shares against 230,000 yesterday.

Stocks Advance With Individual Favorites Adding Over 2 Points

NEW YORK, March 31—(AP)—Stocks hit a bullish note in a fast market session today. Closing gains by individual favorites ranged above two points, with many issues at new 1948 highs.

Total transfers of 1,780,000 shares for the day were the second largest since last October 15 and compared with 1,060,000 Tuesday. The March total of 22,992,575 shares was the best since December.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite climbed .8 of a point to 65.2, its best level since January 12. Its net advance of 4.2 since the end of February made the March gain the best for any month since January, 1946.

With 1,089 issues registering, today's market was the broadest since the record session of February 10. Moving forward were 776 issues while 132 declined.

New tops for the year were touched by Santa Fe, which closed at 102, Anaconda Copper 36, Kennecott 53¾, American Smelting 57⅞, Phelps Dodge 50, General Electric 36, Montgomery Ward 55, Paramount Pictures 24, Twentieth Century-Fox 25½, Loew's 19¼, Pacific Western Oil 54 and Mission Corporation 59¼. Superior Oil of California, thinly-held issue which leaped 22 points Tuesday, spurted another 15 to a new high at 200 today before falling back to close at 189, on sales of only 500 shares.

Amerada Petroleum pushed ahead as an extra dividend was declared. Alleghany Corporation scored fractional improvement on a 10,000-share block. Other leaders of the upturn included United States Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, Texas Company, Great Northern preferred, du Pont, Allied Chemical, Firestone, Electric Power and Light, International Harvester and J. I. Case.

Risers in the curb included Aluminum Company of America, Adam Hat, Creole Petroleum and Pantepec Oil. Turnover here was 350,000 shares against 230,000 yesterday.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Paul A. Smith and Rita M. Smith, his wife, vs. Edith F. Trout and Harry Elmer Trout, her husband, No. 20570 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of adoption of the infant, Elmer David Trout, who was born unto the marriage of the Defendants.

The bill states that the Defendants were married March 25, 1929; that Harry Elmer Trout deserted Edith F. Trout on October 21, 1945, and the infant child was born December 3, 1945; that the said Edith F. Trout is unable to support and maintain the infant child; that Harry Elmer Trout does not contribute towards the support of the said infant; that the Petitioners are anxious to adopt the child and believe it would be to the advantage and welfare of the child to be so adopted, and the Petitioners are able to care for the child and desire to change its name from Elmer David Trout to that of David Elmer Smith; that the Defendant, Harry Elmer Trout, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and is not engaged in Military Service.

It is thereupon this 16th day of March, 1948, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in equity, ordered that the Petitioners, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks, before the 17th day of April, 1948, giving notice to the said absent Defendant of the object and substance of this bill and warning him to appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of May, 1948, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

924 County Veterans Say They Need Housing

Others Ask Probe Of Postwar Building

Veterans in Allegany County need 924 individual dwelling units, a partial analysis of incomplete returns from a housing questionnaire showed yesterday. With about 1,950 questionnaires of the 8,500 mailed already returned, members of the Veterans Housing Committee started the task of analysis.

In addition to the need for housing indicated by the returned questionnaires, there was considerable criticism of the cost of housing here, the type of homes being built for veterans and sold to them, and numerous requests for a complete investigation by the Veterans Administration.

Committee members expressed surprise at the number of replies received from veterans already housed who indicated they returned their forms to help make the survey as complete as possible in the hope they would be helping their less fortunate comrades.

The returns show 550 married GI's in Cumberland and 374 in all other parts of the county are in need of housing. Some indicate a more urgent need than others, but all say they want dwelling units as quickly as possible.

550 Homes Needed Here

In Cumberland, 550 veterans say they need housing now. Of this total, 209 want to rent, 94 want to buy, 195 want to build, and 66 made no choice but will accept any type of decent housing or housing plan.

Of the 209 who want to rent, 149 prefer houses and 60 want apartments. Of those wanting to rent, six say they will pay in excess of $50 per month rental and the balance want to pay less. The average was around $40 to $45 per month.

Of the 195 who want to build, one indicated he could pay $15,000. Ten can pay between $6,000 and $8,000, and the balance want housing for $6,000 or less.

Of the 94 who want to buy ready-built homes, 91 seek housing for $6,000 or less and three indicate they will pay up to $10,000.

374 In County Area

In the county outside of Cumberland, 374 veterans indicate a need for immediate housing. Of this number 96 want to rent, 81 want to buy and 187 want to build. Ten made no choice but say they will take either rental or new units.

Among the 96 who want to rent, 68 want houses and the balance apartments. Two indicate they can pay more than $50 per month rental.

Of the 81 who want to buy, 78 can spend less than $6,000 and three can spend more, one going as high as $10,000.

Of the 187 who prefer to build, eight can invest $7,500, one can invest $10,000 and 179 want to stay under $6,000.

About three-fourths of the veterans needing homes indicate they have one or more children.

While the analysis is far from complete, and more returns are expected, the recap made yesterday indicates there is a crying need here for rental housing and low cost privately owned homes, Allender, who is business agent for the Carpenters local here, declared.

"With carpenters and other builders looking for work, this seems like a pretty bad situation," he commented.

Veterans of the county who have not mailed their questionnaires back to the committee should do so, as it is hoped to complete the survey in a few days, Reinhart, who is chairman of the group, explained. The more forms returned, the more accurate the survey can be, he said. Veterans who have not received a questionnaire may get one by contacting a committee member.

Many Write Letters

One of the interesting things in the survey is the fact the great majority of the forms were filled out completely, and apparently with care. In numerous instances, veterans attached letters or wrote comments on the backs of the forms, telling their experiences in trying to find houses, or telling of experiences since they bought or built.

Some made scathing charges of the type of homes constructed and sold to veterans in some parts of the county. Several asked for an investigation by the Veterans Administration and offered to assist the committee in any way needed. Some made constructive suggestions and offered various types of criticism.

Random Comments

"I would like to build tomorrow if they would only take some of the taxes off the homes and the contractors not try to make more than 10 per cent profit."

This same respondent wrote the following letter attached to his questionnaire:

"As a World War veteran, I have a few suggestions to make which I believe would make it possible for a lower cost home to be built today. There is a very good article in the January issue of Readers Digest written by John T. Flynn. He gives his views of the housing problem today and five concrete suggestions to provide low cost housing.

A Maternity Ward That Goes Places

A Mt. Savage mother and her infant son last night were reported resting comfortably in Allegany Hospital, almost 24 hours after the boy was born in a screeching, speeding ambulance en route to the hospital yesterday at 1:30 a. m.

Unlike most races with the stork, Mrs. Wilbert Logsdon, Mt. Savage, was under the constant care of a physician who assisted in the delivery as the Mt. Savage Fire Company ambulance raced toward the hospital.

The usual pacing up and down the hospital hallway was eliminated for Mr. Logsdon, who departed for the hospital at the same time as his wife and followed closely in his own car.

As he pulled up at the hospital it was something of a shock for instead of getting the usual "You'll have to wait here," treatment, he was told, "It's a boy. Congratulations."

Jaffee Upholds Bragg Discharge At Celanese Plant

An appeal by Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, from the discharge of Edward F. Bragg at the Celanese plant was denied in an arbitration decision announced yesterday.

Samuel H. Jaffee, Washington, arbitrator in the dispute between the union and the Celanese Corporation of America, in an award dated March 30 ruled that:

"An appeal from the discharge of Edward F. Bragg for striking James Moyer must be denied."

The issue in the case, the brief said, is whether the discharge of Bragg for allegedly striking James Moyer, a fellow employe, constitutes "an injustice" under the contract, warranting reinstatement and back pay.

In his conclusions, Jaffee pointed out that he sustained the discharge and was satisfied "—and beyond a reasonable doubt—" that Bragg assaulted Moyer and cited that Moyer's testimony was corroborated by circumstances of motive, time, place, movement and speech which made the conclusion that Bragg is guilty "reasonably certain."

The occasion for the case arose April 25, 1947, when Moyer, while sitting on a bench in the Celanese Dyehouse, was deliberately struck in the face by someone, causing him substantial injury, it was reported in the factual portion of the award.

Moyer asserted Bragg was the assailant, Jaffee was told, and Bragg denied the charge. The company concluded Bragg was guilty and discharged him.

Naughton May Hear Frostburg Cases

Harold E. Naughton, local attorney who was appointed substitute trial magistrate last May by Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., said last night he presumes he will be called upon to serve as acting magistrate in Frostburg.

Naughton said he was originally appointed to substitute in the event of illness or death of any magistrate.

Mrs. Catherine Carter, trial magistrate's clerk in Frostburg, has not as yet requested Naughton to serve, however.

Frostburg has been without a trial magistrate since yesterday.

Tuesday night James P. Kenney, Sr., suffered a heart attack as he prepared to retire for the night at his home on West Main Street. His condition was reported slightly improved yesterday.

Tuesday morning Alex "Pop" Nicol, the other Frostburg magistrate, was admitted to Veterans Hospital, Aspinwall, Pa., for treatment.

Corriganville Firemen To Hold Open House

The bar board of Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company met last night and decided to hold open house at the fire hall Saturday from 9 p. m. until midnight on the occasion of opening a newly installed and modern bar.

According to Calvin Delbrook, president, the affair is open to the public without charge, refreshments will be served and entertainment provided.

Other members of the Bar Board include Edwin Perry, Raymond C. Alen and Henry Geiger, trustees, Raymond J. Hensel, Albert C. Snelson and Oaklen Geiger, bar manaber.

Delbrook said last night work is progressing on the completion of the new addition to the fire hall, and the project should be finished in about three months.

Paper Firm Says It Will Discuss Increase Issue

Reiterates Denial Of Immediate Boost

COVINGTON, Va., March 31 (AP)—The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company today again expressed its willingness to meet with union representatives to explore "the general question of the reasons for and against a present increase."

It warned, however, that "if the union insists on a decision at this time, the decision has to be 'no'."

The company's position was stated in a letter from J. W. Towsen of New York, vice president of the company, to Harry E. Scott, area director of the United Paper Workers of America, CIO.

In releasing a copy of the letter today, a company spokesman said that "due to the nature of Mr. Scott's letter to Mr. Towsen, we had to reply promptly and emphatically. This does not mean, however, that we have changed the position announced in previous releases. If the general economy takes a direction which permits an increase, the company will be glad and quick to act as generously as conditions justify."

Scott said he had "no comment" to make on Towsen's letter. In his letter to Towsen, Scott had asked an immediate meeting with company officials in Roanoke.

Scott's letter, which Wayne Ritchie, president of Luke Local 676, said was in part a reply to accusations that Scott had "stirred up trouble" at the company's Covington plant, charged the firm with failure to "bargain in good faith" and requested an immediate conference in Roanoke.

In February, the company rejected a union demand for wage boosts ranging from 25 to 35 cents but indicated its willingness to meet again to discuss the issue.

Dog Poisoning Claims 6 Pets

The death of a West Side Scotch terrier pet yesterday jumped the total of poisoned dogs in that district to six as the result of "strychnine-loaded" Easter eggs, according to city police.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, 216 Greene Street, were the latest couple to report to police that their dog, "who usually is kept penned up on their own property," was poisoned yesterday.

Police said that while they have not received complaints from all of the owners whose dogs were poisoned, they were informed yesterday that six dogs have died from poisoning on the West Side since the day before Easter.

Detective Thomas J. See declared last night that he is checking a report that a tall, "very" slender man was seen standing in the front yard of a Greene Street home late Saturday night. Detective See said the man is reported to have walked away hurriedly after being noticed.

LaVale Association Will Hold Election

New officers and five new directors will be elected at the annual meeting of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association, which will be held next Tuesday, April 6, at 7:30 p. m. in the LaVale Fire Hall.

The five directors whose two-year terms expire this year are William Wiegand, Cromwell Zembower, J. K. Snyder, William A. Douglas and Miles G. Thompson.

The nominating committee to present nominations for the new directors at the meeting is headed by John J. Rowan, Those serving with him are George L. Spoerl and George Dressman.

There are 15 directors of the association, but their terms are staggered so that only five are elected each year. The new directors will serve for three years.

The board of directors will submit nominations for new officers. Nominations will also be made from the floor.

Election Board Office To Be Open Until 12 P. M.

The office of the Board of Election Supervisors of Allegany County will be open today from 5 p. m. until midnight to give candidates of both major parties an opportunity to file, according to Patrick F. King, clerk of the board.

King explained today is the final day for filing before the primary, and yet not one from either the Republican or Democratic parties has filed for election as delegates to the parties' conventions. King said he understands six may be chosen from each party.

Candidates to file for the House of Representatives must have their papers in the hands of the Secretary of State by midnight tonight, King stated.

Automobile Is Looted

Police last night were investigating the theft of a radio and leather traveling bag from the automobile of Edward C. Gross, Morgantown, who told police the machine was parked on Baltimore Street, near Centre Street. The theft allegedly occurred about 6 p. m.

Temperature Reading

The weatherman said last night that today will be partly cloudy but somewhat warmer as compared to yesterday. The rain Wednesday, the weatherman says, marked the passage of a spring storm which was sweeping in this direction. Yesterday's high temperature was 63 and the low of 47 was recorded during the night. The 8 a. m. reading was 59 degrees. The rain yesterday was recorded at .54 of an inch.

B&O Employes Back To Work As Furlough Ends

New Layoff Planned After Four-Day Period

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad employes here and at Keyser, W. Va., who were furloughed last week for a five-day period, will return to work today, but will be furloughed again in four days, unless there is a change in the coal stoppage situation, a company official said last night.

The new furlough will affect a total of 3,134 motor carmen on the system, and will include all heavy locomotive shops except the one at Cumberland. No new furlough is announced for the locomotive shop here.

The Bolt and Forge will furlough 272 men after the four-day period, and the rolling mill, which did not furlough this past week, will be included with 55 men laid off. About 70 men will remain at the Bolt and Forge.

At Keyser, the new furlough will affect 249 men in the car department and 100 in the round house, the company spokesman said.

When the railroad men return to work today after their five-day layoff, they will see notices posted, calling for another furlough at the end of four days. The company official said under the agreement with the Brotherhoods it is necessary to give four days notice before a furlough can be called, and since the last one was for a definite five-day period, the men must be given work for four days.

A survey of schools, hospitals and other institutions as well as local industries indicates that all coal piles are dwindling, but most places have enough coal to last for four to six weeks.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, said all school buildings had an ample supply of coal when the stoppage occurred, and arrangements have been made to get coal if needed.

Several local industries have been buying some coal from strip mines operating in this area in an effort to augment their dwindling supplies. One local hauler said he began hauling strip-mined coal to local plants yesterday.

All deep mines of the Upper Potomac Region and Georges Creek Region are idle, except for two or three small trucking or fire coal mines. Many strippers are down, but a few are operating in this county, Garrett County, Mineral County and Somerset County, it is claimed.

No action by public officials has been taken to conserve fuel, or to try to get fuel into the city, it was explained, although in some communities, it was indicated such steps are being considered.

Retail dealers here said that a few days before the mines actually closed they were swamped by orders from local householders and all these orders have been filled. However, the available supply of coal on hand for retail sale in Cumberland is now very limited, and the demand is very light, dealers say.

One large distributor said last night, "Most people assume we have no coal and just don't bother to order. However, I believe most people have enough in their bins to get by until warm weather. We are taking care of emergency situations."

It is estimated about 50 truckers of coal are idle in the city as a result of the coal mine stoppage, although some of these have turned their trucks to other types of hauling.

Democrat Seeks Seat In Congress

Byrne Austin

The 45 - year old aspirant is married and is the father of three young daughters.

Sub-Locals To Name Convention Delegates

Delegates from the Lonaconing and Keyser sub-locals of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, will represent workers of the plants at the TWUA National Convention to be held in Atlantic City beginning April 27, Playford Aldridge, president announced last night.

Workers of the Lonaconing mill of the General Textile Mills, Inc., and the Keyser plant of the Potomac Worsted Spinning Mill, he said, will each name a representative to accompany the full Local 1874 delegation to the convention.

The action to authorize the sub-local representation was taken at a meeting of the local last night upon the recommendation of the local's executive board.

Final discussion and action on another Executive Board recommendation involving changes in S-13, order of furlough and sharing of the work, will be taken at a meeting of the local Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the union hall when second shift workers will be given an opportunity to vote on the proposals, Aldridge said.

600 Letters Mailed In Cancer Campaign

Approximately 600 letters have been sent to residents of Cumberland and Allegany County, asking their support of the fund drive to be held during April in the 1948 "conquer cancer campaign."

Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum, vice chairman of Allegany County Branch, Maryland Cancer Society, said the county goal is $12,000.

Dr. Frank Wilson, branch chairman, and William A. Gunter, county campaign chairman, conferred in Baltimore earlier this week with Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, state campaign chairman, regarding plans for the local drive.

The state goal is $230,000.

Local contributions should be sent to Allegany County Branch headquarters, 7 Washington Street.

Sixty per cent of the funds raised will be kept in the county for the extension of existing facilities for the diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

Lt. Col. W. Stewart-Roddie, Noted British Statesman, To Speak Here

Lt. Col. W. Stewart-Roddie, noted British statesman, will be the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Cumberland National Dinner Club Tuesday, April 6, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

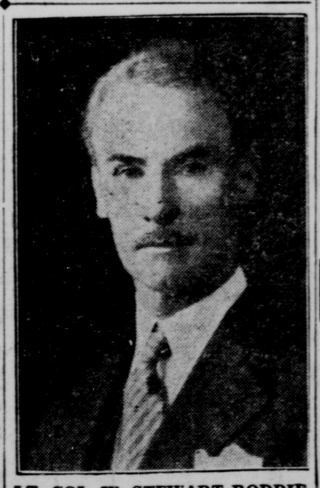

His topic will be "Europe, Before and After Two Wars."

As the author of "Peace Patrol," Col. Stewart-Roddie was invited to address a small literary luncheon in New York when he first came to this country nine years ago. His presentation of the German situation was so realistic and dramatic that he was in instant demand by organizations throughout the nation who wished him to address them.

From the end of World War I until 1926 he served almost continually in Germany as a member of special missions, including the Inter-Allied Commission of Control, which carried out the work of disarmament.

Assistant Named To Aid C. Of C. Secretary Here

James R. Kendall Comes Here April 12

A 28-year-old Falls Church, Va., man will assume the duties of the newly created post of assistant secretary of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce on April 12, according to Henry W. Price, president.

Price introduced the new secretary to chamber members by mail yesterday as James R. Kendall, a native of Indiana and a graduate of Purdue University.

In announcing the new appointment, Price explained that Harold W. Smith, who has served as local chamber secretary for the past 13 years, has requested assistance in handling the work.

Smith, according to Price, asked that he be relieved of some of the responsibilities. After considering a number of applications and respecting the request of Smith, Price said Kendall was selected.

During his career in the business world, Kendall, who is married, has been associated with the Federal Housing Administration and was industrial analyst with the War Production Board. He was a special assistant to the general manager of the Printing Industry of America for a time and has a knowledge of sales and advertising work.

"With this addition to the office," Price declared, "the chamber will be in a position to increase its scope of work and undertake activities which heretofore have been beyond the capacity of the chamber staff."

Price outlined some of the projects advocated by the local C. of C. and now moving forward, as the Municipal Airport, with transportation service approved, the Savage River Dam project and a flood control plan as well as an improved water supply.

"I feel confident," Price declared, "that this is a step forward and will assist in the development of increased interest in Cumberland's economic program.

The local chamber will honor the Mayor and City Council and recently appointed Charter Commission at a dinner meeting to be held at Ali Ghan Country Club, May 4.

Walter J. Millard, Cincinnati, Ohio, a recognized authority on municipal government, will be the guest speaker. Millard is known for his work in developing the charter under which Dayton, Ohio, now operates.

As a result of his activity in that community he has been called in to advise and assist in municipal government programs in many cities.

Scarpelli Will Open Funeral Home Here

James F. Scarpelli was granted a permit in the office of City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer yesterday to use a two-story brick building at 108 Virginia Avenue as a funeral home.

The Scarpelli Funeral Home, which will become the sixth funeral establishment in this city, is expected to open in a few days

Scarpelli is a World War II veteran and served for several years with the Army's Graves Registration Service in England.

Until recently, he was affiliated with the Stein Funeral Home here as an embalmer and funeral director.

The deed for the location was filed November 19, 1947, when Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Lanich transferred the property to James F. Scarpelli, 111 West Second Street. Revenue stamps affixed to the deed indicate the purchase price was about $15,000.

George Cline Home Is Damaged By Fire

Central and East Side firemen were summoned to the George A. Cline residence, 207 Bedford Street, Wednesday afternoon at 1:50 o'clock to extinguish a blaze which started in the bedroom of the home.

According to firemen, companies Nos. 1 and 4 answered the call and extinguished the fire.

Cause of the fire was laid to a young son, who, it is reported, was playing with matches at the time. Damages were not estimated.

Watch Your Step Today: Cause It's April Fool

Today is All Fool's Day, better known as April Fool's Day in Cumberland.

Watch out for someone trying to put something over on you, or some prank that might make you the butt of a joke.

Webster has the best explanation of this specific day. To wit: "All Fool's Day, held the first day in April. Playful tricks and impositions are practiced. The origin of name and place is unknown."

A word to the wise is sufficient.

Caucus Rescheduled

Mayor Thomas S. Post reported last night that the caucus of the new Mayor and Council, previously scheduled for today, will be postponed until tomorrow at 10 a. m.

Free Will Speak

L. Forrest Free, Westminster, lieutenant governor of Division 9, Capital District of Kiwanis International, will be the guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club today at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA.

Textile Workers Oppose PE Bus Fare Increase

Mayor, Council Plan Protest To PSC

Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, last night voted unanimously to oppose a proposal of the Potomac Edison Company to increase certain types of bus fares for company operations in the Cumberland area, following similar opposition by the Mayor and Council.

The opposition of the 8,500-member local was expressed in a resolution introduced by acclamation at a special meeting in the union hall. The resolution reads:

"WHEREAS: The Potomac Edison Company has announced its intention to seek increases in bus fares for its services in and around Cumberland at a time when living costs are becoming more unbearable upon the working people and their families; and

WHEREAS: The Mayor and members of the City Council of Cumberland have unanimously voted to oppose such request before the Public Service Commission of Maryland; and

WHEREAS: Celanese Local 1874 members and their families will be directly and unfavorably affected if such increases are granted, Now Therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this membership meeting of Local 1874 TWUA authorizes its officers and Executive Board to wholeheartedly support the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland in their opposition to the increases sought by the Potomac Edison Company and that the Local officers extend all possible aid to defeat the proposals made to the Public Service Commission of Maryland."

Blames "Walsh Machine"

The unanimous opposition vote of the Mayor and Council came after Mayor Thomas S. Post blamed the "Walsh machine" for being instrumental in having state laws passed which deny the city the right to obtain more substantial revenue from the company in return for franchise privileges.

The Potomac Edison Company has announced it is seeking a change in rates effective May 2. The base fare of 10 cents would remain unchanged but the price of tickets would be raised under the plan.

Mayor Post made a motion, which was seconded by Commissioner Myers G. Light, opposing any increase in electric rates or bus fares, and instructed City Attorney Thomas B. Finan to file a protest with the Public Service Commission. The motion was approved unanimously.

Finan explained after a brief is filed with the PSC, the attorney and representatives of the Mayor and Council would appear at a hearing before the commission.

Proposal "Unjustified"

"The Potomac Edison Company is proposing an increase in bus fares for Cumberland," said the mayor. "This can only be a forerunner of a request to increase electric rates.

"The proposal to increase bus fares is unjustified and unreasonable at this time for several reasons."

The company pays the city no revenue for use of local streets; for police guidance and protection and fire protection; for cindering the streets and removal of snow in the winter, for space used for bus stops, which in the downtown area occupy space which could be used for meters, and for blocking traffic.

"The rates here are as high as any place per mile of service," the mayor continued. "The buses are unsanitary and unsafe. Buses discarded by other cities are sent here for use.

"I would like to see the council oppose an increase in bus rates and electrical rates as well. We should instruct our attorney to appear before the Public Service Commission and oppose this move."

The mayor continued an expression of his views by declaring:

"We owe it to our citizens, who have to hang on straps to get service, to do something about this. A recent visitor to Cumberland told me: 'Mayor, you have the crummiest buses here that I have ever ridden in'."

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan added:

Commissioner Keegan added:

"It is true about the streets. Usually cities receive from two to seven per cent of gross revenue from bus companies. The PE did not raise the wages of its bus employes recently until it had to do so. The company is financially able to take care of its own business.

"In Baltimore money received from transit service pays for the upkeep of playgrounds and parks," Keegan concluded.

"The Walsh machine is responsible for having state legislation enacted which prevents us from getting money from the PE for use of streets," Mayor Post said.

New Tags Become Effective Today

Maryland motorists who have not received new license plate inserts by this morning are going to have difficulty explaining it to policemen who stop them.

The only excuses that will be accepted, according to First Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale barracks of Maryland State Police, will be cancelled checks, check stubs, and money order receipts, showing aplication has been made for the new license through the mail.

There has been no extension of the time limit, according to Sgt. O'Hara, who said all motorists not displaying the new 1949 inserts will be stopped.

Motorists who have cancelled checks, check stubs or money order receipts to prove that tags are ordered will be permitted to operate until delivery is made, according to Sgt. O'Hara.

Boy Legislators Will Introduce Six Measures

Six bills will be introduced by boy legislators from Allegany County Hi-Y groups at the model legislature to be held in Annapolis April 22 to 24, according to Winfield H. Adam, program and boys' secretary of Central YMCA.

The bills, which were discussed at a meeting last night at the "Y", and their sponsors as follows:

1. Conservation of state forests in Maryland—Floyd Ryan, who is a "delegate" from Fort Hill Hi-Y.

2. Study of need for additional state aid for the school lunch program—Ryan and Gene Mason, a "senator" from the Fort Hill group.

3. Extension of suffrage to persons 18, 19 and 20 years old—Douglas B. Heavner, Jr., of Fort Hill, a "delegate."

Recreation Tax Cited

4. Provision of a five-cent tax on all recreation events in the state, the funds to be used for providing more and better recreational facilities in Maryland—Ralph Thuss, Jr., and Glen Wertz, Fort Hill "delegates."

5. Providing pedestrian walkways along all state highways in Maryland—Wayne Boal, president of Bruce High School Hi-Y, Westernport, who has been named a "senator."

Hi-Y members from Allegany and Bruce High Schools took part in a recent poll of public opinion in Maryland, conducted by the 200 Hi-Y youth and government delegates of Maryland YMCA's to provide a basis for measures to be presented at the model legislature.

In the three-day session the bills will be referred to committee and debated in the Senate and House of Delegates, to provide the boy legislators with actual legislative experience.

The poll, in which 1,345 Maryland citizens, including county residents, were questioned, indicated the greatest single problem in the state today is the condition of its traffic and roads. Fifty-six per cent of those questioned indicated opposition to the state sales tax.

Colleges Favored

The poll revealed that 74 per cent are in favor of establishing and maintaining several junior colleges in Maryland at state expense.

Overwhelming approval of 86 per cent was given to the proposal of annual physical examinations of all children from grades one to 12.

Seventy per cent stated that every able-bodied man should be required to take one year of military or naval training. In a similar survey conducted last year this measure was approved by 62 per cent of those interviewed.

Amendment of the state constitution to provide for a session of the legislature every year was favored by 59 per cent.

The poll indicated that 48 per cent believe that the General Assembly should promote civil rights by passing a Maryland Fair Employment Practice Act which would bar employment prejudice due to race, color or creed. This step was opposed by 43 per cent.

Repeal of the so-called "Jim Crow" act which provides for segregation of whites and negroes on some intrastate rail and boat facilities was opposed by 49 per cent and favored by 39 per cent.

Oldtown VFW Post To Install Friday

Clifford B. Sisler Post No. 9451, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Oldtown, will meet Friday at 8 p. m. for the purpose of installing newly elected officers.

District Commander George Banzhoff and Raymond Reynolds, past commander of Henry Hart Post No. 1411 here, have been asked to install the officers.

Petrified bones, believed to be over 20,000 years old, may have been found at the Celanese plant, according to Harry Russell, a spindel room worker.

The bones, according to Russell, were found between two layers of slate, around the center of the plant, where new construction work is underway for silk baler department equipment.

Curious employes have picked up most of the remains, but Russell managed to salvage some sea shells which had turned to stone, and also an arm and possibly a head of some animal.

At first, there was not too much excitement aroused on the findings, but a chemist became interested and now the problem is whether the findings are prehistoric animals or some freak of mother nature.

The arm, says Russell, is honeycombed on the inside and from outward appearances it looks like there was flesh on it at one time or another.

Just what type of animal it is, or was, remains a mystery but various pieces will be sent to the Smithsonian Institute in Washington for a detailed study.

At first it was believed that they were possibly human bones turned to stones, but after study, close observers believe it may be the bones of a dinosaur, the pre-historic animal, which Webster says can be as small as two to three feet and as large as 60 to 90 feet.

State Comptroller Warns Against Failure To Pay State Income Tax

Maryland income tax returns for both residents and non-residents of the state must be filed on or before April 15, according to an announcement yesterday by James J. Lacy, state Comptroller.

In discussing the income tax, Lacy said, "In order to effectively administer Maryland's income tax law and to equalize, as far as possible, the tax burden among its citizens, it is my intention to vigorously enforce the provisions of the Maryland Income Tax Law and to prosecute those individuals who wilfully refuse to file a Maryland income tax return or wilfully fail to pay an income tax when due."

Residents of the state have been defined by Lacy as those individuals who are domiciled in this state on the last day of the taxable year and all others who have resided within the state more than six months of the taxable year. Non-residents are liable for income taxes on that income derived from trade, business profession or occupation carried on in Maryland.

Failure to comply with the provisions, Lacy said, will result in a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

924 County Veterans Say They Need Housing

Others Ask Probe Of Postwar Building

Veterans in Allegany County need 924 individual dwelling units, a partial analysis of incomplete returns from a housing questionnaire showed yesterday. With about 1,950 questionnaires of the 8,500 mailed already returned, members of the Veterans Housing Committee started the task of analysis.

In addition to the need for housing indicated by the returned questionnaires, there was considerable criticism of the cost of housing here, the type of homes being built for veterans and sold to them, and numerous requests for a complete investigation by the Veterans Administration.

The Veterans Housing Committee conducting the survey was appointed recently by Mayor Thomas S. Post and includes James B. Reinhart, local realtor, William O. Spangler, and F. Patrick Allender, veterans of World War II.

Committee members expressed surprise at the number of replies received from veterans already housed who indicated they returned their forms to help make the survey as complete as possible in the hope they would be helping their less fortunate comrades.

The returns show 550 married GI's in Cumberland and 374 in all other parts of the county are in need of housing. Some indicate a more urgent need than others, but all say they want dwelling units as quickly as possible.

550 Homes Needed Here

In Cumberland, 550 veterans say they need housing now. Of this total, 209 want to rent, 94 want to buy, 195 want to build, and 66 made no choice but will accept any type of decent housing or housing plan.

Of the 209 who want to rent, 149 prefer houses and 60 want apartments. Of those wanting to rent, six say they will pay in excess of $50 per month rental and the balance want to pay less. The average was around $40 to $45 per month.

Of the 195 who want to build, one indicated he could pay $15,000. Ten can pay between $6,000 and $8,000, and the balance want housing for $6,000 or less.

Of the 94 who want to buy ready-built homes, 91 seek housing for $6,000 or less and three indicate they will pay up to $10,000.

374 In County Area

In the county outside of Cumberland, 374 veterans indicate a need for immediate housing. Of this number 96 want to rent, 81 want to buy and 187 want to build. Ten made no choice but say they will take either rental or new units.

Among the 96 who want to rent, 68 want houses and the balance apartments. Two indicate they can pay more than $50 per month rental.

Of the 81 who want to buy, 78 can spend less than $6,000 and three can spend more, one going as high as $15,000.

Of the 187 who prefer to build, eight can invest $7,500, one can invest $10,000 and 179 want to stay under $6,000.

About three-fourths of the veterans needing homes indicate they have one or more children.

While the analysis is far from complete, and more returns are expected, the recap made yesterday indicates there is a crying need here for rental housing and low cost privately owned homes, Allender, who is business agent for the Carpenters local here, declared.

"With carpenters and other builders looking for work, this seems like a pretty bad situation," he commented.

Veterans of the county who have not mailed their questionnaires back to the committee should do so, as it is hoped to complete the survey in a few days, Reinhart, who is chairman of the group, explained. The more forms returned, the more accurate the survey can be, he said. Veterans who have not received a questionnaire may get one by contacting a committee member.

Many Write Letters

One of the interesting things in the survey is the fact the great majority of the forms were filled out completely, and apparently with care. In numerous instances, veterans attached letters or wrote comments on the backs of the forms, telling their experiences in trying to find houses, or telling of experiences since they bought or built.

Some made scathing charges of the type of homes constructed and sold to veterans in some parts of the county. Several asked for an investigation by the Veterans Administration and offered to assist the committee in any way needed. Some made constructive suggestions and offered various types of criticism.

Random Comments

"I would like to build tomorrow if they would only take some of the taxes off the homes and the contractors not try to make more than 10 per cent profit."

This same respondent wrote the following letter attached to his questionnaire:

"As a World War veteran, I have a few suggestions to make which I believe would make it possible for a lower cost home to be built today. There is a very good article in the January issue of Readers Digest written by John T. Flynn. He gives his views of the housing problem today and five concrete suggestions to provide low cost housing.

A Maternity Ward That Goes Places

A Mt. Savage mother and her infant son last night were reported resting comfortably in Allegany Hospital, almost 24 hours after the boy was born in a screeching, speeding ambulance en route to the hospital yesterday at 1:30 a. m.

Unlike most races with the stork, Mrs. Wilbert Logsdon, Mt. Savage, was under the constant care of a physician who assisted in the delivery as the Mt. Savage Fire Company ambulance raced toward the hospital.

The usual pacing up and down the hospital hallway was eliminated for Mr. Logsdon, who departed for the hospital at the same time as his wife and followed closely in his own car.

As he pulled up at the hospital it was something of a shock for instead of getting the usual "You'll have to wait here," treatment, he was told, "It's a boy. Congratulations."

Jaffee Upholds Bragg Discharge At Celanese Plant

An appeal by Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, from the discharge of Edward F. Bragg at the Celanese plant was denied in an arbitration decision announced yesterday.

Samuel H. Jaffee, Washington, arbitrator in the dispute between the union and the Celanese Corporation of America, in an award dated March 30 ruled that:

"An appeal from the discharge of Edward F. Bragg for striking James Moyer must be denied."

The issue in the case, the brief said, is whether the discharge of Bragg for allegedly striking James Moyer, a fellow employe, constitutes "an injustice" under the contract, warranting reinstatement and back pay.

In his conclusions, Jaffee pointed out that he sustained the discharge and was satisfied "—and beyond a reasonable doubt—" that Bragg assaulted Moyer and cited that Moyer's testimony was corroborated by circumstances of motive, time, place, movement and speech which made the conclusion that Bragg is guilty "reasonably certain."

The occasion for the case arose April 25, 1947, when Moyer, while sitting on a bench in the Celanese Dyehouse, was deliberately struck in the face by someone, causing him substantial injury, it was reported in the factual portion of the award.

Moyer asserted Bragg was the assailant, Jaffee was told, and Bragg denied the charge. The company concluded Bragg was guilty and discharged him.

Naughton May Hear Frostburg Cases

Harold E. Naughton, local attorney who was appointed substitute trial magistrate last May by Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., said last night he presumes he will be called upon to serve as acting magistrate in Frostburg.

Naughton said he was originally appointed to substitute in the event of illness or death of any magistrate.

Mrs. Catherine Carter, trial magistrate's clerk in Frostburg, has not as yet requested Naughton to serve, however.

Frostburg has been without a trial magistrate since yesterday.

Tuesday night James P. Kenney, Sr., suffered a heart attack as he prepared to retire for the night at his home on West Main Street. His condition was reported slightly improved yesterday.

Tuesday morning Alex "Pop" Nicol, the other Frostburg magistrate, was admitted to Veterans Hospital, Aspinwall, Pa., for treatment.

Corriganville Firemen To Hold Open House

The bar board of Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company met last night and decided to hold open house at the fire hall Saturday from 9 p. m. until midnight on the occasion of opening a newly installed and modern bar.

According to Calvin Delbrook, president, the affair is open to the public without charge, refreshments will be served and entertainment provided.

Other members of the Bar Board include Edwin Perry, Raymond C. Alen and Henry Geiger, trustees, Raymond J. Hensel, Albert C. Snelson and Oaklen Geiger, bar manaber.

Delbrook said last night work is progressing on the completion of the new addition to the fire hall, and the project should be finished in about three months.

Paper Firm Says It Will Discuss Increase Issue

Reiterates Denial Of Immediate Boost

COVINGTON, Va., March 31 (AP)—The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company today again expressed its willingness to meet with union representatives to explore "the general question of the reasons for and against a present increase."

It warned, however, that "if the union insists on a decision at this time, the decision has to be 'no'."

The company's position was stated in a letter from J. W. Towsen of New York, vice president of the company, to Harry E. Scott, area director of the United Paper Workers of America, CIO.

In releasing a copy of the letter today, a company spokesman said that "due to the nature of Mr. Scott's letter to Mr. Towsen, we had to reply promptly and emphatically. This does not mean, however, that we have changed the position announced in previous releases. If the general economy takes a direction which permits an increase, the company will be glad and quick to act as generously as conditions justify."

Scott said he had "no comment" to make on Towsen's letter. In his letter to Towsen, Scott had asked an immediate meeting with company officials in Roanoke.

Scott's letter, which Wayne Ritchie, president of Luke Local 676, said was in part a reply to accusations that Scott had "stirred up trouble" at the company's Covington plant, charged the firm with failure to "bargain in good faith" and requested an immediate conference in Roanoke.

In February, the company rejected a union demand for wage boosts ranging from 25 to 35 cents but indicated its willingness to meet again to discuss the issue.

Dog Poisoning Claims 6 Pets

The death of a West Side Scotch terrier pet yesterday jumped the total of poisoned dogs in that district to six as the result of "strychnine-loaded" Easter eggs, according to city police.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, 216 Greene Street, were the latest couple to report to police that their dog, "who usually is kept penned up on their own property," was poisoned yesterday.

Police said that while they have not received complaints from all of the owners whose dogs were poisoned, they were informed yesterday that six dogs have died from poisoning on the West Side since the day before Easter.

Detective Thomas J. See declared last night that he is checking a report that a tall, "very" slender man was seen standing in the front yard of a Greene Street home late Saturday night. Detective See said the man is reported to have walked away hurriedly after being noticed.

LaVale Association Will Hold Election

New officers and five new directors will be elected at the annual meeting of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association, which will be held next Tuesday, April 6, at 7:30 p. m. in the LaVale Fire Hall.

The five directors whose two-year terms expire this year are William Wiegand, Cromwell Zembower, J. K. Snyder, William A. Douglas and Miles G. Thompson.

The nominating committee to present nominations for the new directors at the meeting is headed by John J. Rowan, Those serving with him are George L. Spoerl and George Dressman.

There are 15 directors of the association, but their terms are staggered so that only five are elected each year. The new directors will serve for three years.

The board of directors will submit nominations for new officers. Nominations will also be made from the floor.

Election Board Office To Be Open Until 12 P. M.

The office of the Board of Election Supervisors of Allegany County will be open today from 5 p. m. until midnight to give candidates of both major parties an opportunity to file, according to Patrick F. King, clerk of the board.

King explained today is the final day for filing before the primary, and yet not one from either the Republican or Democratic parties has filed for election as delegates to the parties' conventions. King said he understands six may be chosen from each party.

Candidates to file for the House of Representatives must have their papers in the hands of the Secretary of State by midnight tonight, King stated.

Automobile Is Looted

Police last night were investigating the theft of a radio and leather traveling bag from the automobile of Edward C. Gross, Morgantown, who told police the machine was parked on Baltimore Street, near Centre Street. The theft allegedly occurred about 6 p. m.

Temperature Reading

The weatherman said last night that today will be partly cloudy but somewhat warmer as compared to yesterday. The rain Wednesday, the weatherman says, marked the passage of a spring storm which was sweeping in this direction. Yesterday's high temperature was 63 and the low of 47 was recorded during the night. The 8 a. m. reading was 59 degrees. The rain yesterday was recorded at .54 of an inch.

B&O Employes Back To Work As Furlough Ends

New Layoff Planned After Four-Day Period

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad employes here and at Keyser, W. Va., who were furloughed last week for a five-day period, will return to work today, but will be furloughed again in four days, unless there is a change in the coal stoppage situation, a company official said last night.

The new furlough will affect a total of 3,134 motor carmen on the system, and will include all heavy locomotive shops except the one at Cumberland. No new furlough is announced for the locomotive shop here.

The Bolt and Forge will furlough 272 men after the four-day period, and the rolling mill, which did not furlough this past week, will be included with 55 men laid off. About 70 men will remain at the Bolt and Forge.

At Keyser, the new furlough will affect 249 men in the car department and 100 in the round house, the company spokesman said.

When the railroad men return to work today after their five-day layoff, they will see notices posted, calling for another furlough at the end of four days. The company official said under the agreement with the Brotherhoods it is necessary to give four days notice before a furlough can be called, and since the last one was for a definite five-day period, the men must be given work for four days.

A survey of schools, hospitals and other institutions as well as local industries indicates that all coal piles are dwindling, but most places have enough coal to last for four to six weeks.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, said all school buildings had an ample supply of coal when the stoppage occurred, and arrangements have been made to get coal if needed.

Several local industries have been buying some coal from strip mines operating in this area in an effort to augment their dwindling supplies. One local hauler said he began hauling strip-mined coal to local plants yesterday.

All deep mines of the Upper Potomac Region and Georges Creek Region are idle, except for two or three small trucking or fire coal mines. Many strippers are down, but a few are operating in this county, Garrett County, Mineral County and Somerset County, it is claimed.

No action by public officials has been taken to conserve fuel, or to try to get fuel into the city, it was explained, although in some communities, it was indicated such steps are being considered.

Retail dealers here said that a few days before the mines actually closed they were swamped by orders from local householders and all these orders have been filled. However, the available supply of coal on hand for retail sale in Cumberland is now very limited, and the demand is very light, dealers say.

One large distributor said last night, "Most people assume we have no coal and just don't bother to order. However, I believe most people have enough in their bins to get by until warm weather. We are taking care of emergency situations."

It is estimated about 50 truckers of coal are idle in the city as a result of the coal mine stoppage, although some of these have turned their trucks to other types of hauling.

Democrat Seeks Seat In Congress

Byrne Austin

Austin seeks the seat now occupied by J. Glenn Beall, Republican, who is a candidate for re-election.

The 45-year old aspirant is married and is the father of three young daughters.

Sub-Locals To Name Convention Delegates

Delegates from the Lonaconing and Keyser sub-locals of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, will represent workers of the plants at the TWUA National Convention to be held in Atlantic City beginning April 27, Playford Aldridge, president announced last night.

Workers of the Lonaconing mill of the General Textile Mills, Inc., and the Keyser plant of the Potomac Worsted Spinning Mill, he said, will each name a representative to accompany the full Local 1874 delegation to the convention.

The action to authorize the sub-local representation was taken at a meeting of the local last night upon the recommendation of the local's executive board.

Final discussion and action on another Executive Board recommendation involving changes in S-13, order of furlough and sharing of the work, will be taken at a meeting of the local Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the union hall when second shift workers will be given an opportunity to vote on the proposals, Aldridge said.

600 Letters Mailed In Cancer Campaign

Approximately 600 letters have been sent to residents of Cumberland and Allegany County, asking their support of the fund drive to be held during April in the 1948 "conquer cancer campaign."

Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum, vice chairman of Allegany County Branch, Maryland Cancer Society, said the county goal is $12,000.

Dr. Frank Wilson, branch chairman, and William A. Gunter, county campaign chairman, conferred in Baltimore earlier this week with Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, state campaign chairman, regarding plans for the local drive.

The state goal is $230,000.

Local contributions should be sent to Allegany County Branch headquarters, 7 Washington Street.

Sixty per cent of the funds raised will be kept in the county for the extension of existing facilities for the diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

Lt. Col. W. Stewart-Roddie, noted British statesman, will be the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Cumberland National Dinner Club Tuesday, April 6, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

His topic will be "Europe, Before and After Two Wars."

As the author of "Peace Patrol," Col. Stewart-Roddie was invited to address a small literary luncheon in New York when he first came to this country nine years ago. His presentation of the German situation was so realistic and dramatic that he was in instant demand by organizations throughout the nation who wished him to address them.

From the end of World War I until 1926 he served almost continually in Germany as a member of special missions, including the Inter-Allied Commission of Control, which carried out the work of disarmament.

State Comptroller Warns Against Failure To Pay State Income Tax

Maryland income tax returns for both residents and non-residents of the state must be filed on or before April 15, according to an announcement yesterday by James J. Lacy, state Comptroller.

In discussing the income tax, Lacy said, "In order to effectively administer Maryland's income tax law and to equalize, as far as possible, the tax burden among its citizens, it is my intention to vigorously enforce the provisions of the Maryland Income Tax Law and to prosecute those individuals who wilfully refuse to file a Maryland income tax return or wilfully fail to pay an income tax when due."

Residents of the state have been defined by Lacy as those individuals who are domiciled in this state on the last day of the taxable year and all others who have resided within the state more than six months of the taxable year. Non-residents are liable for income taxes on that income derived from trade, business profession or occupation carried on in Maryland.

Failure to comply with the provisions, Lacy said, will result in a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

Assistant Named To Aid C. Of C. Secretary Here

James R. Kendall Comes Here April 12

A 28-year-old Falls Church, Va., man will assume the duties of the newly created post of assistant secretary of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce on April 12, according to Henry W. Price, president.

Price introduced the new secretary to chamber members by mail yesterday as James R. Kendall, a native of Indiana and a graduate of Purdue University.

In announcing the new appointment, Price explained that Harold W. Smith, who has served as local chamber secretary for the past 13 years, has requested assistance in handling the work.

Smith, according to Price, asked that he be relieved of some of the responsibilities. After considering a number of applications and respecting the request of Smith, Price said Kendall was selected.

During his career in the business world, Kendall, who is married, has been associated with the Federal Housing Administration and was industrial analyst with the War Production Board. He was a special assistant to the general manager of the Printing Industry of America for a time and has a knowledge of sales and advertising work.

"With this addition to the office," Price declared, "the chamber will be in a position to increase its scope of work and undertake activities which heretofore have been beyond the capacity of the chamber staff."

Price outlined some of the projects advocated by the local C. of C. and now moving forward, as the Municipal Airport, with transportation service approved, the Savage River Dam project and a flood control plan as well as an improved water supply.

"I feel confident," Price declared, "that this is a step forward and will assist in the development of increased interest in Cumberland's economic program.

The local chamber will honor the Mayor and City Council and recently appointed Charter Commission at a dinner meeting to be held at Ali Ghan Country Club, May 4.

Walter J. Millard, Cincinnati, Ohio, a recognized authority on municipal government, will be the guest speaker. Millard is known for his work in developing the charter under which Dayton, Ohio, now operates.

As a result of his activity in that community he has been called in to advise and assist in municipal government programs in many cities.

Scarpelli Will Open Funeral Home Here

James F. Scarpelli was granted a permit in the office of City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer yesterday to use a two-story brick building at 108 Virginia Avenue as a funeral home.

The Scarpelli Funeral Home, which will become the sixth funeral establishment in this city, is expected to open in a few days

Scarpelli is a World War II veteran and served for several years with the Army's Graves Registration Service in England.

Until recently, he was affiliated with the Stein Funeral Home here as an embalmer and funeral director.

The deed for the location was filed November 19, 1947, when Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Lanich transferred the property to James F. Scarpelli, 111 West Second Street. Revenue stamps affixed to the deed indicate the purchase price was about $15,000.

George Cline Home Is Damaged By Fire

Central and East Side firemen were summoned to the George A. Cline residence, 207 Bedford Street, Wednesday afternoon at 1:50 o'clock to extinguish a blaze which started in the bedroom of the home.

According to firemen, companies Nos. 1 and 4 answered the call and extinguished the fire.

Cause of the fire was laid to a young son, who, it is reported, was playing with matches at the time. Damages were not estimated.

Watch Your Step Today: Cause It's April Fool

Today is All Fool's Day, better known as April Fool's Day in Cumberland.

Watch out for someone trying to put something over on you, or some prank that might make you the butt of a joke.

Webster has the best explanation of this specific day. To wit: "All Fool's Day, held the first day in April. Playful tricks and impositions are practiced. The origin of name and place is unknown."

A word to the wise is sufficient.

New Tags Become Effective Today

Maryland motorists who have not received new license plate inserts by this morning are going to have difficulty explaining it to policemen who stop them.

The only excuses that will be accepted, according to First Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale barracks of Maryland State Police, will be cancelled checks, check stubs, and money order receipts, showing aplication has been made for the new license through the mail.

There has been no extension of the time limit, according to Sgt. O'Hara, who said all motorists not displaying the new 1949 inserts will be stopped.

Motorists who have cancelled checks, check stubs or money order receipts to prove that tags are ordered will be permitted to operate until delivery is made, according to Sgt. O'Hara.

Boy Legislators Will Introduce Six Measures

Six bills will be introduced by boy legislators from Allegany County Hi-Y groups at the model legislature to be held in Annapolis April 22 to 24, according to Winfield H. Adam, program and boys' secretary of Central YMCA.

The bills, which were discussed at a meeting last night at the "Y", and their sponsors as follows:

1. Conservation of state forests in Maryland—Floyd Ryan, who is a "delegate" from Fort Hill Hi-Y.

2. Study of need for additional state aid for the school lunch program—Ryan and Gene Mason, a "senator" from the Fort Hill group.

3. Extension of suffrage to persons 18, 19 and 20 years old—Douglas B. Heavner, Jr., of Fort Hill, a "delegate."

Recreation Tax Cited

4. Provision of a five-cent tax on all recreation events in the state, the funds to be used for providing more and better recreational facilities in Maryland—Ralph Thuss, Jr., and Glen Wertz, Fort Hill "delegates."

5. Providing pedestrian walkways along all state highways in Maryland—Wayne Boal, president of Bruce High School Hi-Y, Westernport, who has been named a "senator."

Hi-Y members from Allegany and Bruce High Schools took part in a recent poll of public opinion in Maryland, conducted by the 200 Hi-Y youth and government delegates of Maryland YMCA's to provide a basis for measures to be presented at the model legislature.

In the three-day session the bills will be referred to committee and debated in the Senate and House of Delegates, to provide the boy legislators with actual legislative experience.

The poll, in which 1,345 Maryland citizens, including county residents, were questioned, indicated the greatest single problem in the state today is the condition of its traffic and roads. Fifty-six per cent of those questioned indicated opposition to the state sales tax.

Colleges Favored

The poll revealed that 74 per cent are in favor of establishing and maintaining several junior colleges in Maryland at state expense.

Overwhelming approval of 86 per cent was given to the proposal of annual physical examinations of all children from grades one to 12.

Seventy per cent stated that every able-bodied man should be required to take one year of military or naval training. In a similar survey conducted last year this measure was approved by 62 per cent of those interviewed.

Amendment of the state constitution to provide for a session of the legislature every year was favored by 59 per cent.

The poll indicated that 48 per cent believe that the General Assembly should promote civil rights by passing a Maryland Fair Employment Practice Act which would bar employment prejudice due to race, color or creed. This step was opposed by 43 per cent.

Repeal of the so-called "Jim Crow" act which provides for segregation of whites and negroes on some intrastate rail and boat facilities was opposed by 49 per cent and favored by 39 per cent.

District Commander George Banzhoff and Raymond Reynolds, past commander of Henry Hart Post No. 1411 here, have been asked to install the officers.

Mayor, Council Plan Protest To PSC

Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, last night voted unanimously to oppose a proposal of the Potomac Edison Company to increase certain types of bus fares for company operations in the Cumberland area, following similar opposition by the Mayor and Council.

The opposition of the 8,500-member local was expressed in a resolution introduced by acclamation at a special meeting in the union hall. The resolution reads:

"WHEREAS: The Potomac Edison Company has announced its intention to seek increases in bus fares for its services in and around Cumberland at a time when living costs are becoming more unbearable upon the working people and their families; and

WHEREAS: The Mayor and members of the City Council of Cumberland have unanimously voted to oppose such request before the Public Service Commission of Maryland; and

WHEREAS: Celanese Local 1874 members and their families will be directly and unfavorably affected if such increases are granted, Now Therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this membership meeting of Local 1874 TWUA authorizes its officers and Executive Board to wholeheartedly support the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland in their opposition to the increases sought by the Potomac Edison Company and that the Local officers extend all possible aid to defeat the proposals made to the Public Service Commission of Maryland."

Blames "Walsh Machine"

The unanimous opposition vote of the Mayor and Council came after Mayor Thomas S. Post blamed the "Walsh machine" for being instrumental in having state laws passed which deny the city the right to obtain more substantial revenue from the company in return for franchise privileges.

The Potomac Edison Company has announced it is seeking a change in rates effective May 2. The base fare of 10 cents would remain unchanged but the price of tickets would be raised under the plan.

Mayor Post made a motion, which was seconded by Commissioner Myers G. Light, opposing any increase in electric rates or bus fares, and instructed City Attorney Thomas B. Finan to file a protest with the Public Service Commission. The motion was approved unanimously.

Finan explained after a brief is filed with the PSC, the attorney and representatives of the Mayor and Council would appear at a hearing before the commission.

Proposal "Unjustified"

"The Potomac Edison Company is proposing an increase in bus fares for Cumberland," said the mayor. "This can only be a forerunner of a request to increase electric rates.

"The proposal to increase bus fares is unjustified and unreasonable at this time for several reasons."

The company pays the city no revenue for use of local streets; for police guidance and protection and fire protection; for cindering the streets and removal of snow in the winter, for space used for bus stops, which in the downtown area occupy space which could be used for meters, and for blocking traffic.

"The rates here are as high as any place per mile of service," the mayor continued. "The buses are unsanitary and unsafe. Buses discarded by other cities are sent here for use.

"I would like to see the council oppose an increase in bus rates and electrical rates as well. We should instruct our attorney to appear before the Public Service Commission and oppose this move."

The mayor continued an expression of his views by declaring:

"We owe it to our citizens, who have to hang on straps to get service, to do something about this. A recent visitor to Cumberland told me: 'Mayor, you have the crummiest buses here that I have ever ridden in'."

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan added:

Commissioner Keegan added:

"It is true about the streets. Usually cities receive from two to seven per cent of gross revenue from bus companies. The PE did not raise the wages of its bus employes recently until it had to do so. The company is financially able to take care of its own business.

"In Baltimore money received from transit service pays for the upkeep of playgrounds and parks," Keegan concluded.

"The Walsh machine is responsible for having state legislation enacted which prevents us from getting money from the PE for use of streets," Mayor Post said.

Petrified bones, believed to be over 20,000 years old, may have been found at the Celanese plant, according to Harry Russell, a spindel room worker.

The bones, according to Russell, were found between two layers of slate, around the center of the plant, where new construction work is underway for silk baler department equipment.

Curious employes have picked up most of the remains, but Russell managed to salvage some sea shells which had turned to stone, and also an arm and possibly a head of some animal.

At first, there was not too much excitement aroused on the findings, but a chemist became interested and now the problem is whether the findings are prehistoric animals or some freak of mother nature.

The arm, says Russell, is honeycombed on the inside and from outward appearances it looks like there was flesh on it at one time or another.

Just what type of animal it is, or was, remains a mystery but various pieces will be sent to the Smithsonian Institute in Washington for a detailed study.

At first it was believed that they were possibly human bones turned to stones, but after study, close observers believe it may be the bones of a dinosaur, the pre-historic animal, which Webster says can be as small as two to three feet and as large as 60 to 90 feet.
